

TO ASK BIDS FOR PAVING JACKSON COUNTY HIGHWAYS

County Judge Gardner has received a letter from Mr. Booth stating that at a special meeting of the commission to be held March 26, bids will be asked for grading and paving the route from Ashland city limits to the foot of the mountains on what is known as the middle route, now being surveyed.

Also that bids will be asked for the paving of the Siskiyou as soon as conditions are favorable, which will either be at the special meeting or at the regular April meeting.

Mr. Booth stated the Blackwell hill route from Central Point to the Josephine county line was decided upon and is now being surveyed. That the Green mountain road would also be pushed this year and that within 30 days all the Pacific highway in Jackson county would be disposed of.

WOMEN URGED TO HELP SAVE U. S. INTEGRITY

By Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, State Chairman, Woman's Liberty Loan Committee of Oregon

"This is to be the last Liberty Loan!"

These words we send to you, still thrilling with the joy that was ours when they came to us; not for the promise of work curtailed; not for the lifting of a financial burden from weighted shoulders, but for their resounding cry of victory, heralding a thanksgiving call to all the nations of the earth.

Six months ago we urged you to dedicate your services and your money to the use of the government that victory might be ours. The magnificent response from the women of Oregon, and other states, by their consecrated loyalty and generous support played no small part in bringing joy to the world on the eleventh of last November. Our money, lavishly loaned and used, was the dynamic force that prostrated the German barbarians, and stopped the slaughter of our splendid manhood. The magnitude of our preparations struck terror to the enemy, for it implied the obligation America had taken upon herself, and her grim determination to see it through to a glorious finish.

SARAH A. EVANS

The victory has been won, but have we canceled all our obligations? Certainly not until we have paid every debt incurred to bring about this victory, and honorably return home every soldier who made it possible.

Our thank-offering for the speedy close of the war, the thousands of lives spared, and the untold suffering thus saved must be the preservation of the financial integrity of America, and a comprehensive readjustment of disturbed conditions. This can only be done by a generous and ready response to this last great call—THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN.

Let us rededicate ourselves and our treasure once more to the cause of peace, as did the wise men of old when they heard from the Judean Hills the song of victory:

"Peace on Earth; good will to men."

It is called the Victory Loan because the money it will bring in was spent to force victory over Germany.

"The most unmitigated curse of the United States is the lack of thrift."—Frank Crane.

Waste neither time nor money, but make the best use of both.

It is foolish to lay out money in a purchase of repentance.

Money can beget money, and its offspring can beget more.

VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN TO OPEN APRIL 21

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Victory Liberty Loan campaign will open Monday, April 21 and end Saturday night, May 10.

GRACEFUL GLORIA SAYS GOOD LINES COME EASY

Study to make "every move a picture" in gestures of the arm and wrist. Seek curved lines, not angles.

Think in terms of beauty. Read good poetry and study good pictures. Learn to appreciate the secret of the great Grecian sculptors. Take an interest in all forms of art. Surround yourself with beautiful things. And beautiful pictures and ornaments are not necessarily expensive. Keep flowers in your home. Study form and decoration so as to be able to arrange your own private little room artistically.

Look at your own form and figure critically and clothe yourself so as to be able to dress in a way that will make the most of the beautiful lines in your own figure, and every girl, no matter if she be inclined to stoutness or thinness, has some beautiful lines that are worthy of being accentuated.

THE SHEPHERD AND THE CROOK

Herbert Johnson, the man who draws those inimitable cartoons for the Saturday Evening Post, put into black and white in the March 1 issue of the magazine something that every man who owns a Liberty Bond ought to frame. It is entitled "The Shepherd and the Crook."

In the foreground, ragged and in a "plug" hat and a swallowtail coat and with an avaricious smile on his face, is a wolf with a grip full of all sorts of flim-flam stocks. Speeding towards him is a flock of sheep in the clothes of humans, each trying to get to the wolf first with a Liberty Bond to trade for the flim-flam stocks. Uncle Sam, the shepherd, stands in the background, astonished at the sudden insanity displayed by his flock.

Johnson's cartoons are good because they are always true and always well done. This one is particularly true and exceptionally well done. In a glance it tells a story that every Liberty Bond holder ought to heed.

The American buyer of Liberty Bonds who lets go of his bonds for fake stock, or even for stock that is not fake, is playing into the hands of wolves. The wolf always gets the better of the sheep, if he didn't he wouldn't have anything to do with the sheep.

Every man or woman who owns Liberty Bonds can put it down in his pipe or her powder-puff any time anybody offers something for Liberty Bonds that the Liberty Bonds are worth more than the thing offered. Johnson shows his human sheep wearing silly smiles as they rush for the wolf. A man owning the best interest-paying security on earth ought to wear a silly smile when he walks into a faker's office to trade his Liberty Bonds for worthless stock or to sell them for less than they are worth. Even if one is offered the market price, one is getting less than the bonds are worth, because the market price for bonds now is no indication of their real value.

Hold your bonds. Don't be a "sucker."

TELL IT TO THE MARINES IF YOU WANT TO DIE

General Catlin Explains Why World Is Afraid of "Leathernecks."

It isn't nice to swear in type. Neither is war nice. This is a war story. It was told by Brigadier General Catlin in his book, "With the Help of God and a Few Marines." Belleau Wood is the setting.

The General had given his troops the order to advance. His last words were, as they started across the wheat fields under a withering fire, "Give 'em hell, boys."

"Some one has reported," the General continues, "that they advanced on those woods crying, 'Remember the Lusitania.' If they did I failed to hear it."

"Somehow that doesn't sound like the sort of things the Marines say under the conditions."

Then General Catlin tells what they did say. When the lines were wavering under the terrific German fire, a sergeant cried out:

"Come on you ———, do you want to live forever?"

Tell the Marines that you are not going to take your share of the coming Victory Liberty Loan.

WOMEN AND MONEY

By Chancellor James R. Day, Syracuse University.

The balance which self denial holds in the home is the balance of prosperity and peace. Here woman has her place and office. Is she equal to self denial? Can she wait?

There is nothing so persuasive, so irresistible, as the love of a man for the wife whom he loves. No money is spent with so much joy as the money that goes to her and the children.

Happy is that man whose wife loves him too much to permit him to be foolish when he should be wise, who is so judicious in her temperament, so prudent in her domestic economy, as to add her decisive voice to the month's allowance, and so brave as to insist that the expenditure must always be at least a little less than the income.

FREE TRADE FOR LEAGUE WANTED

BERNE, Mar. 11.—The international conference of League of Nations societies today drew up two new resolutions to be addressed to the peace conference in Paris. One favored the participation of all self-governing nations in the league and the other was in favor of free trade. The question of participation by the vatican aroused much discussion. Professor Forel, a Swiss delegate, opposing it on the ground that if the Holy See became a member, Buddhism and other religious systems would have to be admitted. The conference finally decided by a vote of 13 to 8 to grant the Holy See some voice, at least, in the councils of the league. During the discussion relative to free trade the existing blockade was sharply criticized as an "insult to international rights."
