

M'ADOO APPEALS FOR SUPPORT OF VICTORY LOAN

William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, addressed a crowd of about 1000 people from the rear platform of the last coach of northbound passenger train at 7 o'clock last night.

The only notice of his coming was a paragraph item in the Sunday morning Sun which merely said he would pass thru the city at 7 p. m. and that efforts would be made to prevail on him to speak a few minutes during the train stop. Mr. McAdoo was en route from San Francisco to Portland. The large crowd was gathered too out of curiosity to see the former secretary of the treasury, former head of the United States railroad administration, son-in-law of President Wilson, and who is prominently mentioned as a democratic party candidate for the presidency.

Mr. McAdoo's address was without a tinge of politics and followed the lines of urging support of the Victory loan and the League of Nations plan. It was an earnest talk, entirely informal, and Mr. McAdoo created a splendid impression. As he stepped forward and was introduced by Postmaster Mims the crowd cheered loudly.

Mr. McAdoo began his remarks by jocosely expressing his surprise at seeing such a large crowd, especially as he was now a private citizen. "I have found crowds gathered to greet me at several places since I entered Oregon," he said. "How do you do it? It must be your Oregon enterprise."

Mr. McAdoo then launched forth in an earnest appeal for support of the forthcoming Victory loan. He pointed out the necessity of completing the Germans by paying for the quired the Germans by paying for the financial cost of the war. The soldiers had bravely and valiantly gone forth and done their part so successfully, and it was now up to us to complete and clean up the cost of the great victory by contributing as liberally to the fourth or Victory loan as we had in the previous loans.

He declared that it was a great privilege instead of a sacrifice to subscribe to the Victory loan. We owed it as a duty, he said, to the 60,000 American soldiers killed during the war and the 200,000 or more battle-maimed American soldiers whom this government and people when they entered the war to risk life and limb promised to back to a finish.

GOLD HILL MUST TAKE CARE OF IT'S CONVICT INVALIDS

SALEM, April 14.—Medical care of convicts who have been employed at the state lime plant at Gold Hill must be paid for out of funds of the state lime board and not out of the state penitentiary funds, according to an opinion of Attorney General Brown written upon inquiry by Warden Stevens of the state prison.

The attorney general holds that food and clothing should be paid for out of the penitentiary funds, but only until such time as the lime board is on a paying basis. Cost of transportation, housing, fuel and other supplies as well as supervision and guarding are to be paid from funds of the lime board. The ruling is made under the statute creating the state lime board.

THOUSANDS OF GREEKS DYING OF STARVATION

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Thousands of Greeks deported from Macedonia during the Bulgarian occupation have died from starvation and mistreatment and survivors are in a desperate condition due to lack of food and disease, said a report received here by the American Red Cross.

worth of the liberty bond with the United States government back of it, Mr. McAdoo said in part: "What if in Wall street the liberty bonds do fall off a few points temporarily, and thru financial stress of some sort you have to sell your bond at a little below par value—why if, for instance you have to sell a $50 bond at a sacrifice of $2.50 you should be willing for the great cause to make this little sacrifice, when you consider the sacrifice our soldiers made in lives and limbs.

"It is our patriotic duty and privilege to rise up and over-subscribe the Victory loan."

In his appeal for the League of Nations plan Mr. McAdoo declared that this plan was a question of humanity and not one of partisan politics and that politics should enter into it in no way. "The good of humanity should always be above politics," he asserted, "and let us all bury all partisanship in considering this question. There has not been a more propitious time in the history of Christianity and with indications for success for the organization of the world for peace instead of for war as heretofore. Let us face this question of world humanity and world peace as patriotic Americans."

WHAT THE ACTOR THINKS OF HIS OWN PRODUCTION

This is the first time that I have ever played the part of a man killer. But remember that Lassiter was not essentially a "bad man." He was not wanton or vicious, but in pursuance of the grim determination of his life to punish the abductor of his sister, he gained a reputation which made his very name a terror thruout Utah Territory. One after another, during years of patient pursuit, Lassiter ran down all those who had any part in the abduction of his sister, and they died suddenly.

"Lassiter never surprised a victim, or shot from ambush. He met his man face to face and gave him fair warning. If he was not armed, Lassiter gave him time to get weapons; even let the man make the first move to draw his gun. But there always was just one result.

One of the greatest moments of Lassiter's life was when he came under the influence of a good woman and found in the little child she had adopted the softening influence that made him almost forgive his enemies. Had his enemies not persecuted him, and abducted the little girl as they did his sister, some of them might have escaped vengeance.

I only hope that thru my screen impersonation I may make motion picture audiences realize Lassiter as I felt the role. —William Farnum. At the Page today and tomorrow.

all parties as it recognized that the transfer of the mines is but inadequate compensation for the havoc deliberately wrought in northern France by the Germans.

"The solution of the Saar problem was suggested last week by Mr. Lloyd George. It consists in giving the Saar a kind of autonomy resembling that of Luxembourg. The local authorities would remain free from interference by either French or German administration, the political status of the district being, besides, guaranteed by the League of Nations. That suggestion was carefully worked out by a sub-committee. The scheme was laid before the council of four early last week and heartily supported by Lloyd George."

HOW WEAK WOMEN ARE MADE STRONG

Mrs. Westmoreland Tells in the Following Letter.

Harrison, N. Y.—"When my first child was born I did not know about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a very hard time. I read in the newspaper about the Vegetable Compound and when my second child came I took it and was well during the whole time, and childbirth was a hundred times easier. Ever since then I have used it for any weakness and would not be without it for the world. I do all my work and am strong and healthy. I am nursing my baby, and I still take the Vegetable Compound as it keeps a woman in good health. You may publish my testimonial for the good of other women, if you choose to do so."—Mrs. C. WESTMORELAND, Harrison, N. Y.

Women who suffer from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, headaches and nervousness should lose no time in giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
