

ENGLISH WORKING WOMEN INSIST ON PAINT AND POWDER

LONDON, May 2.—The British "land girl" of the war, who is once more the town girl, has returned to the use of "make up."
Artful make up, in the opinion of a London business woman who champions the practice, is essential. "There is no room," she told an interviewer, "for the washed out, tired looking woman in the business world. Even if she is delicate, she must not look delicate. A little rouge, very faintly applied, will give her an appearance of health and brightness which goes a long way with an employer."
"I assure you that hundreds of girls who are never suspected of the fact by outsiders habitually 'make up.' But they do it so perfectly that they deceive the opposite sex, and large numbers of their own sex, too. Obvious make-up is vulgar and would be of great disadvantage."

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett.
Last Saturday evening Judge Gardner, James Owens and Geo. Owen, our county judge and two county commissioners, accompanied Jas. E. Hodgman, the deputy state engineer, and took supper at the Sunnyside. They had been looking over the different routes suggested for the Crater Lake highway. Of course they gave out nothing as to the location of the road.
Cliff Hanson who has been working in the Lake Creek country was a guest Saturday night, and Geo. M. Davis and L. M. Carr of Medford were here for supper.
Miss Pina Benedict, our primary teacher, went to her home in Ashland Saturday returning Sunday evening in time to lead the C. E. society.
Sunday morning was one of those ideal mornings, such as are seldom

Henry Walthall at Rialto Tonight Only

Henry B. Walthall, the brilliant screen actor, is not ordinarily addicted to compiling verse, but the theme of "The Long Lane's Turning," his latest production for Exhibitors Mutual release, inspired him to submit the following specimen of "vers libre," just before being "shot" in a scene showing him hitting the bottle. Here's the ditty:
Old King Booze was a merry old soul,
A merry old soul was he;
But now he's tiddling blue—seen anywhere except in southern Oregon and the temptation was so great to ride out and enjoy the morning air that a number of the usual attendants in our Sunday school absented themselves, but we are led to believe that Eagle Point was not the only place that was tempted in the same way, judging by the number of people who took dinner at the Sunnyside. According to the report of Mrs. Geo. W. Daley, who is assisting at the hotel there were fifty-eight persons took dinner here that day. This includes the family and the regular boarders. Among the visiting guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Murphy, Mrs. Dr. Songer and Miss Millie Songer of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. Royal G. Brown and daughter Miss Hazel of Eagle Point, Mr. and Mrs. Royman Ritter, R. E. Haney, Miss Margaret Haney and Mrs. Amelia Schmitt, Dr. Marvin, H. C. Christoferson and W. A. Summer of Medford, the two last called a little late and the tables were full and as their business was urgent they decided to go on to Medford for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Norcross, Miss Cecilio and Perl J. Norcross, Ray Henderson, lally the helpless, curing the sick, relieving the lame, the blind and in two instances restoring the dead to life, and to relieve the suffering and the needy.

Another topic was the duty of the church of Christ to the toilers. This question naturally brought up the question as to what the church was doing for them. Reference was had to the present system of conducting religious services, especially in the cities where they have their magnificent church edifices with their costly pews that are sold and often not occupied at all and if occupied by perhaps one or two, and they of the "I am more righteous than thou" class, where a person's respectability and piety was measured by the kind of clothes they wore and where the unwritten sign was "No poor people wanted here." And the discussion finally settled down to the opinion that there was but very little being done by the regular ministry for the toilers, especially in the rural districts where the preachers have to ride on horseback or go on foot to demonstrate that "the poor have the gospel preached unto them." It was generally conceded that the Salvation Army was more for the salvation of the poorer classes and laborers than all of the churches put together.

At the close of the services the president announced that on May 3 there will be a wiener roast for the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor society. The people will meet at the church at 7:30 p. m. and then repair to a suitable place on the bank of Butte creek and have a feast of good things. And that there will be a box social at the opera house on May 10th, where all of the discharged soldiers are requested to attend dressed in their uniforms. At that time the service flag will be presented. There are now quite a number of stars and the number will be increased to thirty. The presentation speech will be made by some one capable of interesting the audience. The soldier boys will be allowed to bring their "Dulcy dear," and he can have the choice of her box without competition, but the rest will have to bid up. Mrs. Julia Hockett of Ashland, is to sing. There will also be some short patriotic speeches made before the boxes are sold.
There will be a "Daniel Rally," May 17th in Ashland where representatives of the C. E. society will discuss topics of interest.
Born April 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Verbjek, a 9 1/2 pound boy.
Rollin Pettit, one of the discharged soldiers, was in town Monday.
Charles Seefield and wife and Mrs. Newstrom of Lake creek, drove in Monday and W. S. Bailey of Applegate also came in. Mr. Bailey is representing the Serplex Silo company. They were all three diners at the Sunnyside and Mr. Bailey went up as far as Lake creek canvassing for the silo.

Miss Hazel Knight, L. R. Norcross and wife and Miss Ailla Norcross of Central Point; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Maasdan, Mr. and Mrs. Matz, Gus the tailor and wife of Medford, C. M. Speck and wife of Medford, John Foster and John Sellar of Butte Falls, Frank Hazelton, Ethel Hazelton, Margaret Riley, Wm. Von der Hellen and family, Clarence Robinson and Miss Fay Perry and Glen Haley of Eagle Point.
Our C. E. Society met at the usual hour Sunday evening with Miss Pina Benedict leader, and Miss Vesta Grover at the organ. The subject, "Christianity and the Tollers of America." The singing was fine and the subject of the evening naturally led to a discussion of various topics. Among them was "The Right to Work," "Jesus and the Tollers." This topic naturally brought up the question as to the life of Christ with regard to labor and this subject was discussed to some length, showing the industrial habits of Jesus, especially after he was inducted into the priestly office by John the Baptist. Reference was made to his constant ministry among the poor and espe-

How High Will Meat Prices Go?

Swift & Company does not know whether prices will go higher or lower.

It depends upon country-wide and world conditions that Swift & Company cannot control and cannot foresee.

All the world needs meat, and only a small part of the world is raising live stock. So live stock is dear now, and meat prices must keep pace.

Competition will continue to keep the "spread" low so that the price you pay for meat will be as close as possible to what must be paid for live stock.

Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound, is no greater when prices are high than when they are low.

De Laval Cream Separators

Viewed from every angle, the DeLaval is distinctly in a class by itself. There is no wonder that the largest dairy-men and creamerymen who have for years made a careful study of dairy methods and machinery refuse to consider any other separator but the De Laval. Experience has proven—clean skimming, ease of operation, freedom from repairs, durability—there is no other cream separator that can compare with the De Laval.

However, we have a number of other new separators we will sell cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We offer the following at greatly reduced figures:

- 1 No. 33 Empire Separator
- 1 No. 34 Empire Separator
- 1 No. 35 Empire Separator
- 1 No. 2 Sharples Separator, Suction feed
- 1 No. 4 Sharples Separator, Suction feed
- 1 F. Vega Separator
- 1 G. Vega Separator

We will sell these machines on easy terms; better come an and let us talk it over with you. We can save you money on Separators.
