

FORD'S EAGLES TO BECOME PART OF AMERICAN NAVY

DETROIT, Jan. 8.—A long, narrow wedge, with a steel-encased nose of solid concrete tapered to a knife-like edge, forming a considerable part of its total length of 294 feet, and declared to be capable of crushing any submarine—such is the Eagle, built by Henry Ford and designed originally to help rid the seas of the menace of the German U-boats.

Contrary to popular belief the Eagle is not a motor boat, but an oil-burning, steam turbine-driven craft, with a cruising radius of 5000 miles. The Eagle is not a thing of beauty; beauty was not contemplated in its construction. It is a long, blunt weapon of war, of all-metal construction with the exception of the concrete nose.

No Torpedo Tubes Another popular impression that has been shattered is an idea that the Eagle boat is equipped with torpedo tubes. The submarine chaser was not intended to combat the major instrument of German ruthlessness with its own weapons. It was designed to depend rather upon its maneuvering qualities, its powerful light guns, and a new American invention for directing its fire at unseen objects.

Its crew including operating and fighting complement numbers approximately 80 men.

To the observer, the first impression of the Eagle boat is one of wonder that a craft so narrow can possess buoyancy sufficient to keep it upright in heavy seas. Despite its length of more than an average city block, the craft has a beam of only 25 feet, and draws when fully equipped less than ten feet of water.

Its seaworthiness, has been demonstrated in the official trials, according to reports to the navy department.

Outdistances U-boats While it is admitted the Eagle does not make the speed of the average destroyer, it is claimed that it can outdistance most submarines and the razor-like edge of the bow, silently, but eloquently tells what would have happened had it come in contact with the German undersea pirate.

Built with utility as its prime purpose, seemingly not an inch of space is wasted in the fitting of the vessel, and not an ounce of superfluous weight enters its construction. When dropped into the water ready for the installation of its engines, guns, etc., less than 200 tons of material have been riveted together to shape the Eagle boat.

The plates that form the shell of the submarine-chasers vary in thickness from 1-4 to 3-8 inch, and not a single forging or rolled beam enters their making-up. Everything is pressed from sheet metal, cold, by means of machinery that cuts every piece to an exact pattern, punches rivet holes, and bends the interior part to required shape.

Part of U. S. Navy Amidships rises the deck-house topped by the pilot-house, with radio quarters, and above all the conning tower with the crew's nest at the highest point. Except for this superstructure, the deck of the Eagle carries always the "stripped action" appearance.

The first Eagle boat was launched July 11, 1918, and when the armistice ended hostilities, early in November, eight had been completed and twenty-one others were under construction in various stages of completion. Some of these have arrived at Atlantic coast ports.

Also the sudden cessation of hostilities deprived the Eagle boats of an opportunity to test their prowess against the German undersea terror, they are nevertheless to become a part of the American navy, the government having announced its intention to use them on gun-boats in coastal patrol work, and possibly in insular waters.

The contract for the construction of the Eagle boats, which the government has announced will be carried out, calls for 100 of the vessels for the United States government, and twelve for the French navy.

PARENTS, READ THIS How a Father Has Learned to Save Shoe Bills.

"My son is very hard on shoes, so I bought him properly shod he was quite an expense to me," writes Mr. J. Allison Allen, of Amity, Arkansas. "But since I started to buy Neolin-soled shoes for him I have found that it costs only about a third as much to keep him in shoes."

This is because Neolin Soles are so tough and durable that they wear a very long time. Since bills are kept down because you don't need so many pairs. You can get Neolin-soled shoes at almost any good shoe store. They come in all styles and for all members of the family. Neolin Soles are also available everywhere for re-soleing. They are produced by a scientific process to be what soles ought to be: comfortably, waterproof and long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

Theaters and Movies

Theater goers will be pleased to learn that the Page is to reopen Thursday, January 9th. The management have made a special effort and have secured a program of unusual merit. The feature is a Theda Bara super production in "The Soul of Buddha." Miss Bara takes the part of a half-caste East Indian girl, the daughter of a Javanese widow, who was a devout believer in the worship of Buddha. The East Indian girl devotes all her spare time to dancing weird dances. Night after night she performs for the people. On one of these occasions a tiny English sailor tries to kiss her. Her mother rescues the Englishman from the wrath of the populace and the mother conspires her daughter to Buddha as a sacred dancing girl.

After a time the religious atmosphere falls on Bara and Miss Bara starts some of the most wonderful scenic acting she has ever done. She falls in love with a handsome English army officer and forsakes her religion and her Buddha oath. A child is born to the couple, which is marked for death by Ysora, a Buddhist priest, who secretly loves the daughter.

Mr. Root, leader of the orchestra, has prepared a special musical program for the feature, which will add much to the pleasure of the entertainment. A bright, snappy Sunshine Comedy completes the program.

WOMEN ORGANIZE TO FIGHT AGAINST VOTES FOR WOMEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, in annual convention here today planned a nation-wide fight against the "Red flag" movement, and considered a program for a fight in the next congress against the Susan B. Anthony equal suffrage amendment.

Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, president, in an open letter to Chairman Will H. Hays of the national republican committee, criticized the attitude of the woman's executive committee of the national republican committee of which Mrs. Medill McCormick is chairman, charging that the committee was devoting its efforts to passage of the equal suffrage amendment rather than to "republican propaganda."

Mrs. Basil Clark outlined a program to fight radicalism and asked support for a forthcoming attack on the Non-Partisan league in the northwest. Association leaders said they believed the radical political movement in this country was associated with agitation for woman suffrage.

Mrs. Wadsworth was re-elected president, Miss Murray Ledyard, Washington, was elected secretary, and Mrs. Robert Garrett, Baltimore, treasurer.

SOUTHERN OREGON GRANT TO BE OPENED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—After surmounting several objections and answering numerous questions, Representative Sinnott has succeeded in securing passage, by unanimous consent, of the Coos Bay wagon road land grant bill, restoring approximately 93,000 acres to the government under practically the same terms as the lands of the Oregon & California grant, upon payment of $232,000 to the Southern Oregon company, present holder of the title, and payment of taxes by the government amounting to nearly $500,000.

The bill, as passed, provides the counties shall receive 25 per cent of the proceeds from the sale of lands and timber for the benefit of schools, roads and ports, which, it is estimated, will produce $700,000.

"Fighting Sons of Guins" at Page Arrangements have been made for a concert here at the Page theater, Tuesday evening, January 14, by the Allied War Veterans' Military band, nicknamed "The Fighting Sons of Guins." This band is comprised of wounded veterans assembled from all branches and regiments of the Imperial and Canadian forces. All of the men in this band have been "over the top," and have been excused from further service by reason of their disability. Under the leadership of Major Chas. F. Ward, recently held master of the 121st regiment of Canada, one of the regiments that are greatly distinguished itself, and which is quite well known as the Western-Island Canadian regiment—this band did great work overseas, being in the war practically since the outbreak.

It is not intended by Major Ward that his "Fighting Sons of Guins" shall confine the program entirely to music. A most pleasing entertainment will be given, consisting of military music, popular treble songs, Highland dances, by Kilted Scotch dancers and Scotch miners. The program will be further punctuated by stories in which the veterans will relate their individual and startling experiences. A remarkable and unusual program.

William Carless of Phoenix is suffering from an attack of guins.

Mrs. Cally Standman of Phoenix was trading in Ashland Monday.

Mrs. Chism of Phoenix was suffering from complications from flu Sunday and Monday.

Dr. Mulderren was called Tuesday to Mirish to look into a case that was thought necessary to quarantine.

One Richardson of Talent was at Phoenix last Monday having Dr. Mulderren remove a large wart from the side of his face.

Lawson Crawford of Talent returned to Camp Lewis last Wednesday, having only had an eight-day furlough to visit his wife and his parents. Hopes however, are entertained that his discharge will be obtained on account of caring for his young wife and baby.

Eden Carver, a former Fern Valley resident, was back last Thursday. Mr. Carver took a walk over to see where his childhood home had stood. But new buildings, in fact, a little town, has been built up upon the old homestead lands. And Mr. Carver could hardly tell where his old home had been.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Briscoe of North Talent visited Mr. and Mrs. Noah Chappell last Sunday.

Mrs. M. Stockard was visiting her grandfather, A. Fridagar, of Medford Monday.

Mrs. J. D. Henry of North Talent was in Medford Tuesday.

Mrs. Lilly Coleman of Phoenix was trading in Medford last Saturday.

SAMS VALLEY

Mrs. Frank Payne is suffering from an attack of influenza, supposedly contracted from her husband, who returned home after having recovered from the malady.

Miss Ida Cushman of Trail is visiting with her sister, Mrs. John Hall. Miss Ruth Daniels of Medford visited a few days last week with Mrs. Edington and family before leaving to resume her studies in the San Jose normal.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kenney were shopping in Medford Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Cooper was married in Medford January 3, to Mr. Hankins of Wood, Calif. The happy couple left for San Francisco, where they will remain for two months while Mr. Hankins takes a further course in civil engineering and his wife takes a course in a music school. From thence they will make their home in Wood, Calif., where both were formerly employed. All good wishes are extended for their future happiness.

W. W. Edington left Tuesday for Portland with a mixed carload of fine hogs and sheep. The hogs were some of the best that ever left the valley. Out of the two which were discovered to be too fat and had to be butchered that morning, was a spring pig which weighed 35 pounds.

Will Moore and family spent New Year's day at the home of his father, J. K. Moore.

Mrs. Beaul, sister of Johnnie Fredericks, arrived Monday from Grants Pass to visit relatives here.

Miss Mabel Scott returned last week to resume teaching in Rogue River.

The scarcity of coyotes this winter has been strongly noticeable in our district which reflects much credit on the coyote club.

Many remarks are being made on the long continued cold spell trying to associate it with conditions of some past year and disagreeing that it ever had an equal.

Several new families have rather recently located in the vicinity of our district, but whose names we have not accurately learned yet.

No definite date can be set for reopening school as the board are unable to get in communication with Miss Robins, who is supposed to be in Portland now.

They did me good and I truthfully say Foley Kidney Pills is the medicine for kidney trouble." For sale by Medford Pharmacy.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 50c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.
