PORTIA OF THE STAGE WINS CASE IN COURT

Miss Jessie Nagle is an actress. But she is a lawyer, too. She is the daughter of an Oklahoma judge and a law graduate of Kansas state university. So when she was playing in a Chicago theater and became interested in the case of a mother with two small wayward children, she doffed the butterfly garments of the stage and donned the garb of a Portia. And so ably did she defend the woman accused of contributing to the delinquency of her children that the mother was put on probation for a year and given a chance to teach the children to mind.

CHOOSE LANDING SITES FOR FLYING CIRCUS

Colonel Lewis P. Campbell, John F. Risley, Lieutenant L. R. Mullineaux and Lieutenant S. T. French were in Medford today making arrangements for the flying circus which will perform here as a preliminary feature to the Portland Victory Rose Festival, June 11th, 12th, 13th. The two lieutenants are flying veterans who saw active service in the war and they were taken about the valley by H. L. Walther and J. W. Dressler to select a landing field. Colonel Campbell urged that Medford and Jackson county be represented in the Goddess of Victory parade which will be held the first day. Every community in the state is invited to participate a feature being the war record of the community on the car. Will Steel, secretary of the Commercial club, took the visitors around town and assisted them in arousing local interest. A number of Medford people plan to attend the festival which will undoubtedly be the greatest of the kind ever held in the state.
