UNITED PEOPLE
 DEMANDED IN LAST
 UTTERANCE OF T. R.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—What was the last public statement by Colonel Roosevelt was read last night at an "all-American concert" here under the auspices of the American Defense society, of which he was honorary president.

"I cannot be with you and so all I can do is to wish you Godspeed," it read. "There must be no sagging back in the fight for Americanism merely because the war is over."
 "There are plenty of persons who have already made the assertion that they believe the American people have a short memory and that they intend to revive all the foreign associations which most directly interfere with the complete Americanization of our people. Our principle in this matter should be absolutely simple.

"In the first place we should insist that if the immigrant who comes here does in good faith become an American and assimilate himself to us, he shall be treated on an exact equality with everyone else, for it is an outrage to discriminate against any such man because of creed or birthplace or origin. But this is predicted upon the man's becoming in very fact an American and noting but an American.

"If he tries to keep segregated from men of his own origin and separated from the rest of America, then he isn't doing his part as an American. There can be no divided alliance at all.
 "We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag which symbolizes all wars against liberty and civilization just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile. We have room for but one language here and that is the English language, for we intend to see that the crucible turns our people out as Americans and American nationally, and not as dwellers in a polyglot boarding house; and we have room for but one soul loyalty, and that is loyalty to the American people."

A GOOD FRIEND.

A good friend stands by you when in need. Medford people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. M. S. Biden, shoe repairer, of 21 South Central avenue, Medford, endorsed Doan's ten years ago and again confirms the story. "Could you ask for more convincing testimony?"
 "I suffered from what the doctor said was rheumatism, caused by an excess of uric acid in my blood," says Mr. Biden. "It showed itself by severe pains, especially in my back.
 My kidneys were out of order, too, and these troubles caused me to run down in health. I couldn't stoop without getting dizzy. Doan's Kidney Pills did just what they were represented to do and soon the pain began to leave me and my kidneys acted more regularly. By the time I had finished three boxes, I was without any signs of the trouble." (Statement given September 13, 1907.) On March 16, 1916, Mr. Biden said: "It has been some time since I have had any occasion to take Doan's Kidney Pills, but my opinion of them hasn't changed in any way since I first endorsed them. Today I am enjoying first-class health."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT will rank in history as one of the most virile, vigorous and courageous Americans of his day with a capacity for leadership only equaled by his capacity for making enemies. With his indomitable energy he combined overweening egotism and vaunting ambition that brooked no rivals, but his devotion to duty as he saw it was unquestioned.

Roosevelt was a political opportunist in the fullest sense of the term, an idealist at one time and a "practical man" at another—associating with corrupt politicians while denouncing them, condemning as "malefactors of great wealth" seekers of special privilege whose money helped elect him, organizing, then abandoning the "forces of righteousness" he had led to "Armageddon" to associate with the enemy. His career as president, however, helped lift the nation out of the rut of commercialism in which it had skidded and reawakened the higher ideals of the republic.

Roosevelt accomplished achievements which historians will rank high in the international and industrial progress of the country. They included his influential negotiations which, conducted at Portsmouth, N. H., effected peace between Russia and Japan; maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine at a period when European powers were interested in the affairs of Venezuela; the recognition of Panama as a republic and his treaty with Panama by which the interoceanic canal through that country was put under way; and the settlement, through his moral influence in the face of a situation in which there was no adequate federal legislation, of the Pennsylvania coal mine strike.

A born fighter—always hunting a fight, with the spectacular and advertising instincts of the showman, with a knack of coining quaint and picturesque phrases, and a personality that secured him a multitude of supporters as well as a host of opponents, Roosevelt was a never ceasing object of interest to political friend and foe alike and his death will be mourned by all. He was one of our greatest Americans and his career, as picturesque as it is fascinating, is an interesting chapter in the history of the nation. His life was full of activity and achievement and his courage and his patriotism unquestioned.

MOST ENJOYABLE CONCERT GIVEN BY ZOELLNER QUARTETTE

Scarcely ever is it the pleasure of an audience to be so united in appreciation as was the one which gathered at the Presbyterian church Saturday evening to listen to the concert given by the Zoellner quartet, for usually in a program which includes so much music that is of a classic nature there are always some who become more or less bored at best, which demonstrates beyond question that classic music when in the hands of great artists rises above anything that might be incomprehensible and is conveyed to all alike thru the medium of the heart while in the hands of the mediocre musician it becomes justly uninteresting.

The Zoellner program included works dating from the sixteenth century to the most ultra modern of Debussy. Each number had its especial appeal, probably those most mentioned were the Mozart Quartette No. 21, Quartette Op. 10 Debussy, and the beautiful melody of the Andante Cantabile Op. 11, by Tschaiakowsky.
 Space does not permit any lengthy comment on the art of the performers, it is sufficient to say that every one was an artist individually and that their individuality was merged into the quartet making it as one instrument, which is of all things essential.

The audience which comfortably filled the church auditorium, refused to leave their seats when the program was concluded, and insisted on another number which was graciously given.
 Mr. George Andrews is to be congratulated for bringing such artists to Medford.

ARCHIE ROOSEVELT'S FATHER-IN-LAW DEAD

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—Thomas St.
 John Lockwood, father-in-law of Captain Archibald Roosevelt, died Saturday night, but the fact did not become generally known until this morning when the home was communicated with in reference to the death of Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Lockwood's daughter, Mrs. Archie Roosevelt, arrived here from New York this forenoon.
 Captain Roosevelt was accompanying her when a message overtook him on the train which he left at the next station with the purpose of going immediately to Oyster Bay.

GRAND DUCHESS MARIE TO LEAVE LUXEMBURG

PARIS, Jan. 6.—Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide of Luxembourg, the Matin says it learns from a reliable source, has decided to leave Luxemburg, owing to the political situation there. The situation, it is added, has become unfavorable for the grand duchess.

RECONSTRUCTION CONVENTION TO BE HELD THURSDAY

PORTLAND, Jan. 6.—Announcement that the Third Oregon regiment, now scattered in France and England, is about to be mobilized, and returned to the United States for demobilization, adds to the importance of the reconstruction convention to be held in Portland January 9, 10, and 11.

With Oregon's boys, or at least a large proportion of them actually on their way homeward, comes the necessity of immediate action in connection with the industrial readjustment plans. And judging from the strong interest manifested in the coming convention, there is little doubt but that a broad, comprehensive program will be formulated and placed into operation.
 The reconstruction convention is not to be in the form of a long talk-fest. Extreme care has been taken in the selection of the subjects to be handled and the men who are to present them, and, although discussion will be encouraged, the speeches to be delivered will weave themselves into definite ideas already formulated, to be presented to the large delegation for its approval or amendment.

Assurances have already been received of attendance of men from every section of the state and it is probable that the attendance of state wide delegates will outstrip that of any gathering ever held in the history of Oregon.
 Oregon is the first state in the union to plan to take immediate hold of the reconstruction problem and with the convention underway, will probably be the first state to adopt a general program to work out these problems.

WOOD LAMENTS
 ROOSEVELT'S DEATH

CAMP FUNSTON, Kas., Jan. 6.— Major General Leonard Wood made the following statement after he had received word of the death of Colonel Roosevelt:
 "The death of my friend, Theodore Roosevelt, brings to me great personal loss and sorrow, but keen and deep as these are, they are but the sorrow and loss of an individual.
 The national loss is irreparable, for his death comes at a time when his services to this nation can ill be spared. Never was America more in need of his frankness and courage, his honest criticism and far-seeing wisdom, than at present. His entire life and work was one of service to the nation; service for whatever he believed to be right."

CALL ISSUED FOR BANK STATEMENTS, DECEMBER 31 WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks at the close of business on Tuesday, December 31.

ROOSEVELT, VIRILE LEADER OF MEN YOUNGEST OF OUR PRESIDENTS MOST LOVED AND BEST HATED

Began Life as Sickly Youth. Career Reads Like a Romance—Was Writer, Speaker, Statesman, Politician, Hunter, Rancher, Explorer and Military Leader.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.— Called to the White House in 1901 after President McKinley had been assassinated, Col. Roosevelt, 42 years of age became the youngest president the United States has ever had. Three years later he was elected president by the largest popular vote a president has received.

Thus Roosevelt, sometimes called a man of destiny, served for seven years as the nation's chief magistrate. In a subsequent decade the fortunes of politics did not favor him, for, again a candidate for president—this time leading the progressive party which he himself had organized when he differed—finally with some of the policies of the republican party in 1912—he went down to defeat, together with the republican candidate, William Howard Taft. Woodrow Wilson, democrat was elected.

Of Dutch Ancestry
 Of Dutch ancestry, born in New York City on October 27, 1858, in a house on East Twentieth street, the baby Theodore was a weakling. He was one of four children who came to Theodore and Martha Ballou Roosevelt. The mother was of southern stock, and the father of northern, a situation which during the early years of Theodore junior's boyhood, was not allowed to interfere with the family life of these children during the civil war days.

So frail that he was not privileged to associate with the other boys in his neighborhood, Roosevelt was tutored privately, in New York and during travels on which his parents took the children abroad. His father, a glass importer and a man of means, was his constant companion; and he kept a diary; he read so much history and fictional books of adventure that he was known as a bookworm; he took boxing lessons; he was an amateur naturalist; and at the age of 17 he entered Harvard University. There, he was not prominent as some others in an athletic way, as it is not recorded that he "made" the baseball and football teams, but his puny body underwent a metamorphosis and before graduation he became one of the champion boxers of the college.

Was Twice Married
 A few months after his graduation, Roosevelt married Miss Alice Lee of Boston. She died in 1884, leaving one child, Alice, now the wife of Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio. In 1886 Roosevelt married Miss Edith Kermit Carow of New York, and to them five children were born—Edith, now the wife of Dr. Richard Derby, and four sons, Theodore, Jr., Kermit, Archibald and Quentin.

The public career of the man who was to become president began not long after he left college. His profession was law, but the activities that were to come left him no time in which to practice it. In 1882, 1883 and 1884 he was elected to the New York state assembly where his efforts on behalf of good government and civil service reform attracted attention. When the republican national convention in 1884 was held in Chicago, he was chairman of the New York state delegation.

Goes to North Dakota
 After this experience he dropped out of politics for two years. Going west, he purchased ranches along the Little Missouri river in North Dakota, and divided his time between outdoor sports, particularly hunting, and literary work. Here he laid the foundation for his series of books, "The Winning of the West," which was published from 1889 to 1896, and of other volumes of kindred character.

Returning to New York he became the republican candidate for mayor in 1896. He was defeated. President Harrison in 1899 appointed him a member of the United States civil service commission and President Cleveland continued him in this office, which he resigned in 1895 to become New York City's police commissioner. In 1897 he was appointed assistant secretary of war by President McKinley, resigning to organize the "Rough Riders" with Dr.
 Leonard Wood as colonel and himself as lieutenant colonel. He returned to the United States stamped a hero, and speedily became a leading figure in the public eye. New York elected him governor by an overwhelming majority and there was a popular clamor for him as president.

Becomes President Roosevelt was nominated over his own protest for vice president in 1900 on the republican ticket and upon the assassination of President McKinley in September, 1901, became president. He was elected president in 1904, and four years later dictated the nomination; and aided in the election of William H.

 Taft.

In 1912 Roosevelt, who had turned against Taft, led the so-called progressive wing of the republican party in an attempt to prevent the renomination of Taft. In this they were unsuccessful. Taft was nominated and the new progressive party nominated Roosevelt as its standard bearer. Roosevelt, as a progressive, ran ahead of Taft in the election, dividing the republican vote so that Wilson won easily as the democratic nominee.

Notable Achievements
 The administrative departments were raised by Roosevelt to a high pitch of efficiency. In the matter of foreign relations few Americans have played the diplomatic game more skillfully.

Some of the notable achievements during Roosevelt's administration were the Dilliver-Huebner railroad act, extension of forest reserve, national irrigation act, improvement of waterways and reservation of waterpower sites, employers' liability act, establishment of the department of commerce and labor, pure food and drug act, federal meat inspection, battleship fleet sent around the world, work on the Panama canal zone was begun and pushed forward, settlement of the coal strike of 1902, conviction of postoffice grafters and public land thieves, Standard Oil and tobacco trusts.

Given Nobel Peace Prize
 For his work in bringing about the settlement of the Russo-Japanese war, Roosevelt won the Nobel peace prize of $40,000 in 1906.

On his return trip from Africa, where he had spent months in the wilds, Roosevelt was received in Europe with great popular and royal demonstrations. He was the guest of Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, and with the kaiser reviewed the German troops. As special ambassador representing the United States, Roosevelt, then in Europe, attended the funeral of King Edward VIII of Great Britain.

Four years later Roosevelt headed a party on an exploration trip through South America. He discovered the River of Doubt, and numerous specimens of plant and animal life.

Attempt on Life Roosevelt's life was attempted by an assassin, Oct. 15, 1912, when Roosevelt, who was candidate of the progressive party for president, was campaigning through the country.
 He was scheduled to make a speech in Milwaukee, Wis., when a halfcrazed crank fired a bullet into his body. The wound was not serious and did not prevent Roosevelt from making his speech.

After his retirement from the presidency Roosevelt did considerable writing, becoming the highest paid news-writer and magazine writer in the country.
 He tried for the republican presidential nomination in 1916, but was defeated by Charles E. Hughes.
 Roosevelt was nominated by the progressive party, whose candidate he had been for four years before, but he declined the progressive nomination, and supported Hughes, who met defeat.

GRIP, INFLUENZA
 Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer.
 If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and sniff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "flu" germs.
 Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza.
 Get it from druggists for 30c. If not satisfied, return the bottle and get your money back.
 Ever constipated or have sick headaches? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30c at druggists. Guaranteed.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS
 OPEN TODAY AFTER
 "FLU" VACATION

After long weeks of an enforced vacation because of the last flu epidemic the public schools of the city resumed their sessions this morning with three new members of the high school faculty, all teachers present except one who is just recovering from influenza and the superintendent of schools still in the hospital convalescing from a relapse of the same disease. Principal Baker of the high school is in charge of the schools as acting superintendent and will act in that capacity for some time to come. Mr. Davenport continues to improve.

The high school had a reminder of the war today with one of the new members of the faculty, H. P. Jewett, appearing in uniform as well as Valentine Singler, one of the new entering pupils. They have just recently returned from service. Mr. Jewett's home is at Salem and he was in the artillery service and stationed at Fort Stevens. He will teach mathematics and military science and have charge of the military drills of the high school boys.

The two other new members of the faculty are Heinrich Heidenreich of Portland, and formerly instructor in the Ashland high school, who will be the manual training instructor, replacing the late Mr. Blakely who died of influenza, and Miss Mabel Rankin, who takes the place of Miss Jenny Hunter, resigned some time ago to enter war work.

No figures were obtainable as to the number of pupils reporting at the various buildings today, but Acting Superintendent Baker expects to have this report Tuesday. He said today that at least 12 new students had entered the high school.

Miss Lillian Pierce is substituting at Roosevelt school for Mrs. Mac-Reynolds, who is recovering from a severe flu attack.

FORMER HUN ARMY
 CEASES TO EXIST

BASEL, Jan. 6.—The former German army has ceased to exist, says the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, of Berlin, as 150 divisions already have been demobilized. The demobilization of the other units, the newspaper says, is proceeding rapidly.

WATER-GLASSING EGGS

For the benefit of those who did not attend the poultry show attention might be called to the advantage of waterglassing eggs in the spring for winter use. Housekeepers who put down eggs last spring are considering themselves fortunate now that they do not have to pay 65 cents a dozen for eggs. Eggs can be waterglassed at a cost of about two cents per dozen—making the total cost of the preserved eggs about 32 cents, which is less than half the present price of eggs. Waterglass eggs keep well and for general household purposes are not inferior to fresh eggs.
 Many people do not realize the value of eggs as food and when they advance in price they exclude them from their diet. This is a mistake, especially where children are concerned, as eggs rank next to milk in value as a food for growing children. For adults, eggs are superior to meat.
 This is just a reminder now when eggs are expensive, that it is an economical thing to waterglass them when they are plentiful in the spring for fall and winter use.

Bainbridge Gains Twenty Pounds
 Taking Tanlac—Troubles
 Ended

"My old time energy with twenty pounds of my lost weight have been returned to me by the use of Tanlac" said C. E. Bainbridge, the well known contracting painter, decorator and wall paper man of 89 East 11th street, Portland, in an interview, recently.

"Just about a year ago," said Mr.
 Bainbridge, in describing his case, "I lost my appetite and soon got to where nothing I would eat agreed with me. My food would lay in my stomach and ferment, about me up as tight as a drum and cause me to suffer agony. Of course I had to live on a very light diet and not being able to get the proper nourishment I lost weight and strength continually. I dropped down from one hundred and sixty-five pounds to one hundred and thirty-two—losing thirty-three pounds—in just a few months. I finally got so weak and run-down I had to give up my work and was laid up for more than five weeks. Then I began suffering with rheumatism all over, which was especially bad in my right arm. The muscles in this arm would become so drawn and painful that I could not get my hand to my head. My back also hurt me all the time. I was habitually constipated and had such terrific headaches that I could hardly see. I was so nervous the least noise would upset me and I have gone through many a night never closing my eyes for sleep. My strength and energy had just about all left me and my condition had become alarming to me. In fact, I had become discouraged, as I had taken so much medicine without getting any relief.

"Finally a friend of mine, knowing the fix I was in advised me to try Tanlac, saying his wife had been in the same condition and that six bottles of Tanlac restored her entirely.
 So after he told me this I lost very little time in getting me some Tanlac, and believe me, it has done the work. After taking the first bottle I was simply eating like a bear and I have been eating just anything I want since that time with no signs of bloating or any other discomfort afterwards. I have just finished my fourth bottle now and the rheumatism is gone too. With the aid of Tanlac Tablets I have been relieved of constipation and, it's a fact, I haven't had a headache since I began taking Tanlac. I simply sleep like a log every night and can do a full day's work and still feel fresh and fine at night. My wife also suffered from indigestion and she has gotten entirely rid of it by using Tanlac. I tell you it's great and people with stomach troubles and rheumatism will do well to take it."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. B.
 Bowers, in Central Point by Miss M.
 A. Moo, in Ashland by J. J. McNair.
