

WARNS FISH MEN OF DANGER TO COAST INDUSTRY

PASADENA, Cal., June 20.—A warning was uttered here today by Professor John N. Cobb, director of the College of Fisheries at the University of Washington, Seattle, with respect to the fishing industry of the North Pacific. In an address before the Western Society of Naturalists at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, he said:

"A word of caution should be uttered here. A few of our fisheries are at present in a declining condition, and the danger is that if the investigation falls into the wrong hands and a very ambitious scheme is followed, the patient may die before the doctors have satisfied themselves that he is really sick. A complete life history of every commercial species would be an excellent thing to have, but knowing so well the difficulty experienced in securing adequate funds from the federal and state governments for carrying on scientific work, we had better be satisfied at first with restricting our endeavors to the obtaining of the essential and vital facts upon which to base our measures for conserving and perpetuating the fisheries, rather than dissipate our energies and funds in striving after the unattainable, or for something that would take years to complete.

"An important thing is to determine the rate of progress of salmon when on their way to the spawning ground. Were this known for each species it would be a comparatively easy matter to assure a clear passage for a school of fish from the mouth of the river to the spawning beds in the upper reaches by the use of a progressive closed season.

GERMANS WILL SIGN

Although he did not state what conditions were meant, it is believed that they will be in the form of demands upon the entente the granting or refusal of which would not hinder the signing of the treaty.

PARIS, June 20.—The council of three, composed of Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau and President Wilson, met this afternoon and it is announced, discussed the German situation and the Italian cabinet crisis.

WEIMAR, June 20.—Six members of the cabinet, it is said, declared in a cabinet meeting for an absolute rejection of the peace terms. The ministers were said to have been Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, Herr Lansberg, Herr Giesberg, Dr. Dernburg, Herr Preuss and Herr Gothein.

PARIS, June 20.—All reports concerning changes in the German cabinet are premature, says an official German wireless message sent from Nauen at one o'clock this afternoon. The message adds that the national assembly failed to get a majority of its members to favor signing the peace terms.

The text of the message reads: "The national assembly at Weimar tried to constitute a majority in favor of signing the peace treaty. That was impossible because of the division among the parties.

"All news regarding changes in the cabinet is premature."

LONDON, June 20.—The signing of the peace treaty by Germany, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen quoting advices from Weimar says, is as certain as if the signatures had already been put to the document.

Noske Reported Premier
COBLENZ, June 20.—(By Associated Press.) Gustav Noske, the minister of defense, will succeed Philipp Scheidemann as head of the German ministry, according to a Weimar dispatch received here today. Matthias Erzberger of the German armistice commission, will succeed Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau as head of the German peace delegation, the message adds.

LONDON, June 20.—The German national assembly at Weimar has accepted the peace treaty, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris.

If the national assembly at Weimar has taken the action reported in the foregoing agency dispatch, it has passed upon the peace treaty a day earlier than the last direct advices from Germany had indicated.

WEIMAR, June 20.—(Via Copenhagen.) The cabinet, although it has resigned, will continue in office temporarily until President Ebert has been able to form a new one.

New Government Will Sign
PARIS, June 20.—The Scheidemann government in Germany has fallen, it was learned here today. News of the event, reported during the morning was confirmed later by military advices through Coblenz from both Weimar and Berlin.

The downfall of the Scheidemann government was made known to the American delegation to the peace conference. It is believed to assure the signing of the peace treaty by Germany, as Philipp Scheidemann, the premier, was understood to be the chief opponent to acceptance of the revised peace terms.

The early reports stated that Gustav Noske, the minister of defense, was forming a cabinet to succeed the outgoing government.

Cabinet Was Split
Previous advices had indicated that four members of the Scheidemann cabinet were insisting upon the signing of the treaty, and it is presumed here that this caused the fall of the ministry.

It is understood here that the fall of the Scheidemann government entails the fall also of President Ebert. The national assembly probably will take measures to select a successor to Herr Ebert.

French official information on the German situation is to the same general effect as that received by the American delegation, namely, that the Scheidemann-Ebert regime has collapsed. The French advices carry the impression that the national assembly is favorable to the signing of the treaty.

Foch Is Ready
Meanwhile, the allied forces are prepared for Germany's refusal of the peace treaty.

Marshal Foch will be in command on a front extending from the Rhine to the Danube. Swiss advices say that Italian forces have begun to occupy Vorarlberg, in the extreme western part of Austria, in anticipation of a refusal on the part of either Germany or Austria to meet the allied terms. Switzerland, in the meantime, is prepared to maintain her neutrality having called out troops to guard her northern frontier.

NARROW ESCAPE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

H. H. Calhoun and Mrs. J. W. Kirkpatrick and baby had a narrow escape this morning when they started to drive to Prospect. About eight miles this side of Prospect they stopped and got out of the car. After resting for a time Mrs. Kirkpatrick and the baby got back in the car and Mr. Calhoun started to back the car to turn around and backed off a high embankment. The car rolled for about 50 feet, lodged in a tree and Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Calhoun rolled out of the car. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was uninjured but fainted. Mr. Calhoun had his face and hands cut some but was not seriously hurt. The baby remained in the car and was uninjured. Mrs. Calhoun was not in the car at the time of the accident.

The car was badly smashed. Mrs. Kirkpatrick and baby and Mr. Calhoun returned home today. Mr. Calhoun remained to recover the car.

great destroyed plant of Charleroi, though most of the chimneys were smokeless, the whole region seemed like so many regions I am familiar with in my own country, and if the air had only been full of smoke I should have felt entirely at home. The air was too clear to be natural in such a region, and yet I had the feeling that smoke was going to come in its old abundance from those chimneys and the world of industry was once more going to feel the pulse of Belgium, that vital pulse which no discouragement can restrain.

"So it is with a heart full of genuine sympathy, of comradeship and of friendship that I beg to drink to your health, sir, and the queen's and the long and abounding prosperity of the kingdom over which you preside."

Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. VON BUELOW TO RETURN SOON TO VILLA OF ROSES

ROME, June 20.—Prince Von Buelow's house on the Pincian hill known as the "Villa of a thousand kinds of roses," is ready awaiting the return of the German diplomat. The villa was called by its present name because of the lavish profusion, both in number and variety, of the roses climbing the walls and studded everywhere in the garden.

They are blooming now and present a magnificent appearance. There are types of roses among the collection probably unknown in America. There is the celebrated Italian orange rose in abundant quantities. There are roses of mixed colors chief among them being the "rosa novita," a rose of rich red changing gradually to a pronounced orange and yellow. There are multitudes of red, white, pink and yellow roses. They fill the garden, giving it an artistic appearance and filling the atmosphere for blocks away with their sweet smelling aroma.

The gardener is still at work in the Von Buelow villa. When his work of attending to the tender plants is through for the day, he sits near the big high gate at the entrance in an attitude of expectancy, wondering how long the arrival of peace will detain his master, who has expressed in a recent interview his desire to return to Italy to see his roses.

Minister Thankful

"I had stomach trouble for nearly 25 years, also constipation which filled my system with gas and fever. I could not do my work, and while I was down sick a lady from our town sent me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy which proved truly wonderful. I believe it is the best medicine on earth." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere. Adv.

the southwestern and northern corners which were awarded unconditionally to Czechoslovakia and Poland respectively. The plebiscite must be held between the sixth and eighteen months after the signing of the peace treaty. The same conditions as regards the retirement of German armies and officials and the disbandment of workmen's soviet, which were included in the Schleswig-Holstein and East Prussian plebiscite provisions are found in that affecting Silesia.

A significant article of the treaty prohibits political prosecutions by either the Polish or German governments for any activities during the plebiscite in Silesia.
