

POULTRY SHOW
DRAWS CROWD'S
M.F.H. BUILDING

The annual Heart of the Pacific poultry show of the Southern Oregon association is now on. The doors of the big exhibition were opened at 10 a. m. today with everything in readiness, and the large corner room of the M. F. & H. building will be the mecca of hundreds of Medford and valley people during the next four days.

There was a good attendance today for a first day, and the attendance tonight is expected to be large to see the many feathered aristocrats and the fine bred bunnies. The rabbit feature, which has been in charge of Bliss Meine, is exceptionally large, and the children will be especially interested in this part of the show. One large rabbit weighs 15 pounds.

There are exhibits from as far as 100 miles. A big feature of the show is the exhibition of the various breeds of chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks, and guinea fow. The children will be especially interested in this part of the show. One large rabbit weighs 15 pounds.
