The Willard-Dempsey championship bout on the glorious Fourth, is creating about as much interest locally as the question of self determination for the Ukranians.

EARLY SESSIONS FOR CONGRESS.

NEARLY everybody recognizes the absurdity of a system which postpones the assembling of congress until thirteen months after election, and which therefore makes it necessary to call an "extra session" at a time like this, when there is a legislative emergency.

There is a measure now proposed to accomplish this reform. It would provide for the first meeting of a new congress on March 5, following its election, instead of waiting until the first Monday in December.

It might be well to go still further. Why should any congressman who is defeated early in November continue in office longer than the end of the year?

California launches a presidential boom for Senator Hiram Johnson on Saturday, June 14th. When Hiram goes to New York we trust he will shake hands with Attorney Charles E. Hughes.

Senator Jones says what they need in congress is more time for consideration. This would be easy if they would spend less time playing politics.

The aviators will be here next Monday according to the present schedule. When the fire whistle blows get busy with your binoculars.

The telegraph system is turned over to the private owners just in time for them to settle a nice little walk-out.

The Germans may like the 14 points but they say very little about the fifteenth, known as the march to Berlin.

Our advice to presidential candidates is to look wise and keep their mouths shut.

Significance of Oregon Payrolls

Who is it that may sit back and say to himself—"Payrolls in Oregon don't mean anything to me?"

Is it the salesman selling Oregon products? Is it the salesman selling a jobber's line?

Is it the property owner, or the storekeeper, or the professional man, or even the undertaker, who is last in the line to grab us?

No one, as a matter of truth, but who is affected directly or indirectly by industries in the community.

Oregon has as great potential possibilities in manufacturing as any state.

Our raw materials and undeveloped water power are almost beyond calculation in dollars and cents.

Even now we have far more to point to with pride and even boastful attitude.

What western state equals us in furniture? None. What western state in woolen manufacture? None.

What western state in candy, macaroni and crackers? None. And our stove foundries and paper mills! flour and cereal mills.

The largest broom factory west of the Mississippi is in Oregon. The greatest jam and jelly plant in the west is in this state of Oregon.

The only worsted yarn mill west of Ohio is in Oregon.

Our clothing manufacturers are setting a pace that will soon make us outrank all western states.

The largest copper-smith plant in the United States is in Oregon.

Ice cream cones and the machinery were invented and made in Oregon first.

These constitute a brief summary of leading lines in which Oregon excels. There are many other things in which this state easily equals any western commonwealth.

Our successful manufacturers do not undertake to get business on the basis of sympathy, sobs or subsidies.

But upon the sound foundation of quality, service and price.

It is true that if our factories are given stronger support in their home territory.

It will enable them to make longer reaches into new fields and bring additional wealth to Oregon for distribution into all lines.

Because the payroll money, distributed to employees, goes to maintain more homes, schools, churches, libraries, amusements; property values are increased, population is increased and tax rates are lessened.

Other things being equal, preference ought to be shown the products of Oregon's factories.

WIRES NOT YET RETURNED SAYS MR. BURLESON

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Mr. Burleson today sent to Chairman Cummins a letter declaring that his order yesterday had been misconstrued; that he had not turned back the wires to private ownership and that no such action was contemplated.

Mr. Burleson's letter follows: "An order issued by me yesterday relative to the operation of the telegraph and telephone system had been construed by some as actual return of the properties to the owners.

No such action has been taken by me nor is any contemplated.

This order simply dissolves the operating board appointed by me under date of December 13, 1918, and directs that the systems again be operated by the regular operating officials under government supervision.

Responsibility of the government to these systems in no wise ceases. It being evident that these properties are to be returned in the very near future, it was necessary for the postmaster general to take steps immediately to set up the regular operating organization of the companies so that when the properties are turned back it can be done without confusion or interruption to the service which was the purpose of the order.

This order in no wise affects the legislation pending before your committee or before congress. It will enable the companies to begin steps immediately to prepare the data and collect their information to be submitted to the state commissions for the rate cases, which will probably be taken up immediately after the period of government control ends."

PAVILION DANCE

Another of the season's popular open air dances that have attracted such large crowds, will be given in the Gold Hill pavilion for the delectation of the dancing public on the finest floor in southern Oregon with the best music, Roberts orchestra of Medford. You are cordially invited to attend and enjoy the biggest and best dance given so far this season.

OREGON NAT'L GUARD ORDERED TO FORM DOZEN COMPANIES

PORTLAND, June 6.—Major A. A. Hall, acting adjutant-general of Oregon, yesterday was authorized by the war department to organize at once a regiment of the national guard which was formed as the Third regiment of infantry on the orders of Adjutant General May on May 23.

In an earlier order authorization of but one battalion of infantry in Oregon was made. The new order is in accordance with the desire of officers, under the national guard plan, to make the peace strength enlistment 65 men in regiments composed of 12 companies.

Oregon is one of the first states to have its guard ready to be inducted into the service under the federal and state plan. Major Hall said today that the new equipment will include tents, uniforms and arms valued at $200,000.

Under the new law the officers will get moderate salaries from the war department and the monthly distribution will average about $500 for each company. Regimental headquarters, machine gun and supply companies and the four companies of the second battalion are located at Portland. The first battalion headquarters and one company are at Eugene, with the other three companies at Ashland, Marshfield and Medford. The third battalion headquarters and one company are at Salem, with the others at Independence, McMinnville and Silverton.
