Somehow the agitation to suppress flirring reminds one of the old lady who attempted to sweep back the sea with a broom, and the dog that barked at the moon. Legislating the emotions is a ticklish job, and no doubt the zealous souls having the agitation in hand have made wise provision for the pruning and spraying of all budding romances.

Now that aeroplanes for pleasure are for sale, the following item is liable to appear any day: Nose Barkdull while at an elevation of 2000 feet, Tuesday morning, hit an air pocket and was forced to land on the Medford hotel roof.

Though the 1920 campaign has not started, the Democratic National chairman is howling louder about "abuse" than the Italians did about Plume. "The Democratic party has been abused," he sobs, probably having a well defined hunch that the worst is yet to come.

What has become of the old fashioned street sweeper that used to sweep the streets every night? The fact has just been discovered that Germany knew no poets during the last 25 years. Having no poets they died. Neither did Babylon, or whatever town it was that grew so fast, and died so quick.

Next to the Armenians, and ahead of the Poles, are the Jews of Europe, who have been starving or on the verge of starvation for years. When they are fed, the Russians and the Poles start massacring them.

Personal: A. B. Black, an entomologist on the O. A. C. staff, arrived here Sunday, and with County Agent Gate will put on demonstrations in several places of how to control the peach root borer with various tree coverings.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS: For over thirty years they have faithfully and successfully served the people in all lands.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

THERE is something almost suspicious about tomorrow's election. As far as any public expression is concerned, there is no opposition.

The state newspapers are unanimous for the program. The only difference of opinion, we have observed, is concerning the creation of lieutenant governor, a relatively unimportant measure, and a majority of the newspapers are in favor of that.

Governor Oleott, who has the reputation of being a rather discriminating business man, has endorsed every item. The state grange has given its O. K. to each and every measure, excepting the lieutenant governorship upon which it took no action.

Nevertheless we expect to see an appreciable array of negative votes on election day. The habit of voting against anything that costs money is too deeply engrained in the electorate to be completely discarded at a moment's notice.

There is, however a strong feeling of optimism throughout the state. With the close of the war and the resumption of normal trade, there has been a revival of confidence and ambition, in all quarters. The people of Oregon as a whole feel an era of prosperity is at hand, and that now is the time to get ready for it.

The measures have been explained and previously endorsed in the columns of this paper. In our opinion no one will make a mistake in voting "yes" all along the line. The reconstruction bill itself, providing a state bond issue limited at $5,000,000, contains projects of somewhat unequal merit.

The present penitentiary is a fire trap, an unsanitary survival of barbarism, a disgrace to the state. While the inmates may deserve little consideration, the state itself can not continue the present quarters and maintain its self respect. Moreover with this item as with every other, Governor Oleott has publicly pledged himself to appropriate no part of this $5,000,000 unless a non-employment crisis actually exists, and then to appropriate only that proportion which circumstances demand.

WAR AWAKENED WORLD GENEROSITY IN MARKED DEGREE: NEW YORK, June 2.—Indications of the world-wide generosity awakened by the war is given by preliminary reports of the British and American Red Cross, Young Men's Christian Association, the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, and similar organizations which, during the past four years, have done service in alleviating distress and which are now taking part in the work of reconstruction.

"Nobody Home"

It was early morning in the capitol of the greatest autocracy in the world. The distinguished stranger deferentially addressed the clerk of the works.

"Is the president in?" "No, sir. He's addressing the labor delegates of Manchuria."

"Can I see the secretary of state?" "Touring the Andes in a government-owned flyover."

"Perchance I may have conferred with the secretary of war?" "He's attending a Sunday-school convention in Upper Siberia."

"Oh, well, pass my card in to the secretary of the navy." "Organizing a malted-milk awning bee in Korea."

"Any other member of the cabinet will do. I will even see a senator or a congressman." "All scattered. Nobody home."

The distinguished stranger worked himself into another angle of acute interrogation.

"Excuse me, sir," he said. "Did I hear you say that there was nobody home?"

"Yes, sir." "And that reminds me." "Of what, sir?"

"Just an echo—a fleeting phrase—'Nobody home.' It reminds me, sir, of the early spring of the year 1919."—Life.

tion and the Salvation Army when the "United War Work Drive" was undertaken last winter. The subscriptions aggregated more than $200,000,000.

Colorado Man Tells How He Ended Trouble

"Tanlac certainly helped me and I hope my experience with this medicine will encourage others to try it," said Antonio Lopez, who lives at Delta, Colo.

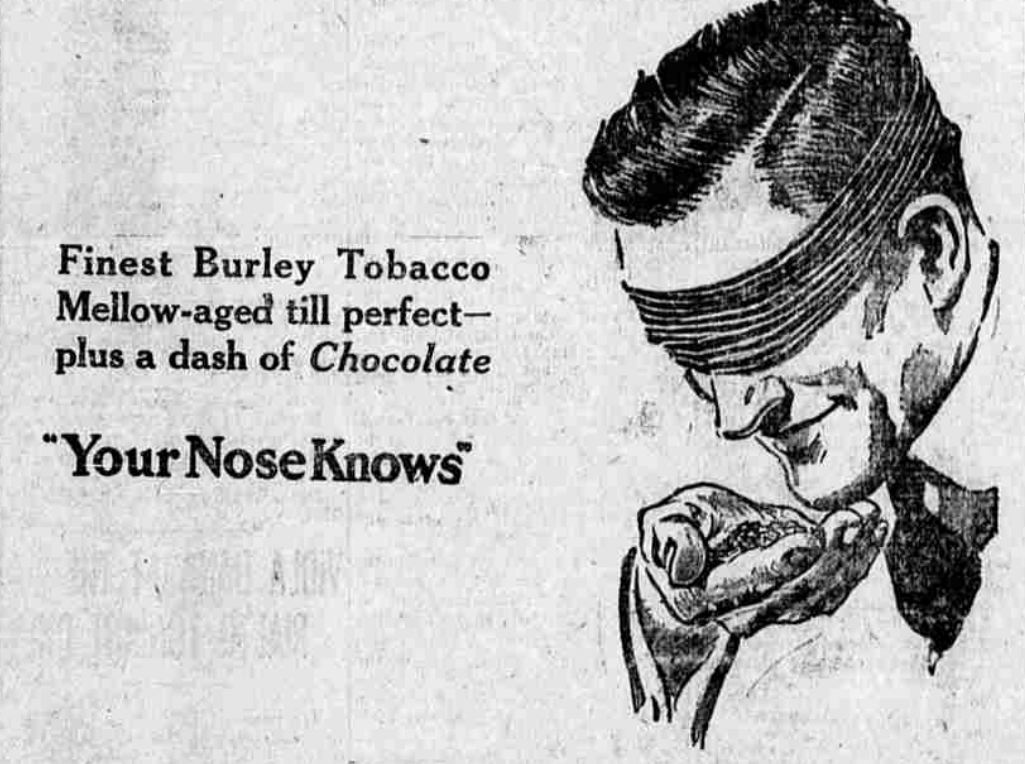

"I was a sick man for twenty-five years," continued Mr. Lopez, "and my stomach was in such a bad fix that for the last five years I wasn't able to eat any supper at all, and any kind of fruits or vegetables would cramp me so awfully that I never would touch them and I was simply miserable most all the time from the gas on my stomach. I lost considerable weight and at the time I started taking Tanlac I weighed only a hundred and thirty-eight pounds."

"The few bottles of Tanlac I have taken built me up wonderfully and I actually gained ten pounds on my first three bottles. My stomach is in such fine condition that I can eat anything, including fruits and vegetables, without the slightest pain or trouble from gas, and I can eat as hearty a supper now as anybody and enjoy every mouthful, too."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. D. Bowers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mee, in Ashland by East Side Pharmacy, in Eagle Point by Von der Hellen.
