

FLYING TO CHANGE FACE OF WORLD STATES INVENTOR

LONDON, Jan. 18.—"The wonders of today in the air will be as naught compared with the wonders of tomorrow," was the way J. A. Whitehead, the inventor, summed up his view of the future of aviation in an address here.

"The face of the world," he declared, "will be changed. Our towns and cities will be as different from the towns and cities of today as the streets and houses of London are different from the streets and buildings destroyed by the great fire. Our methods of life will be changed. Our ideas of speed will alter. We shall be the people of the Air Age."

He said that England's future as a nation depended on the question of the commercial use of aircraft, and that this country's task would be to control the aerodromes of the world. "They must be planned and laid out," he continued, "by our own workmen. We should develop, by means of aircraft, distant and undeveloped parts of the world and secure international cooperation for the development of commercial aircraft."

"The success of the business world is won by speed. The use of the airplane in the development of the world's resources is a matter not alone for the city man and the suburban speculator, but for the government. An exploration department to find out how our surplus labor and wealth can best be expended for the good of the nation is not only an idea—it is a duty."

NAVY TO ENFORCE LABOR DECISIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Every power of the navy department will be used to force the acceptance by companies with which it has contracts of awards made by the war labor board, Secretary Daniels said today, after a conference with Joint Chairman Taft of the board on the situation growing out of the Bethlehem Steel company's refusal to put into operation any one of these awards.

Mr. Daniels said the Bethlehem company had agreed to permit collective bargaining and the establishment of shop committees among its employees, but as soon as the armistice was signed, "the company lost interest."

Mr. Daniels pointed out that every contract let by the navy included a cancellation clause.

Joint Chairman Taft announced later that the war labor board would defer for 10 days its decision on the complaint of Bethlehem Steel company employees that the company had not lived up to the terms of awards.

TALENT TALK

Mrs. Boosey of Jacksonville is spending this week a guest of her sister, Mrs. Marion Traver and family.

Mr. George Kerby recently moved into the Alford house on Main street.

Marion Traver visited with his sister, Mrs. Ellie Diekey in Medford Tuesday.

Harley Dunn returned Sunday from The Dalles, Wash., after visiting his daughter, who was taken sick with influenza while visiting her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Glasgow were trading in Medford Monday.

A meeting has been called at the school house Friday evening to discuss plans for making up lost time on the school year.

J. H. Hearing was a business caller in Medford Thursday.

is his Christian name now, not a judge of a court tribunal, secretary, and Mrs. A. Y. Florey treasurer and Miss Mary Robertson organist. The prospect is good for having a very interesting series of meetings of the society this winter and spring.

Monday was rather a quiet day in our little town as the weather conditions were such as to cause people to stay in when they could and the constant dread that seems to prevail, with some at least, of the flu, naturally makes people stay at home unless urgent business calls them to go out, for while the newspapers are reluctant about publishing accounts of the ravages of the disease, nevertheless there are cases of it breaking out every few days. Monday night, our mail carrier, Bob Harnish, came down with it, but the doctor reports that he is getting along nicely, and today the word comes that they have another case, Mr. Dunlap, Jr., of Trail at the Farmers' hotel, and two cases in Fred Dutton's family, and two more cases I might mention, so it stands people in hand to be careful about going around unnecessarily.

Prof. R. E. Morris, our school supervisor, who is on his regular rounds, came in Monday evening and spent the night.

Thomas Albott and family, who live in the Lake Creek district, come out Monday and called on Mrs. Howell, Mrs. George Daley and Mrs. David Cincade, some of their old friends.

Prof. Morris went up and visited the Reese creek and Laurel hill schools Tuesday and had a time getting through the mud; he went as far as he could with his car, about six miles, and then walked the rest of the way. He says that the road, especially with a car, is a fright since the thaw. He had to break a road a good part of the way with his car and the wheels sank down about four inches all the time and a part of the time he had to wade through the mud, and reached here about 5 o'clock p. m. Reports the schools all o. k., says that Miss Hammon, who is teaching in the Reese creek school is doing fine and that Miss Zanta Roberts, who is teaching in the Laurel hill school has been engaged again to teach in the spring. Prof. Morris has come today to Brownsboro, the Lem Charley school and the Lake creek. He said that he was going as far as he could with his car and then walk the rest of the way.

I spoke in my last about Frank Lewis putting up ice for future use and he tells me that he has put up about ten tons, and counting that he will lose about 20 per cent, still that will be a saving of about one hundred dollars on the deal.

Ernest McKee called for dinner Tuesday. He came out to install a new pump for William Vonder Hellen as their pump froze up and burst. He thinks that he will put in an electric motor instead of a gasoline engine.

Another one of our soldier boys came in this (Wednesday) morning on the Harnish ferry, Orin Bell, formerly of Brownsboro, a brother of Mr. George Brown of that place. He took the E. P.-L. C. stage for Mr. Brown's.

Worth $50.00 a Bottle
Wm. Barnes, San Antonio, Tex., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy in the world. It has been worth $50.00 a bottle to me. I had 'the flu' followed by pneumonia, which left me weak, with a persistent cough. I needed rest and sleep, which I was unable to get. Some one advised Foley's Honey and Tar. I began taking it that very night. Before bed time I noticed relief, and that night had a sound sleep and perfect night's rest, the first since the beginning of the flu. I have completely recovered and do not cough at all. It cost me only $1.20 to cure that obstinate cough with Foley's Honey and Tar. Let all who read this letter try Foley's."
