Two members of the 65th coast artillery are at the present time in the military hospital at the Presidio, San Francisco. They are Harold P. Haines, of Marshfield, and James Fountain, of Wallowville. It is thought likely that all men of the 65th who were severely wounded were placed in the same casual company and returned to the United States together, and consequently, it is believed that Haines and Fountain were the only two men in the 65th who were wounded very severely.

However, it is possible that more wounded men of the 65th may arrive later as the hospital officials are expecting more men whose homes are in coast cities.

ITALIANS WILD WITH ENTHUSIASM OVER PRESIDENT'S VISIT

It is impossible for me to put into words the impressions I have received today. The overwhelming welcome, the spontaneous welcome, so evidently coming from the heart, has been profoundly moving to me, sir, and I have not failed to see the significance of that welcome. You have yourself referred to it. I am as keenly aware, I believe, sir, as anybody can be that the social structure rests upon the great working classes of the world and that those working classes in several countries of the world have by their consciousness of community of interest, by their consciousness of community of spirit, done perhaps more than any other influence has to establish a world opinion which is not of a nation, which is not of a continent, but is the opinion, one might say, of mankind; and I am aware, sir, that those of us now charged with the very great and serious responsibility of concluding peace, must think, act and confer in the presence of this opinion—that we are not masters of the fortunes of any nation, but are the servants of mankind; that it is not our privilege to follow special interests but it is our manifest duty to study only the general interest.

Soldiers' Memorials "This is a solemn thing, sir, and here in Milan where I know that so much of the pulse of international sympathy beats, I am glad to stand up and say that I believe that that pulse beats also in my own veins and that I am not thinking of a particular settlement.

"I am very much touched today, sir, to receive at the hands of wounded soldiers a memorial in favor of a League of Nations and to be told by them what it was that they had fought for—not merely to win this war, but to secure something beyond, some guarantee of justice, some equilibrium for the world as a whole, which would make it certain that they would never have to fight a war like this again.

"This is an added obligation upon us who make peace. We cannot merely sign a treaty of peace and go home with a clear conscience. We must do something more. We must add so far as we can the security which suffering men everywhere demand.

Tribute to Women "And when I speak of suffering men, I think also of suffering women. I know that, splendid as have been the achievements of your armies and tremendous as have been the sacrifices which they have made and great the glory which they have achieved, the real hard pressure of the burden came upon the women at home whose men had gone to the front and who were willing to have them stay there until the battle was fought out. And I have heard from your minister of food the story how, for days together there would be no bread. And when they knew that there was no bread the spirit of the people did not flag.

"I take off my hat to the great people of Italy and tell them that my admiration is merged into friendship and affection. It is in this spirit that I receive your courtesies, sir, and thank you from the bottom of my heart for this unprecedented reception which I have received at the hands of your generous people."

PARIS, Jan. 6.—President Wilson will return to the United States to attend the closing sessions of the present congress, according to present plans and will come back to France for the latter sittings of the peace congress.

The president will make several addresses to congress and after March 4, it is expected, will return to France.

FLAHARTY NAMED AS ASSISTANT TO COUNTY AGENT

In connection with the new county farm bureau which is being organized and promises to cut an important figure in agricultural affairs, an important change has been made in County Agricultural Agent Cate's office to help relieve the work of that office and assist in the affairs of the farm bureau. Roland D. Flaharty of Central Point, who only recently returned from service in the navy, has been appointed as assistant county agricultural agent, and assumed the duties of the office today. He will serve as secretary of the farm bureau.

"I am delighted to obtain the permanent services of such an all around capable young man as Mr. Flaharty," said Mr. Cate today. "He is a practical farmer, a cow puncher and Ford puncher, school teacher and stenographer, and was in the service."

Mr. Flaharty who has a wide acquaintance is a graduate of the Central Point high school, had a two years course at the O. A. C., taught for a year in the commercial department of the Madben, Wash., high school, and then spent the past eight months in the navy. He is married and with his wife spent much of today in looking for a suitable home in the city.

Miss Anna Denhoff, who has been stenographer in Mr. Cate's office for the past year, has resigned and with her father plans to spend the remainder of the winter in southern California.

FORD TO CONTEST NEWBERRY'S ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—In a petition received today by Vice President Marshall and laid before the senate, Henry Ford, democratic candidate for United States senator who was defeated on the face of returns by Truman H. Newberry, republican, gave formal notice of a contest of the senate seat and asked for a recount of the ballots.

Excessive use of money in Newberry's campaign, intimidation of voters, improper rejection of ballots, "flagrant violation" of Michigan election laws and many other charges were made by Mr. Ford in his petition.

It was the inflammatory rheumatism. This ailment was only pronounced in his left leg, but at times it affected one of his hands and arms.

Grieved Over Son Blood pressure tests, it was said, showed that the patient had arteries of a man of 40 instead of 60 years.

One of the things that is believed to have contributed more than any other to the colonel's breakdown was the death last fall of his son, Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, the aviator, in action in France. Proud of his heroic son's achievements, Colonel Roosevelt bore up under the sorrow of his death with a fortitude that was in keeping with his spirit in public life. Friends said that while the father "did not carry his heart on his sleeve," he suffered most poignant grief in silence and tried to forget them by plunging harder than ever into his work.

ONLY ONE CHANGE. IN CITY OFFICERS FOR COMING TERM

The new city government goes into office tomorrow with the personnel of the various offices, except that of the city treasurer, unchanged, as the mayor, city recorder and the six councilmen were all re-elected. The new council meets Tuesday night and on Tuesday morning Miss Mary Haswell will be sworn in as city treasurer and Gus Samuels, who did not run for re-election, retires to private life with the best wishes of a host of friends he has made in his capable administration of the office.

So far as can be learned the mayor and council contemplate no change in the appointive force of city employees, and the personnel of the present council committees will remain unchanged. That unusually capable and indefatigable worker of the city for years, Miss Mary Haswell, assistant city recorder and assistant treasurer, whose well merited reward was the election by the people as city treasurer, enters this office with an intimate knowledge of the city's affairs, and with the full confidence of the mayor and council. Her place as assistant recorder and treasurer will not be filled by the council, at least for some time to come, as an economy move, especially as the work of both offices is now in such splendid shape.

Moses L. Alford is the only other officer to succeed himself tomorrow, as he enjoyed a re-election at the hands of the people. He was appointed to the office by the council when City Recorder Elmer Fuss resigned to enter the war.

HOW THIS NERVOUS WOMAN GOT WELL

Told by Herself. Her Sincerity Should Convince Others.

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, I tried it and was cured. I am no longer nervous, am regular, and in excellent health. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. ALICE HELLER, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience. If complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions in regard to your ailment. The result of its long experience is at your service.
