GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

CONVENTIONAL job stuff should be eliminated from the Victory loan. The people are tired of it, and there is no need of it. This final war drive is essentially a practical business proposition, sentimentality and mock heroics, being a waste, both of energy and time.

In the first place the Victory loan represents a debt, with every American citizen, a debtor. The question for the individual to decide is whether or not he wishes to pay this just debt, or transfer his obligation to other shoulders and stand self confessed, as a patriotic dead beat.

This is merely looking at the proposition from the standpoint of ordinary business. The American people who stayed at home contracted this debt. They sent their boys by millions across the water, to do a certain job that had to be done. The boys executed their side of the contract more gloriously, more completely, with less expense in blood and treasure, than anyone believed possible.

Now they have come home. And the Victory loan merely represents their expenses. The money was spent not to benefit any one community, or class, but the country as a whole, and every man, woman and child in the country benefitted by it. Now the question is whether the individual who received that benefit paid not only in money, but in lives, suffering and sacrifice, is to pay merely his share of it, in dollars and cents.

If to any American citizen this obligation is not clear, if paying to the limit of his financial capacity is not a plain and practical business obligation, then his sensibilities must be so ossified as to make any appeal to his emotions a clear waste of time.

A better business investment from a hard headed business standpoint than a Victory bond could not be imagined, a clearer debt of honor could not be conceived. There to our mind is the essence of this last Liberty loan proposition. The person who refuses to respond to that must live in a spiritual world so low as to provide his own just punishment.

RESTORE ROADS TO PRE-WAR SERVICE SAYS W. D. HINES

PORTLAND, April 22.—"It is my policy and purpose to attempt, so far as possible, to restore railroad service to the sort of service which was rendered before the war," said Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, who arrived here today from the north with a party of railroad administration officials. Mr. Hines was to leave here for the south tonight.

"The present government control," declared the director general, "is purely temporary in character and I feel that the most useful service I can render the country is to try in this temporary period, to get the railroad service on the best possible footing from the standpoint of the needs of the public so that whatever the future solution of the question may be, when that solution is put into effect it will at least have a good starting point in the way of a proper and convenient service to the citizens of the country."

Portland, April 22.—Walker D. Hines, director-general of railroads, arrived in Portland early today from Spokane, accompanied by a party of railroad administration officials. He went into conference today with railroad men and representatives of local civic organizations. The day was to be spent in a series of conferences, some of which were to deal with lumber and railroad tie price problems.

Hale Holden, regional director of the central western division, arrived late yesterday. The chamber of commerce presented the export rate question to Edward Chambers, director of traffic today and manufacturers conferred with H. B. Spencer, director of the purchasing division. The party was to remain in Portland only until tonight.

Notice to Flang Owners

I have been led to believe that a man by my name has been tuning pianos in this vicinity and people should not get confused in this party as being the same one who has been tuning here for some time which is not the case, and therefore I will not be responsible for work done by said party. My work has been endorsed by your leading teachers of Medford, Ashland and Grants Pass. I absolutely guarantee my work.

TALENT SECOND DISTRICT TO GO OVER THE TOP

Talent was added to the Jackson county list of "over the top" districts in the Victory Liberty loan campaign last night with its quota of substantial increase will yet come from this district.

The attitude toward the present loan is much different from any past loan floated by the government inasmuch as the Victory bonds are in demand by the banks of the country who no doubt would take every dollar's worth of the loan if the government would allow them to buy the bonds. It is a matter of the most desirable investment the financial interests of the country have known.

In a few districts in Oregon, where the public had no objection, the banks have taken the entire quota for the district while in Salem the Victory loan committee has been discharged the banks being anxious to handle the entire quota taking all themselves that the people do not voluntarily subscribe for.

Many voluntary subscriptions are being made at local headquarters by people who appreciate the splendid advantage of the Victory bonds, and there is no doubt that the county quota will be reached in this district in good season.

The first list of subscribers, together with the respective amounts subscribed will appear in the paper tomorrow. Get your name in on the first list.

RAILROAD MEN GIVE SUPPORT TO VICTORY LOAN

Director General Hines has issued a circular to officers and employees of railroads under federal control urging them to subscribe as liberally as their means will permit to the notes of the Victory Liberty loan, and to make the investment both attractive and comfortable has extended the option of four different methods—full payment at once, installment plan offered by the government, installment plan offered by local banks, or purchase thru railroad federal treasurers on the 10-month installment plan by payroll deductions.

In calling attention to this convenient arrangement Federal Manager O'Brien adds the request that employees make their subscriptions thru their local railroad committees to the end that proper credit may be given to the railroad administration; and to overcome any embarrassment that might result from the circumstance that payments are not yet completed on the Fourth Loan, arangement has been made to have payments on the Fifth deferred pending such completion, provided it shall not delay the first payment beyond the September payroll.
