

NEW TERMS TO BE IMPOSED BY ALLIES ON HUNS

President and Premiers Perfecting Plans for Creation of Society of Nations and Arranging New Armistice Conditions—Other Subjects Reserved for Society to Settle.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—(By Associated Press.) While President Wilson and the allied premiers and generals are deeply engrossed in perfecting the plan for the creation of a society of nations and arranging the new terms to be imposed upon Germany for a renewal of the armistice, expiring next Monday, other subjects of the greatest importance are being prepared for the consideration of the peace conference. It is expected that the conference will spend little time discussing them, however, and will pass most of them on to the society of nations, when the latter has been created and ready to function.

Foremost on this secondary program are the recommendations of the commission on international labor legislation. The commission is one of the few having an American at its head, and Samuel Gompers, the chairman, has been pushing work along at a great rate, so that it is expected he will have a report ready for the conference as soon as it is ready to receive it.

Diverse Views Reconciled

There have been difficulties in reconciling the diverse views of British and American labor interests, as each is radical in some respects and yet conservative in others.

Meetings are going on today as they have almost continuously during the last few days, between men who have come to Paris at the call of President Wilson and the premiers to deal with great financial problems.

In no place is it regarded so evident that there must be fullest cooperation than in the effort to restore the stability of currency, reduce prices to a reasonable level, get rid of superfluous issues of war paper, prevent further excessive fluctuations of exchange and regulate the rates of interest on, and the amount of bonds to be issued.

To Pool Debts

Steps have been taken to commit the peace conference to the adoption of a great international pooling system of debts, which shall include all neutral nations, whether they wish to or not. This will meet with the most determined resistance from the American delegates, who feel that America did her full share in aiding the allies by furnishing troops and almost unlimited supplies of money and material. They are understood to be quite willing to extend further credits to permit France to rehabilitate her industries and enable her and Belgium as well, to hold their own in the world's market, but they thoroughly appreciate the fact that it is beyond their power to commit their country to participate in any monetary credit system with European powers. They also feel that some of these countries have been derelict in not imposing additional taxes upon their own people during the war to meet at least in part their obligations, instead of calculating upon reimbursement from indemnities to be collected from the enemy.

Dodging Discrimination

The revival of the spirit of the old Paris economic conference, which planned boycotts and after-the-war discriminations, is sometimes in evidence during discussions. It made its appearance in the desire of one country to impose discriminatory duties on enemy commerce during the consideration of the plan to make all international waterways open for all nations on even terms. This was regarded as a violation of one of the "fourteen points" but the commission dealing with the subject is having some difficulty in passing this point. However, the general acceptance of the principle of international control of such waterways to the extent at least of prescribing rules which shall govern navigation and defining the riparian rights of abutting nations, is to pave the way for ultimate agreement in the commission upon a report which will probably be received with approval by the peace conference or its legatee, the society of nations.

AMENT DAM NOT CARRIED AWAY BY RECENT FLOODS

The Ament Dam above Grants Pass was not carried out by the recent flood as was rumored along the river, according to Game Warden P. H. Daily, who returned Wednesday afternoon from a visit to the dam, though the high water has seriously damaged the structure and destroyed the effectiveness of the fishways, rendering the ascent of the fish more of a problem than ever the coming season.

In the center of the dam, where the newer concrete portion joins the old crib work of logs, a hole has been washed under the logs and the water is shooting under with tremendous force. The structure creaks and groans and trembles so that another freshet would probably sweep away the log portion of the dam, says Mr. Daily. At present the fish are ascending through the holes in the cribwork and the penstocks, though the network of iron rods injures many fish.

Sheldon's bill authorizing the condemnation and removal of the dam passed the house Tuesday.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN MAY BE AMBASSADOR

MONTREAL—Que., Feb. 12.—Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian premier, who now is in Paris in attendance at the peace conference, has been offered the post of British ambassador to the United States, according to a report in newspaper circles in London received by the Canadian Press.

JELlicoe SUMS LESSONS.

Admiral Jellicoe explains why he did not seek night action and refers to the more powerful German searchlights, superiority in destroyers and the greater number of torpedo tubes fitted in the enemy ships, giving the enemy an opportunity of scoring heavily at the outset of an action, the result of which would always be a matter of chance.

After estimating the relative strength of the two fleets early in the war, Admiral Jellicoe expresses surprise that the Germans were so cautious and says:

"If this country in the future decides to rely for safety against raids or invasion on the fleet alone, it is essential that we possess a considerably greater margin of superiority over a possible enemy in all classes of vessels than we did in August, 1914."

Personals

Because of inability to take the time from business duties Mayor Gates will not attend the League of Nations congress to be held at Portland, Feb. 16 and 17, and so far he has not appointed any delegates to the meeting from Medford as he has not been able to find any citizens who will pay their own expenses and attend. He will be glad to appoint any citizens of Medford as delegates who plan to be in Portland on those dates.

A big crowd gathered at the depot yesterday afternoon to greet the 113 veterans of the 65th artillery regiment enroute from Camp Lewis to the Presidio at San Francisco, where they will be mustered out of service. The regiment recently arrived in this country from France where it was behind the line in reserve and just about to enter battle when the armistice was signed. The 113 men passing thru yesterday were all California members of the regiment who were not mustered out with the others at Camp Lewis. The reception here was the only one they had since starting from Camp Lewis and was much enjoyed. The women of the Red Cross distributed three boxes of apples among the boys. There was much disappointment over the non-appearance of the high school band, which thru a misunderstanding arrived after the train, which was ahead of time, had departed.

IRVIN S. COBB WAR HUMORIST AT PAGES TONIGHT

All preliminaries have been completed for Irvin S. Cobb's appearance at the Page theatre tonight and we can be in line for one of the best lectures that has ever been given in the city.

As a portrayal of the humane emotions Cobb has no peer and as a humorist he has no equal. He is the highest paid short story writer in America today; he has interviewed more rulers and statesmen than any man living and he is the most widely read and the most popular magazine writer in the modern literary field. He witnessed the destruction of the Tuscania, with so many American boys on board and cabled back that wonderful report, "The Sting of the Wasp."

And now he has the greatest story of his career to tell, and he tells it as only the master workman in the use of words can tell it.

Lecture will begin at the Page at 7:30.

65TH ARTILLERY ROUTED WEST VIA UNION PACIFIC

General regret and disappointment is felt not only in Medford but all over the county now that it is definitely settled that the 65th artillery enroute from Camp Dix to Camp Lewis will take a northern route thru Portland. Plans which were on foot for a record breaking reception to the 65th, in which are many Medford boys, in case the regiment came to the coast by the southern route and passed thru this city, have been dropped and all efforts will now be bent on arranging for a great welcome home reception to the Medford unit after the regiment is mustered out of service at Camp Lewis.

Senator McNary has telegraphed the local committee as follows: "Regret to advise that it is not considered practical by the war department to have the 65th Coast Artillery routed further south than Portland. They are leaving here about the twelfth and are due about the eighteenth."

The 65th will come west via the Union Pacific and receive their first Oregon reception at Huntington. A number of relatives and close friends of the Medford members of the 65th will probably go to Portland to take part in the big reception that city will give the regiment when it passes thru there enroute to Camp Lewis.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 12.—The state corporation commission made an order today revoking the license of the Western Union Life Insurance company of Spokane, Wash., and its agent, Charles T. Brice, who were found guilty before the commission of violating the insurance code. The complaint charged the company promised to loan money on property after a policy for $10,000 had been taken out, and failed to do so.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. Adv.
