Ye Smudge Pot

Care should be exercised by the masses and the classes, and not confuse Leonard Wood, the next president of the United States, with Dave Wood, the eminent British authority on military tactics, who fought and won the Battle of Ypres singlehanded.

The well liked Huns are wetting their hating whistles, and cursing their luck. Inasmuch as they will never amount to a continental whoop in the world again, one cannot blame them much for expressing violent sentiments.

THAT BARBERSHOP DISCORD

Partnership tribulations in the conduct of a barbershop are detailed at great length in a complaint filed by J. E. Putney of Gridley against his partner, H. G. Scott in the superior court. The two conduct Scott's Barber Shop in Gridley.

A LADY ERRS, BUT—

(Roseburg Review)

Dear Editor:

Please mail me a copy of your paper of May 9th, afternoon issue. I desire the account of my experience as a law-breaker. I thank you for the way you wrote me up, and as I only read the item but did not buy a paper, I wish you to send me one of the 9th. I enclose postage and the price of the paper. All I have to say in regard to my recent actions is that we never know why some people go and do wrong, but take it from me, there is a good reason, and not only because one gets "easy money," because money obtained in this wise is not so easy as it seems. Neither is it for the sport of the game of "putting one over" on the officers that so many people do these things. There is another and deeper reason for these acts, and each party has his or her own reason. I have mine I know.

Thanking you again, I beg to remain, Yours respectfully, MRS. C. KANTZ.

GERMANY MUST LEARN.

THE German people apparently have no better understanding of American sentiment at the end of the war, than the American people had of German sentiment at the beginning.

Dispatches from Berlin state that the German people believe America will never allow the provisions of the peace treaty to be put into effect. Instead of believing the peace terms are too severe the American people as a whole probably feel they are not severe enough.

The American people believe Germany responsible for starting the most terrible conflict in history. They also believe that the incredible cruelties and barbarities of the war were of German origin.

Any interpretation of the 14 points granting lenience to Germany, would be summarily repudiated on this side of the water. Germany complains she will suffer. The American people, believe she should suffer. They feel that the punishment should be so severe and so lasting, that the lesson in Germany will not be forgotten in this generation or any generation to come.

Germany humiliated and Germany broken is to the American mind essential to the future peace and security of the world. This attitude is not regarded as one of vindictiveness but of moral justification. In the parlance of the street, Germany is merely getting what was coming to her.

A soft peace, a sentimentally conciliatory peace, would to the American conception of the German nature, mean an unsatisfactory peace,—a peace that would allow the Prussian junker to parade the avenues once more, and proclaim his justification of force and frightfulness.

Germany apparently has learned little since 1914. America has learned a great deal. Germany may appeal to the sympathies of the "dreamy pacifists" across the Atlantic till Doomsday, but the game that worked in 1914 won't work today. Uncle Sam has his eyes open and has cut his baby teeth.

PROHIBITION WORKS.

THERE is little consolation for the anti-dry forces in the records of prohibition in American cities. A series of articles in Colliers deal in vital statistics regarding the actual effects of prohibition in the country to date. From the small rural communities to cities like Detroit the record is the same,—more money in the banks, higher profits in business, less crime, more productive labor and general satisfaction among the people. The laws have been evaded, bootleggers have thrived, but after all the records show these as mere incidents. As a system, according to the articles, prohibition has worked.

Query.—what has become of the party who promised to buy the P. and E. railroad if Medford raised $30,000?

WOMANS' CONFERENCE OPPOSES PEACE PACT

PARIS, May 14.—The peace conference today received from the Women's International conference for Permanent Peace at Zurich the resolution adopted yesterday by the conference denouncing the terms of peace with Germany. The resolution declares that the terms tacitly sanctioned secret diplomacy, deny the principles of self-determination, recognize the right of the victor to the spoils of war, and violate principles of justice. Rule of force, it is declared, is continued by the financial and economic clauses.

COMMUNICATION.

The Lament of a Taxpayer To the Editor: Please publish the following lament now that the last war drive is over. Some of your readers may like it:

I have your letter requesting a donation for, no doubt, what you consider a very worthy cause. I do not flatter myself when I say that I have been a high example of public spirit, loyalty and generosity. I have tributed to each and every cause and object that has been presented to me, but I shall have to decline helping your cause along for the following reasons:

I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, sat on, rolled under, rolled over, flattened out and squeezed. First by the government for war tax, the excess profit tax, the Liberty Loan bond, (the bonds of every kind and quality), taxes for the state, county and city taxes, the highway tax, auto tax, the lintax, and by every society or organization that the inventive minds of men can invent to extract what one may or may not possess.

From the Society of John the Baptist, the G. A. R., the Woman's Relief, the Men's Relief, the Stomach Relief, the Wifeless, the Husbandless, the Childless, the Motherless, the Nameless, the Conscienceless, the Navy League, the Red Cross, the Iron Cross, the Green Cross, the Double Cross, and every other cross of all colors, so one gets the cross at every turn, and gets cross in consequence, and I have contributed to the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and Y. R. Y. S., D. A. M., C. R. O. S. S., and Mean to give to the Children's Home, the Dorcas Society and every hospital in the town.

The government has so governed my business that I don't know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined, re-examined, informed, misinformed, required and commanded, until I don't know who I am, where I am, or why I am here.

All that I do know is that I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race and because I will not sell everything I have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I have been cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up, hung up, robbed, ravished and nearly ruined, and the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what in Hell is coming next. Yours sincerely, A TROUBLED TAXPAYER.

Treat 'Em Rough At the Page

There is something fascinating about a story of the western plains, and "Treat 'Em Rough," with Tom Mix in the stellar role, is said to be the best of all the cowboy stories screened. "Treat 'Em Rough," which will come to the Page theatre today, is the cinema version of Charles Alden Seltzer's famous novel, "The Two Gun Man." It is replete with action, romance, thrills and suspense.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, callow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 50c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"I'll Praise It the Longest Day I Live"

Mrs. Robbins Restored by Tanlac After Suffering Thirty Years.

"Talking about things that help people," said Mrs. P. H. Robbins of 1449 South 4th street, Omaha, Neb., in an interview recently. "Tanlac is doing more good than any medicine I have ever known in my time, and I'm now past sixty years of age. In 1889, nearly thirty years ago now," she continued, "when lagrippe came along and so many people were having it, I had an attack of it myself and have had it in some form or other from once to twice a year ever since. The first spell left me in a badly weakened condition and I would no sooner recover from one attack than I would be pulled down again. The doctors at that time called it 'rheumatic grippe' and I had aches and pains all through my body, in all my limbs and muscles. Three years ago I had one of these spells, which was so severe that they took me to the hospital, and I nearly died. I had the worse headaches it seems anyone could have and I was badly rundown and frightfully weak. I couldn't sleep well for all those thirty years. My appetite was poor, I lost twenty pounds in weight and just had to drag myself around. I was hardly ever without some kind of an ache or pain, and the past spring I was in such a bad fix that we couldn't keep house, so I went to my daughter's. My husband went to boarding and where he boarded he heard of a remarkable case like mine, that had been relieved by Tanlac.

"Then he went straight to Sherman & McConnell's drug store and got two bottles, one for me and one for himself, as he was in very bad health, too. Well, I showed some improvement on the first bottle and kept on getting better slowly. My appetite came gradually, and my strength came back a little each day. My aches and pains wore away and I got to sleeping better. When we would see one bottle getting low we would hurry to get another and since I finished my sixth bottle I'm feeling better and more like myself than I have in years. With all the sickness and 'flu' epidemic that's going over the country I'm feeling stronger and better than I ever did. We are keeping house again now, and I eat well, sleep well, do all my housework and feel fine all the time. I am taking Tanlac with the Tanlac Tablets again now to keep in shape for the winter. It certainly is a blessing to humanity and has done so much for my husband and me that I will praise it the longest day I live."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. D. Bowers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mee, in Ashland by J. J. McNair, in Eagle Point by Von der Hellen. Adv.
