EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett J. L. Robinson, our boss farmer, and William Lewis, our boss sheep man, were in town Wednesday afternoon, and Mr. Robinson reports that he has his Fordson tractor at work and that it was doing fine work. After experimenting with it, they, (he and his boys) got it started Tuesday morning and the two boys kept it running night and day for 30 hours, and later in the week he reported that they were still plowing night and day, plowing about half an acre an hour, and that the machine done the work all right, plowing the ground about eight inches deep. The ground is frozen about five inches deep, and that the plows so right under the frozen ground, turning it completely over, and when the sun comes out and thaws the ice it will leave it in fine shape for his corn crop. He intends to keep on plowing night and day so long as the ground keeps so that he can, and he is hoping that it will not rain at least for a few days, so that he can get his 100 acres plowed ready for corn.

J. C. Brown, real estate dealer of Medford, and Rosa Hulse of Arizona called for dinner Thursday. They were on their way up Butte Creek to look at a farm that was being offered for sale. Mr. Hulse is in the cattle business, and Mr. H. and Mr. B. were mourning particularly about some of the fine farms up in that section of the county, and looking at it from my viewpoint there is some of the best farms in the county located in the Lake Creek country, and since the farmers have learned the value of the commercial fertilizers and learned that by a judicious use of them that the crops can be increased 100 per cent, they feel perfectly at ease so far as this high rock of living is concerned. M. L. Lewis, one of our rustling young men was also here for dinner Thursday and as was Mr. Robert Schultz, who lives near San Bernardino, Cal. He came to look over a tract of land that he was interested in, but found that the roads were so bad that he concluded to postpone his trip until later in the season.

Mr. E. D. Schneider of Wellen, a goat dealer and mohair raiser was also a diner Thursday at the Sunnyside, and so was William Martin and Thomas F. Nichols and Chris Berzeman and wife here for dinner that day.

Sam Courtney, our painter and paper hanger, was also in town Thursday. He had come in to see about a portable wood-sawing outfit they had ordered from Portland. He says that he has several jobs of work in the painting and paper hanging line engaged, but that the roads are so bad that he can't get around in his car, so is going to cut a lot of wood and have it ready for the market next summer.

Rev. Mr. Britten and wife of Medford came out on the Lewis line and were met here by his son, E. V. Britten, and went out to the Anderson ranch.

Jacob Monin and wife of Brownboro were doing business here also Thursday.

Earl Hays, one of our rustling young farmers, was in town Thursday, and asked me to send in for the Daily Mail Tribune for him, but I told him to just send in his check to the office as I had no recent book and was not taking subscriptions for the paper now, but simply writing for the paper as they were doing business on a cash basis, no credit. Pete Young was another business caller and made the same request, and I gave him the same answer. Although I am working to get subscribers for the Daily Mail Tribune all the time, am not authorized to take subscriptions for it.

J. B. Rayborne of Medford came in Thursday evening and spent the night and in the morning went on to Trail on the stage on his way to Prospect.

Mr. Guins of Trail, a cattle dealer, spent the night with us on his way out to Medford.

Late Thursday evening W. E. Cooper, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Cooper, and Mrs. M. A. Cooper and Mr. Dressler of the firm of Page-Dressler, real estate dealers of Medford, came in and called for supper, going on to Medford that night.

John Glyn, our agent man, who has been spending the past month up around Albany, Portland and Newport visiting relatives, returned Thursday to his room in the Sunnyside.

Last Friday M. C. Conley and his mother, Mrs. Hester of Brownboro, were doing business in our town and when they went out he had about 100 feet of flooring and about 80 rods of wire fencing and a lot of other things in the wagon.

Mrs. Bert Clarno and her two sons, Carl and Wallace, were doing business with our leading merchants, George Brown and sons.

Speaking of the Brown firm I was very agreeably surprised Friday as I was making my rounds looking up Eagles for the readers of the Daily Mail Tribune, to see William H. Brown, a member of the firm, sitting in his accustomed seat, the bookkeeper's, in the store. He has been confined to his home for several weeks with rheumatism, but is so now that he can walk on crutches. I was also agreeably surprised to meet Mrs. Royal G. Brown, the wife of another member of the firm in the store, for she has been a patient in a hospital in Medford for some time where she had to undergo two operations, but was regaining her strength.

Charles Klingle of Lake Creek, was a business caller also Friday, and so were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wattenburg. I understand that Mr. W. has taken charge of the Joe Rader farm on Antelope.

George Given, one of our prosperous farmers, was a business caller Friday.

Rev. Hoyt, the Presbyterian Sunday school missionary, was in town Thursday to meet Rev. Joseph Travato, the pastor of the Presbyterian church of Butte Falls. Brownboro and Eagle Point, and has made an arrangement to give a stereoptic lecture, showing scenes taken from the foreign lands, on Sunday evening, February 22, 1920.

We are to have two elections in this section, one at Reese creek school house to vote on bonding the district (water) to raise funds to cover the expense of bringing in the water from Big Butte for irrigating purposes, and the other is to be held here to elect officers in the Eagle Point Ditch company, for the coming year.

The two traveling evangelists, Messrs. Welke and Green, who have been conducting services here for the past month, closed their meeting last Friday night. They are surely stayers.

CUP OF OLD HERB TEA OFTEN PREVENTS FLU, COLDS AND GRIP

Keeps You in Condition to Throw Off Disease

The very best way to avoid colds, influenza, grip and other winter infections is to keep your body in such good condition it will throw off disease germs. Constipation, biliousness, headaches, are Nature's warnings that your liver, kidneys and bowels are falling to their duty.

The waste matter which should have been carried away is absorbed like so much poison into your system. Your vitality is so low that you are an easy victim for colds, influenza, and more serious diseases. Get a package of Lincoln Tea and take a cup before retiring. It will soon put you in tune and make you feel like new.

This famous old herb tea is unexcelled for chronic constipation, biliousness, colds, grip, influenza, rheumatism, etc. Pleasant to take and inexpensive. Does not create the physic habit. Nothing better to give the children for stomach and bowel disorders. 30 cents at all druggists.—Lincoln Proprietary Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
