

GREAT FUN HAD AT HIGH SCHOOL CLASS EXERCISES

There was a large crowd, which packed the high school auditorium and hallways, and fun galore at the annual class day exercises last night. It was the happiest occasion of commencement week and the laughter was almost continuous. The members of the graduating class proved themselves good entertainers with their novel stunts and clever wit and satire. With the refreshing assurance of youth they did not spare the faculty members and their keen shafts of humor, sparing not even the superintendent of schools, calling attention to their hobbies and follies as shown in the daily school life. Of course they were unmerciful to each other.

Especially was the fun fast and furious during the class prophecy which was given by Marjorie Myers and Edith Kubl, assisted of course by the other members of the class, who discussed the future of each senior ten years hence. For this event the girls all appeared in masculine costume and the boys in feminine garb.

As the prediction was uttered for each class member as to what he or she would be doing ten years hence, that individual appeared on the stage in the predicted character. Probably the funniest features of this funny event were the characterizations of Josephine Koppes and "Pat" Leonard.

"And what has become of Jo Koppes?" asked Marjorie Myers of Edith Kubl. "She is the superintendent of the Medford schools," and is making good," was the reply. Then Miss Koppes walked out on the stage dressed in one of Superintendent Davenport's suits of clothes and impersonating the superintendent addressed the audience, using all his favorite expressions and mannerisms while the high school body nearly went into convulsions of laughter, as did the usually dignified head of the schools who occupied a prominent seat in the assemblage.

This laughter was repeated as hard, if not harder, when the prediction was made that "Pat" Leonard was a scrub lady and the elongated and excessively thin member of the numerous and famous Leonard brothers walked out in a scrub woman's costume. He made the most ridiculous appearance imaginable.

The program published in the Mail Tribune of Tuesday for the class day exercises was not a correct one, thru an error in accidentally furnishing this paper with a copy of the original program outlined some time ago, but which was materially changed afterwards. The correct program follows:

- Welcome, Merritt Perry.
- Piano solo, Marie Obenchain.
- Class history, Josephine Koppes.
- Class poem, Marjorie Myers.
- Presentation of memorial, Sharon Merriman.
- Vocal solo.
- Class will, Marie Myers.
- Class prophecy, Marjorie Myers and Edith Kubl.
- Class song, class of '19.
- Class yell, class of '19.

ARMY FRENCH BRIDES SOME WITH MOTHERS LEAVE FOR STATES

PARIS, June 15.—(Correspondence of Associated Press.) Passport officers at the American embassy are working night and day providing papers to French brides of American soldiers who are about to leave for the United States.

Many of the brides are accompanied by their khaki-clad husbands, some bring their mothers with them, and many are alone. In the daily queue at the embassy are French girls and from nearly all the provinces. There are large girls and small girls, beautiful girls and plain girls, simple country girls, unassumingly gowned, and girls in the rakish hats and short skirts of the boulevards.

Nearly all the brides speak some English, far more English usually than the French their husbands have acquired.

COUNTESS RADA OF HUNGARY IS A SCRUB WOMAN

VIENNA.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Conditions in Budapest and the surrounding country under the fantastic government of Bela Kun and his soviet are grotesque. It has just become known that Countess Rada is scrambling stairways in one of the city prisons. Count Julius Szechenyi, aged 90, formerly master of the kings horse, is one of those who has incurred the displeasure of the ruling forces. In spite of his age, he has been forcibly removed from his home and imprisoned. What disposition will be made of him is not likely to reach the public until it has been ordered and executed.

Every room in the handsome marble palace of Count Louis Karolyi, the former Austrian ambassador to London, is occupied by some one of the vaunted proletariat, with such results as might be expected. Stove pipes stick from the lace curtained windows, and the silk covered walls are smoky, grimy and greasy. Protective covers have been torn from rich divans and handsome chairs to be used for dishrags. Costly bronzes, chipped and mutilated, are being used as playthings by the proletariat children.

It is the same in the handsome residence of Count Andrassy next door, where squalor and dirt are rapidly replacing the magnificence and polish of a happier day.

Day by day comes the news of increasing violence on the part of those who are in power. The latest instances have to do with Ludwig Navvy, former president of the Hungarian parliament. He was seized at his country home and while being taken into Budapest, was taken from the train and shot to death by the Red Guard, who gave as an excuse that he was trying to escape.

Mrs. John Grieve arrived home Monday from a visit at Kansas City since Feb. 1st. Her daughter, Mrs. M. P. Welch, accompanied her to there and back.

TOSSES BURNING MATCH ONE SIDE; BARN IS BURNED

After delivering loads of hay and straw and storing them away in the barn at the place on South Plum street leased by Gordon Stout and owned by Coby Ossenbrugg, the driver lit a cigarette, tossed the burning match to one side, and a short time later the barn and contents were a burned mass of ruins.

This fire occurred at about 5:20 p. m. Tuesday and the barn was all in flames when the fire department was summoned. Flying sparks ignited the roof of the house which was badly damaged before the fire there was extinguished. The firemen cut a hole in the roof and put out the flames with the chemical apparatus. Neither Mr. Ossenbrugg's loss nor that of Mr. Stout could be learned today.

The fire department was called out again at 10 o'clock last night by a grass fire on South Oakdale street which did no damage. Chief Lawton again warns the public to be careful about throwing matches away close to dry grass plots and lots as on account of the excessive dryness the grass and weeds are quick to ignite from a spark and such a fire spreads very fast.

ORIENT LINER'S DRUG CARGO WORTH $200,000

SEATTLE, June 23.—Federal customs officials, it became known today, while searching the Blue Funnel liner Cyclops Saturday, found opium and cocaine, said to be worth over $200,000. The liner arrived here Saturday from the Orient. Efforts were being made today to find the smugglers who attempted to bring the drugs into this country. Officers said the seizure was the largest of its kind ever made in the United States.

I've found out says Bobby that POST TOASTIES (made of corn) have got a lot of nourishment in them. And the flavor beats everything!

ATTEMPT TO ROB 'CITIZENS BANK AT ASHLAND FAILS

Bank burglars attempted to operate in Ashland last night but were frightened away. It was the first attempt to rob a bank in the Rogue River valley section for years.

At 10:30 p. m. the business section of Ashland was alarmed to hear the bell song of the automatic burglar alarm system with which the Citizens bank is equipped and which

MEDICINES USED BY MONKS.

It is claimed that Monks of ancient days knew of more than three hundred species of medicinal plants used in general for medicines by these religious orders. While centuries have passed with all the advance made in medical science, many of our most successful remedies are today made from the roots and herbs of the field, like the good, old-fashioned remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women from some of the worst forms of female ills, and is now considered the standard remedy.

is similar to the system in use by the Farmers and Fruitgrowers bank of this city, ringing loudly. A number of citizens responded to the alarm and gathered outside the bank.

When the bank officials arrived and made an examination it was disclosed where a burglar or burglars had been at work on the vault door trying to effect an entrance when the protective system began sounding the bell, which caused them to make lightning movements in getting away. They hurriedly raised a window, jumped outside and made their getaway before any one appeared.
