

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS ENDS IN A RUMPUS

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Dissatisfaction of western delegates over failure of the conference of governors and mayors to take definite action toward relieving unemployment, which had been in evidence since yesterday culminated today in a row during which Secretary Houston left the hall.

Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, who criticized congress yesterday, precipitated the trouble by submitting a resolution which demanded that President Wilson immediately re-convene congress and his message demand passage of important legislation which failed with the adjournment yesterday.

"With all due respect to the gentlemen who have addressed us," Mayor Rolph said, "they have not told us a word that we didn't already know. We have traveled 3,000 miles not to hear that every American ought to own a home or good roads ought to be built, but to find out how the poor American hero, begging on the streets of New York, is going to get a job. Most of the trouble with the labor situation is right here in Washington and we want to know what's going to be done."

Mr. Rolph's resolution condemned the building of American ships in Japan and China and demanded those contracts be cancelled and replaced with some of the contracts recently cancelled by the shipping board in this country. The resolution also advocated collective bargaining as a means of lessening labor unrest.

FRENCH ARMY BAND SCORES SUCCESS

The French army band concert last night was a brilliant and artistic success with a program pleasing to all classes of patrons. The patriotic selections especially aroused enthusiasm and these French soldier-musicians were the only foreign band ever heard by most of the audience, who could play American airs with vim, dash and artistry as well as not better than most professional bands of this country. What made the concert last night especially pleasing was the human interest from the fact that all the musicians, and leader, had been soldiers in the French army and during service had been wounded or gassed.

The band's opening selection was the Star Spangled Banner and the concert was closed with "Over There" in compliment to the large number of soldiers and sailors in the audience. There are two wonderful soloists with the band, in the persons of DeBrulle, violinist and True, pianist.

OREGON TROOPS ENROUTE TO WEST

SEATTLE, March 5.—Commanded by Colonel John L. May, 245 members of what was once the Third Oregon National Guard but now the 162nd Infantry regiment, passed through here today en route to Camp Lewis, Wash., where they will be discharged.

The 69th Coast Artillery corps in which are many Washington men, will arrive here Thursday, according to word received from Portland, Ore., where the troop trains stopped today. Plans have been made for a parade of the 69th here Thursday noon.

10 BISHOPS SHOT MANY PRIESTS SLAIN BY RUSSIAN REDS

LONDON.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Murders of clergymen constitute the latest feature of Bolshevik terror in Russia, says Professor Peter Struve, a distinguished Russian economist, who has escaped from Russia and arrived in England after hiding from the Bolsheviks for months in Moscow, and after a long journey on foot to reach safety in Finland. He was compelled to disguise himself to escape death at the hands of the adherents of Lenin and Trotsky. Professor Struve was representative from Petrograd in the second duma and a member of the assembly convoked by Alexander F. Kerensky.

"Altogether ten bishops had been shot and many priests murdered and the dean of Kazan Cathedral and his two sons were drowned in the Nava by the Red soldiers," said Professor Struve. "Near Kotlas, all the monks in one monastery were shot to death. Professor Kartasheff, minister of religion in Kerensky's government, who has escaped into Finland, says that the present persecution of the church in Petrograd is only comparable with the persecution of the early Christians.

"In Moscow all the shootings take place at night, but in Petrograd the victims of the Bolsheviks are shot in the afternoon in the courtyard of the headquarters of the executive commission and, in order to drown the noise, it is usual to start up the engines of motor cars which are waiting in the vicinity."

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Amendments to the constitution of the league of nations desired by farmers' organizations, one of which proposes voting power in the league in proportion to population, were presented to President Wilson today by a delegation which pledged support of organized farmers to the league. The president thanked the delegation and stated that he appreciated its support.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD, HE SAYS

Milwaukee Man Says Mother Suffered Eighteen Years—Tanlac Restores Her.

"If everybody in Milwaukee knew how much good Tanlac has done my mother there isn't a one who wouldn't think just as I do—that it's worth its weight in gold."—was the interesting statement made by Frank J. Passago, brakeman on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, at 26 35th St., Milwaukee, recently. Mr. Passago's mother, Mrs. Minnie Passago, at the time she came to Milwaukee, four years ago, had been a resident of Shaanong, Illinois, for fifty years and is beloved by all who know her.

"For eighteen or twenty years," continued Mr. Passago, "my mother has had trouble with her stomach and I can truthfully say that Tanlac is the only medicine I have been able to find in all that time to do her any good. Nothing she would eat agreed with her and she was subject to frequent attacks of acute indigestion. In a little while after eating, her food would sour and bloat her up with gas and cause her to suffer for hours. At times this gas would press on her heart, almost cutting off her breath, and I actually thought she was going to die. She complained of awful pains through her stomach and left side and would belch up sour gas for hours. I have often had to get up in the middle of the night and doctor her on account of this gas, and I don't believe she ever got a good night's rest on account of the pain she suffered. During the past year she lost twenty-five pounds in weight, or more, and all her strength seemed to leave her. During the past six months she has failed very much faster. All she was able to eat was a little soup or milk and soft boiled eggs, and even this would hurt her. Her condition became so serious that on December the seventh I quit work in order to stay home and take care of her.

"One day I noticed a Tanlac testimonial in the paper which was so straightforward and convincing that I told mother I wanted her to try the medicine. She agreed and at the time she started taking it she had been down in bed for five weeks and couldn't stand on her feet but a few minutes, if she tried. Well, she has taken two bottles now and you may believe it or not, she is up doing all her cooking and house-work and is just feeling fine. She is now sixty-nine years of age, but I declare she gets around like one many years younger. She sleeps like a child, eats anything she wants and that gas and indigestion has stopped bothering her almost entirely. I have never seen such a change in anyone as Tanlac has made in Mother. I am very grateful for it and she is feeling mighty happy herself. We can't say too much in behalf of Tanlac, and have been telling everyone in the neighborhood about it."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. D. Bowers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mee, in Ashland by J. J. McNair.

WILSON AND TAFT ADVOCATE LEAGUE AT SAME MEET

am in that situation with regard to some of the criticisms I have heard. They do not make an impression on me, because I know there is no medium that will transmit them; that the sentiment of the country is proof against such narrowness and such selfishness as that. I commend these gentlemen to communion with their fellow citizens.

Facing the Future

"What are we to say, then, as to the future? I think, my fellow citizens, that we can look forward to it with great confidence. I have heard cheering news since I came to this side of the water about the progress that is being made in Paris towards the discussion and clarification of a great many difficult matters; and I believe that settlements will begin to be made rather rapidly from this time on at those conferences.

"But what I believe—that I know as well as believe, is this: That the men engaged in those conferences are gathering heart as they go, not losing it; that they are finding community of purpose and community of ideal to an extent that perhaps they did not expect; and that amidst all the interplay of influence—because it is infinitely complicated—amidst all the interplay of influence, there is a forward movement which is running towards the right. Men have at last perceived that the only permanent thing in the world is the right, and that a wrong settlement is bound to be a temporary settlement—bound to be a temporary settlement for the very best reason of all, that it ought to be a temporary settlement, and the spirits of men will rebel against it, and the spirits of men are now in the saddle.

Italian Interview

"When I was in Italy, a little lim-ing group of wounded Italian soldiers sought an interview with me. I could not conjecture what it was they were going to say to me, and with the greatest simplicity, with a touching simplicity, they presented me with a petition in favor of the league of nations. Their wounded limbs, their impaired vitality were the only argument they brought with them. It was a simple request that I lend all the influence that I might have to have to relieve future generations of the sacrifices that they had been obliged to make.

"That appeal has remained in my mind as I have ridden along the streets of European capitals, and heard cries of the crowd, cries for the league of nations from lips of people, who, I venture to say, had no particular notion of how it was to be done, who were not ready to propose a plan for a league of nations, but whose hearts said that something by way of a combination of all men everywhere must come out of this.

Messengers of Hope

"As we drove along the country roads, we saw old women would come out and hold flowers to us. Why should they hold flowers to us, strangers from across the Atlantic? Only because they believed we were the messengers of friendship and of hope, and these flowers were their humble offerings of goodwill that friends from so great a distance should have brought them so great a hope, that it is inexpressible that we should disappoint them, and we shall not. The day will come when men in America will look back with swelling hearts and rising pride that they should have been privileged to make the sacrifice which it was necessary to make in order to combine their might and their moral power with the cause of justice for men of every kind everywhere.

"God give us strength and vision to do it wisely. God give us the privilege of knowing that we did it without counting the cost, and because we were true Americans, lovers of liberty and of doing right."

MEXICANS PLAN 1920 CAMPAIGN FOR PRESIDENCY

MEXICO CITY.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Candidates for election to the presidency of Mexico are organizing and preparing for their campaigns, despite a proclamation by President Carranza urging that such action be postponed until the latter part of this year. Only a few political papers strongly opposed to the government question the sincerity of President Carranza's declaration that he has no intention of attempting to evade the constitutional provision prohibiting one man from twice serving as president by seeking his own re-election.

Those most prominently mentioned as probable candidates for the presidency in 1920 are General Pablo Gonzalez, General Salvador Alvarado, General Alvaro Obregon and Attorney Aguirre Berlanga, now secretary of the interior.
