

ASHLAND COLLEGE STUDENTS RETURN AFTER HOLIDAYS

ASHLAND, Jan. 9.—After the homecoming for the holidays, local students and teachers are returning to their respective assignments, not only within Oregon, but outside of state boundaries. Gertrude Engle and Miss Wagner are at Berkeley; Kenneth Lilly, Leland Stanford; Ora Patrick, Palo Alto; Bernice Nevel and Hazel Pennell, Cambria; Frances McWilliams, Oakland. Others are also slated for California appointments either as teachers or students. Raymond Radger, Bert Freeman, Ernest Abbott, Elwood Hesberg and others remain at Corvallis. Madeline Sitzer is teaching at Cottage Grove, Edith Moody and Nola Kent at Roseburg, Nellie Beaver at Gold Hill.

Local clergy are well represented among newly elected officers of the Rogue River Valley Ministerial association lately in session at Medford. Rev. C. E. Kohler, of the Presbyterian church, is president, and Rev. W. E. Bean, of the Christian church, secretary treasurer. Rev. J. W. Hoyt, state Sunday school missionary and Rev. D. J. Gillanders, pastor of the Congregational church, also attended the associational conference.

The 13th, proverbially unlucky day, sustained its reputation in December hereabouts, with a temperature one degree minus on the morning of that date, a record positively "unusual" in this latitude. Amends were made later on, however, when the temperature registered a balmy one of 62 plus on the 24th. The rainfall was 3.53 inches, and the snowfall 17.8 inches, 12 inches of which precipitation was "on the level" as a maximum on any given date. Clear days numbered 12, while those either cloudy or in the semi-classification were 19.

The Ideal grocery has added George McConnell to its list of clerks, additional help which is familiar with the old surroundings.

It is reported that H. G. Eastman, local deputy postmaster for several years past, has resigned to accept a higher position in the service, and will be transferred in government employment to Modesto, Calif., a thriving city in the central portion of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Hastings, newlyweds, have returned to Ashland. Jean will work in the Hotel Austin barber-shop, and his wife will resume a former position in the creamery temporarily.

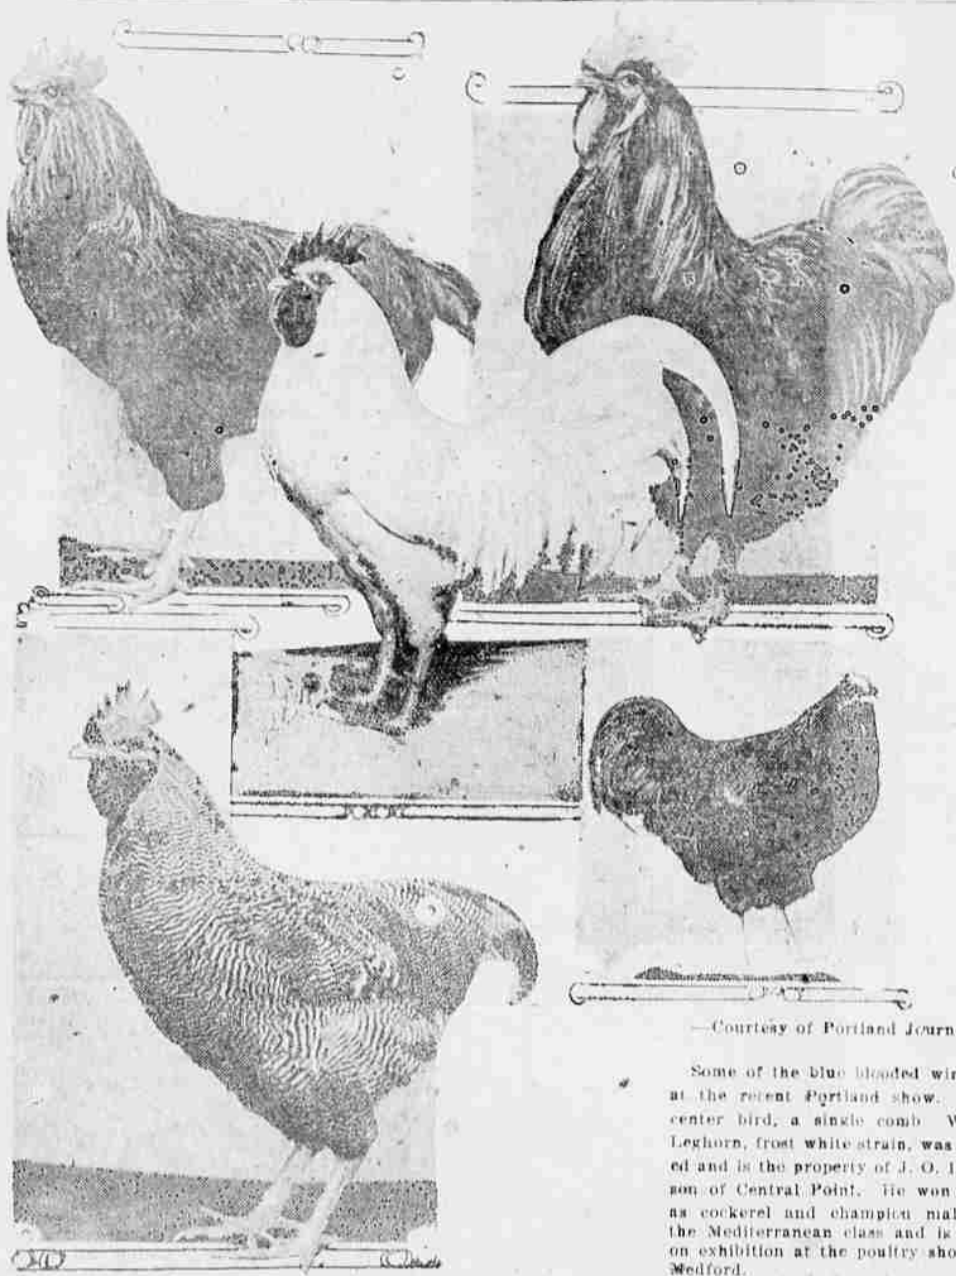

Assistance is being solicited in behalf of the Clarence Prescott family, the husband and father having been victim of the fatal auto accident here recently. The widow is ill and the family needs help to a greater extent than private bounty can bestow. Melvin Kaegi, driver of the auto, has been haled into justice's court for a hearing in connection with the tragedy, but the case was dismissed. It is understood that the Kaegi family will assume expenses of the Prescott funeral.

Ward Hammond and Slade Souger have decided to abandon higher educational pursuits at college, and have gone to Portland to take a course in practical mechanics along the lines afforded by experts in a leading auto school of that city. Charley Moore is also in the city posting up on auto track driving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Shepherd's California address is now at Ocean Park, where the local colony is so numerous during the winter vacation season that one of its principal streets is named Ashland avenue, the family being domiciled at No. 115 on that thoroughfare.

Mrs. Rebecca Finley, former resident here, and mother of Irving Finley and Mrs. B. E. Whitmore, also Ashland residents some time ago, died recently at Long Beach, Cal., the present family home, and was buried there. She was the wife of Ezra Finley, a native of Illinois, and was 78 years of age.

Some of the blue blooded winners at the recent Portland show. The center bird, a single comb White Leghorn, frost white strain, was raised and is the property of J. O. Isaacson of Central Point. He won first as cockerel and champion male in the Mediterranean class and is now on exhibition at the poultry show in Medford.

January 7, were held on Thursday at Stock's parlors, interment being in Mountain View cemetery. Deceased was a native of Missouri, 62 years of age, and was lessee of the Potter rooming house, a large apartment establishment on Fourth street.

The Ashland Hotel has a new landlord and landlady in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Norris, who years ago concluded the Vendome, and who have returned to Ashland from San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Cornelius have returned from their trip to Texas, and now the head of the family is helping solve the fuel problem by directing the force of the ax against a number of unsightly weeping willow trees in the vicinity of the Nat. with Ed Shaw as chief woodchopper.

The police department in its annual statement for 1919, reports expenses of the office to have been $3,288.75. Arrests during the year numbered 73, and fines as assessed by the newly created city court aggregated $734.45, this sum proving to be quite an item of revenue in the municipal budget. The city pound does not pay as well financially, but the introduction of its humane phases is commendable. Its upkeep cost $237.63, with revenue of sales, mostly under animal "foreclosure," netted $213.51.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Spencer, of Eugene, have been here visiting relations and friends during the holidays, and have been the recipients of a number of social events given in their honor, notably a dinner tendered the visitors by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Elhart.

George Blake, of Portland, who has been visiting his brother, Dr. W. E. Blake, leaves this week for San Francisco, to join his wife and daughter, who chose the ocean route from the Rose City to the Golden Gate. The family car preceded them. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hodges of Albany, also visited Dr. Blake's family lately, Mrs. Hodges being a sister of the doctor. They have gone to San Francisco, and with the brother's family will tour California until they decide upon some location in the sunny southland in which to locate permanently.

In the divorce courts, as applying to local parties, the suit of Mrs. Benton Bowers has been decided against her application, and the case of H. B. Moore has been dismissed.

Boy Scouts included in Troop 2 no notified to meet in the Presbyterian church, Saturday, January 10, 7:30 p. m. for examination as to physical and other requirements.

The meetings at the Free Methodist church will continue all this week. Rev. J. W. Glazier gave a stirring message to the church Sabbath morning. These services have been one of interest and power from the beginning and as much as we would have liked to joined our forces to the week of prayer conducted by the ministerial association we did not know of this meeting as the secretary of the ministerial association did not notify us so we could make our plans but as a pastor of one of the churches of Ashland I am in harmony with the other pastors and our prayers are with them in their success. Rev. Glazier is pastor of the Free Methodist church in Canyon City, Colo., and is staying to push this battle for souls and Holy Ghost religion at a great sacrifice, and we invite all to join us in this service with your prayers and presence. There will be no afternoon services on account of the prayer meetings at the Nazarene church.

REV. E. V. A. HOJART.

GIANT EAGLE KILLED ON NORTH UMPQUA

After despoiling the flocks of sheep on both sides of the North Umpqua for several years, an imperious eagle measuring six feet ten inches from tip to tip, was finally shot this morning and his annual visits to that part of the country put to an end.

The residents of the North Umpqua are certain that the same bird has been in the habit of coming there at this time every year, and making away with several young lambs from the various flocks on the surrounding hills. Many attempts have been made to get the bird, but it was not until this morning when Alfred Stevens, a young lad residing near Willbur, started on the eagle hunt that the attempt was successful. The bird weighed eight and three-fourths pounds, and is an unusually beautiful specimen. The feet are almost the size of a man's hands and the claws as long as bear's claws, enabling it to carry away animals as large as itself. It was perched in an oak tree at the time of the shooting—Roseburg Review.

CHRIS GOTTLIEB WINS BILLIARD TITLE, 200-135

By Court Hall

Chris Gottlieb won the billiard tournament at Brown's last night by a score of 200 to 135. It was the most exciting billiard game ever seen in Medford. The contestants being Chris Gottlieb, a prominent oil man of Medford, and Maru, the champion Japanese billiardist of Southern Oregon. Gottlieb being scratch man playing 200 points to Maru's 140. In Tuesday night's tournament game Maru won, scoring 140 to Gottlieb's 180 points. This left Gottlieb and Maru tied for high honors in the tournament, each losing two games.

Last night's game was to decide the tie-off. At 8 p. m. a large crowd was present to watch the contest. Fred Champion of Chicago and Foots Creek, was chosen referee and Court Hall scorekeeper. Gottlieb won the choice of balls and shot. Each player played safety during the whole game. In the first three-fourths of the contest the balls broke badly for Gottlieb and in the 28th inning he had only made 62 billiards to Maru's 112. In the 38th inning the score stood Gottlieb 112 with 88 to go; Maru 132 with 8 to go. In the 39th inning Gottlieb by pretty nursing, ejected the ivory off for 53 points. At the 50th marker Chris received much applause. The excitement now was intense for the reason that if Maru did not get his needed 3 points very quickly that Chris was liable to run the game out. In the 37th, 38th and 39th Maru had three straight goose eggs. 40th, Gottlieb 1, Maru 1; 41st Gottlieb 1, Maru 2; 42nd Gottlieb 5, Maru 0.

In the 43rd inning Gottlieb ran the game out with an unfinished run of 27 points, winning the game with Maru five points to go. Each contestant pulled off some beautiful masse shots, and Maru played a steady game up to the end of the 36th inning and looked a 20 to 1 shot winner. In the last six innings Maru only made three billiards, while Gottlieb was making his last 88 points.
High runs: Gottlieb, 53, 27, 22, 40. Maru, 16, 16, 15, 19.

POULTRY CULLING LECTURE DRAWS A LARGE CROWD

C. A. Brewster of O. A. C., gave a culling demonstration at the Poultry show Wednesday afternoon and a lecture on poultry in general. About 250 people attended and showed deep interest in this feature of the show. Mr. Brewster is an expert on picking the non-layers or "boarders" so to speak, and gave a very interesting talk. The lecture will prove very beneficial to all those who were fortunate enough to hear it.

Mr. Brewster was formerly with the O. A. C., but is now employed by Kerr, Gifford & Co., of Portland, and will carry out this line of work for the company that he has for O. A. C.

H. S. BOYS FORM A BOXING CLUB

Last Wednesday evening the boys of the high school Boxing club met in regular session at the high school building under the leadership of Chas. A. King, the physical director in the public schools. There were more than 50 boys present and a fine enjoyable time was had by the lads. It is believed that any organization, under such direction that affords a wholesome, clean atmosphere, and at the same time gives the boys an opportunity to enjoy that real fellowship so natural to young men is well worth the time and effort put forth.
