

MEDFORD STILL $45,000 SHORT IN VICTORY DRIVE

The Victory Loan campaign committee is still $45,000 under the quota for the Medford district. While subscriptions continue to come into headquarters the active work of solicitors has stopped and people who have not yet availed themselves of the opportunity to help their government in the Victory loan are urged to bring their subscriptions to the local banks without further delay in order that Medford may uphold her reputation for patriotism.

A returned soldier, overhearing one of the women solicitors urging a man to buy Victory bonds last week, walked up and requested that he be allowed to purchase a Victory bond to help the government. The effect was good and the other man quickly signed his name for a substantial amount. Victory loan headquarters at the Commercial club have been supplied with a large number of large cloth "100 Per Cent Victory Loan Banners." These can be had by all business or industrial firms for window display where every member of the firm and employee has pledged his assistance to the government through the Victory loan.

If you know of anyone who has not bought a Victory bond urge him to do his full duty.

TERRORIST PLOT STIRS LAND

sives notified the night superintendent of his suspicions at 2 o'clock this morning having obtained the first edition of a morning newspaper detailing the explosion in Senator Hardwick's home.

Two in San Francisco
SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Two bombs were delivered by mail to the district attorney's office of San Francisco Saturday morning. One was addressed to Charles M. Fickert, district attorney, and another to Edward Cunha, assistant district attorney. They were mailed from New York.

One of the bombs, addressed to Cunha was opened and found to contain cans, an explosive and some acid. Both were delivered in wooden boxes, the bomb, contained in a cardboard box inside. The packages were marked "novelty" with the name of "Gimbel Brothers, New York" on the outside of the package.

Bomb for Landis
CHICAGO, April 30.—What may prove to have been one of the bombs discovered in New York was found on the desk of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis today, while the judge was absent at Rockford, Ills. The package, which purported to be from Gimbel's, was eleven inches long, two inches wide and two deep, and carried eight cents postage. Post Office Inspector Stuart took it in charge.

Suspicion was further increased by the words on the package, "novelty, Gimbel Brothers." It was addressed to "Mr. K. M. Landis. It was received in this morning's mail and placed on the desk by the clerk who received it.

Other Victims
WASHINGTON, April 30.—The bomb for Mr. Rockefeller was addressed to his country home at Tarrytown, N. Y., and that of Mr. Morgan to 231 Madison avenue, New York. Only insufficient postage prevented all 17 going on promptly and being delivered probably ahead of the one which reached the Hardwick home.

Others to whom packages were addressed included:
W. M. Wood, 21 Fairfield street, Boston; W. F. Finch, special agent of the department of justice at New York; W. J. Shaffer, attorney general of Pennsylvania; T. Larry Dvra, Chester, Pa., and Richard B. Enright, police commissioner, New York City.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lacy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

MEDFORD LADIES TO HOLD TAG DAY FOR ORPHAN GIRLS

A May day tag sale will be held in Medford on Saturday for the benefit of that worthy institution, the Christie Home for Orphan Girls at Portland, and many Medford women have interested themselves in the cause.

Nearly 100 teams of workers in Portland and throughout the state have been recruited to sell the little tags and there will also be tags at $1 each for motors, shops and industrial centers. The workers have been instructed not to approach returned soldiers. However, if they wish to contribute a dime to this cause, their gifts will be gratefully received.

"It is to pay for the hundreds of pairs of shoes, the scores of pairs of stockings, the great quantities of bed linen and many bolts of gingham and outing flannel as well as the great amount of food needed to keep healthy and happy our great family of 135 girls, that we are obliged to ask the public to contribute 10 cents on May day by buying a little May basket tag," says Sister Mary Elmira, the sister superior at the Christie Home for Orphan Girls. "Our appropriation from the state is but $3 a month for each girl and not all of our girls come under that provision, and even by having our own garden, cows and chickens, it is impossible to make this amount cover our actual needs, hence the necessity of asking the people of the state to help us at this time."

The following Medford women will have charge of the tag sale here: Mrs. T. E. Daniels, Mrs. Chas. Schiefelbin, Mrs. J. F. Reddy, Mrs. Leo Mikache, Mrs. Madeline Herbert, Mrs. Chas. M. Della, Mrs. Wm. DeBley, Mrs. Frank Glidden, Miss Annie Kelleher, Mrs. Will Steel, Mrs. Wm. Nicholas, Mrs. Alex Duff, Mrs. Frank M. Gerdes, Mrs. Will Hanna, Mrs. Arthur, Mrs. John Wilkinson, Mrs. Jos. Gagnon, Mrs. Jos. Burroughs, Miss Kate McAndrews, Mrs. Radovan.

WHO IS THIS WOMAN

ORLANDO RECEIVES SUPPORT FROM THE ROME PARLIAMENT

at such action adding he would endeavor to prevent it. He said he thought it opportune that France and England should undertake to find a means of conciliation while he would have the question re-examined to see if further concession could be made.

"The Italian delegation did not maintain an obstinate attitude, but cooperated in efforts to find a way to conciliation. It was anxious not to delay peace and to avoid compromising the union of the allied peoples. It was continuing patiently to seek a means of conciliation and was discussing the subject with the British premier when the presidential message appeared."

"This new fact seemed to the Italian delegation of enormous gravity, as it made public a dissonance which was confined inside the conference. Besides making statements addressed to the sentiment and will of peoples in general, and therefore to the Italian people, the full authority and therefore the prestige of the Italian delegates was doubted just in the decisive hour when it was most needed."

Addressing himself to the attitude of Italy at the peace conference and the justice of her demands, the premier continued:

"Italy did not sacrifice her sacrifices by the letter of her treaty with the allied powers and did not ask for help when she had to withstand the shock of the Austrian army. Therein she only did her duty as the allies have done, but that fact transformed friendship into blood fellowship and it was in that sense that Italy appealed to the allied peoples and governments."

"The question of Fiume was not first brought forward by Italy but by a thrilling act of spontaneous will which began with the declaration of Fiume's representative in the Hungarian parliament, and which was subsequently confirmed when Fiume proclaimed herself an Italian town."

"Can our nation remain inert and unmoved by the vehement and despairing appeal of this people whose blood is of our blood? No!"

Premier Orlando reiterated that the treaty of London did not prevent the allies from considering the Fiume question from the Italian viewpoint, and that moreover the allies had admitted they were in no wise bound regarding Fiume, since they considered themselves capable of agreeing to the freedom of the city.

Loyal to Allies
"It is our desire to remain loyal to the alliance," he said, "for the sake of the solemn pledges which binds our word of honor and for the holiness of blood shed in a common cause."

He paid tribute to the allied soldiers, continuing: "The allies of yesterday must be the allies of today, and all their peoples, above all the American people, who sacrificed themselves for the victory of an ideal, must remain at the helm together in the tie of loyal friendship."

"Obeying the supreme command of the Italian government and realizing the solemnity of the hour, I affirm before this parliament that Italy is animated by all that spirit of conciliation which is compatible with the unavoidable exigencies of national conscience and dignity."

"With the same sincerity, I say that I cannot determine in this difficult moment in what form or by what means we can reach that object because in the last solemn conversation that occurred April 24 there arose a difference, not only regarding our point of view but also between that of our allies and our associated powers."

Doubts Compromise

"Therefore, in the present state of affairs, Italy is not facing a solution in which the allied and associated governments agreed with an insurmountable measure of agreement. Nor is there a proposal of compromise upon which all are agreed but instead she is facing a difference of opinion which virtually denies the actual possibility that special territorial conditions reserved to Italy can be contained in the peace treaty accepted by all the allied and associated powers."

"The members of the government and of the Italian delegation await your verdict with serene hearts. With serene hearts the people also await events."

A Greater Italy

"The principal necessity now is that all should determine with sincerity and harmony to face the outcome of this great battle which faith might have spared us. Let us wait until tomorrow to renew our struggles. They will be illuminated by the glory of a greater Italy."

The chamber of deputies was crowded when the premier delivered his address. Cheers greeted his arrival, and these were repeated as telegrams were read from Fiume, Zara, Sebenico, Spalato and the island of Benazza demanding their annexation by Italy.

The text of the resolution adopted by the chamber follows:

"The chamber, the guardian of the dignity and the interpreter of the will of the Italian people, declares itself in union with the government and confirms its full confidence in it for the defense of the supreme rights of the nation and for securing a just and durable peace."

Paris Optimistic

PARIS, April 30.—The French press, commenting on the speech of Premier Orlando before the Italian parliament finds a spirit of conciliation marking the address. The newspapers express the conviction that

Man Buried Alive for Three Hours

Attributes Poor Health to Horrible Occurrence—Tells of Experience

Only once in a great while do we hear of some one being buried alive, and F. B. Slominaki of 506 East 26th street, Tacoma, Washington is one of a very limited number who have ever undergone this terrible experience and lived to tell the story. Mr. Slominaki attributes his long period of suffering and ill health, from which he says he was never able to find relief until he began the use of Taniae, to this tragic occurrence. But, we will let him tell his own story, which is as follows:

"Being buried alive is a horrible experience, but that is what happened to me in a mine explosion ten years ago. We were pinned in for three hours, before the rescuers could get to us, with hardly enough air to keep soul and body together. I was the luckiest man of the lot, as two of the men had their ears blown off, and one poor fellow had his eyes blown out. I was unconscious for five days after they got me home, and I have never gotten over the effects of it till now."

"I think my stomach must have been poisoned by the fire damp, as it has been in a very bad condition ever since. My food would not digest properly, but would ferment and cause gas to form which gave me a great deal of pain. I had a pain in my back all the time, and suffered with headaches and dizzy spells. I was very nervous and when I did manage to get off to sleep the slightest noise would wake me. I made special request of my sons to make no noise on coming in at night as I wanted to try to get a little sleep. My appetite was very poor, and I got so weak I could hardly walk. I didn't seem to have one bit of strength."

"Taniae is the only thing I have ever been able to get to help me, and it certainly has done me a world of good. My appetite is fine, and my stomach is in good condition, and I can eat anything without suffering a bit from gas and indigestion. My boys can make all the noise they please now, it don't bother me at all, and I can sleep through anything. The pain is gone out of my back, my head don't ache any more, and I sent work to the Taniae man the other day that I had strengthened up until I could run and jump a fence as good as I ever could. I come home after a hard day's work, and after a few minutes rest feel fine and ready to go anywhere. I have gained several pounds and feel better than I have in years, and it's all due to Taniae."

Taniae is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. D. Bowers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mee, in Ashland by J. J. McNair, in Eagle Point by Von der Hellen.
