Some of the leading actresses with the "Green Stockings" company which plays at the Page tonight were seen at the depot this morning and from their appearance a perfectly stunning exhibition of style, beauty and brains is in store for the audience. The city has been combed over for the proper costumes to garb the feminine members of the company and a number of gowns well worth seeing have been donated to the high school seniors, including one from Mrs. Frank Owen and one from Mrs. Ben Sheldon. The latter contributed the dress which she wore in an amateur production of the same comedy several years ago in which she played the part of Celia. The curtain rises tonight at 8:30 prompt.

General regret and much concern was felt throughout the city today over the condition of George Andrews who is pronounced a very sick man, suffering with a partial stroke of paralysis. Mr. Andrews was taken suddenly ill at the Choral Society meeting last Tuesday night with what was then thought to be an attack of acute indigestion. The attending physician says that it will be several days yet before any prediction can be made as to the outcome.

As the time approaches for the big Southern Oregon Baby show in the park tomorrow afternoon interest among the women of the valley in the great event is increasing, and the number of entries are being added to hourly. It is confidently predicted that there will not be less than 300 babies. The show begins in the city park at 2 p. m. Fair weather is the prediction for Friday.

"These are a fine lot of athletic boys that I am taking along, but I don't expect them to win many points, chiefly on account of inexperience," said Coach Heidenreich at the depot this morning before boarding the train with the six high school students who will participate in the state interscholastic track and field meet at the U. of O. "But they will gain needed experience at this big meet and as they are all juniors next year we will look forward to big things from them. The past few months there has been a wonderful reawakening of the athletic spirit in the high school which augurs well for the future. We will have no baseball this year, but next year the school will go heavily into everything in the line of athletic sports."

A band of gypsies arrived from the south in the city yesterday afternoon in four motor cars which they parked beside the public market and the women, leaving a numerous and motley array of children of all ages in camp started out on the business street to tell fortunes and beg. It did not take Chief of Police Timothy long to round them all up and march them back to the autos where after he had made it plain that the party must move on out of the city or else go to jail. The entire mob loaded back into the cars and fast departed north.

HE'S IN ITALY TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Premier Orlando wired home to Italy to protect the American embassy and American interests in that country against any demonstration protesting the stand of President Wilson. Page is the American ambassador to Italy and unless recalled by the extreme action of a diplomatic break will look after the interests of the Americans.

Sheriff Terrill Wednesday afternoon on instructions from County Judge Gardner sent back in charge of the train crew a demented young Italian, whom he had taken in custody at Hornbrook, to his home city of San Francisco. The case is a pitiable one. The intelligent appearing and well dressed young man, who had plenty of money and was a former soldier, lost his mind thru a severe attack of the flu. He seems to be afraid of most everything. His relatives were apprised of his condition.
