The precipitation from the several showers of last night and this morning amounted to only .05 of an inch in Medford and vicinity and was of no great benefit to the growing crops and gardens except to keep down evaporation where the ground had been fringed, but in the foothills country and at Ashland, Rogue River and Grants Pass the rainfall was more copious and was of much benefit to the crops. Here, however, there was hardly enough rain, according to County Agent Cate to lay the dust.

The May Co.'s Annual Clearance

Saturday and All Next Week of Spring and Summer Merchandise

SUITS, COATS, DRESSES, SKIRTS, CORSETS, BRASSIERES, COLLARS, KID GLOVES, COTTON UNDERWEAR

The annual clearance sale has demonstrated the fact that the idea of carrying nothing over is a correct one and is appreciated by the buying public. The customers are pleased, we are satisfied and customers next season will know that they are getting absolutely fresh stocks.

The women are the buyers for the family and they know bargains and values. Our long experience in dealing with ladies' wear only has taught us that they know and appreciate values and square dealing and we have made an earnest effort always to describe things exactly as they are and to carry only materials that are worth while.
