

A GOOD HIGHWAY TO THE APPLIGATE THRU SENATE BILL

A piece of important legislation to Medford and the county which was passed at the session of the legislature last week, was that providing for the building of a federal-state highway, designated as a post road, from Medford via Jacksonville thru the Applegate valley to the California line. Senator M. Thomas introduced the bill.

The route of the new highway is to be agreed upon by the representatives of the federal government and the state highway commission. The latter commission is authorized by the terms of the law to cause a survey of the proposed road to be made and then construct and maintain it. The importance of the road is that it would give an improved good highway all the year around between this city and the rich Applegate section.

NEW JERSEY IS FOR LIQUOR AND "AGIN" SUFFRAGE

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 20.—Edward I. Edwards, former state senator, was inaugurated at noon today as the first democratic governor of New Jersey since Woodrow Wilson retired to become president. Mr. Edwards, elected on a wet platform, in his inaugural address urged the republican-controlled legislature not to ratify the federal prohibition amendment.

Soon after the inaugural ceremonies a prohibition enforcement bill designed to conform with Governor Edwards' contention that the several states have concurrent power to legislate upon the enforcement of the federal prohibition amendment, was introduced in the assembly. The measure defines "intoxicating liquors" as those in excess of 4 per cent alcoholic content.

Ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment, which Governor Edwards recommended to the state legislature, received a setback when the assembly by a viva voce vote adopted a resolution declaring it to be the "settled policy of the assembly that in the future all proposed constitutional changes should first be submitted to the people for their vote before the legislature acts."

"Not a single dissenting vote was registered by either democratic or republican members of the assembly. Leaders declared that suffrage ratification by New Jersey at this time apparently is impossible.

motives, motors, automobiles and medical supplies. Ship tonnage must be furnished by the allies as Russia's shipping has completely disappeared. We must import first in order to export."

M. Berkenheim would not say whether this tonnage had been promised by Great Britain.

The correspondent informed M. Berkenheim that it was the belief in France that the bolsheviks would supervise distribution and allow goods to reach their adherents while the rest of the population might go barefooted and naked.

"Our stores are not under the control of the bolsheviks," he replied. "When the Moscow government nationalized all stores and closed them, our stores continued business undisturbed. This was not thru any undue friendship with the de facto government but because of the high esteem in which the co-operative societies are held by the population thruout Russia. We feel sure our headquarters in Moscow can reach a satisfactory agreement with the soviet authorities for an impartial distribution."

Beginning of New Russia
"This is the beginning of the resurrection of economic life in Russia," said M. Kravopostnikoff.

M. Berkenheim said he did not know whether the agreement included America. As far as he and his colleagues were concerned, negotiations were carried on only with Premiers Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Nitti, but he expressed the hope that it would not be long before a similar arrangement was made with the United States.

The Russian consulate general was today crowded with Russians desirous of obtaining transports to return to their country.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, General John J. Pershing and General Peyton C. March, composing a board of award, will announce to an awaiting juvenile world on April 19, next, the names of three medal winning school boys or girls, who, on February 20, 1920, wrote the best essays of all the school boys and girls of America, on the subject: "What are the benefits of an enlistment in the U. S. Army?"

The contest is under the auspices of the war department and is open to the students of all schools, except colleges and universities, whether public, private or sectarian.

The winners may be of any age, any color, male or female, American or foreign born.

The winners of the contest will be brought on to Washington, accompanied by parents or guardians with all expenses paid, where on May 5, Secretary Baker will present them with medals. There's a war department gold medal for first prize, a silver medal for second prize and a bronze medal for third prize. In addition three silver loving cups will be presented to the schools producing the winners.

Other prizes for state, county, district, township, city and village winners will probably be offered.

ever, it is unthinkable that Japan will withdraw her forces from Siberia and thus abandon to the reds country contiguous to her own territory. Therefore the wisest policy seems to be to dispatch half a division of troops and reinforcing guards to the important centers where the railway is necessary in maintaining the peace of eastern Siberia. With these points safeguarded Japan can follow the trend of events and popular feeling and accordingly form a definite policy."

General Graves Aids Japan

General Graves is co-operating with the Japanese. There will be no further movement of American troops except those started, until Japan can replace the force withdrawn. Admiral Albert Gleaves arrived here yesterday on the battleship South Dakota.

One hundred and seventy-five American Red Cross workers, including a hundred women, are reported to have left Chita, four hundred miles east of Irkutsk, for Vladivostok. Ernest L. Harris, the American consul general at the seat of the all-Russian government, is on his way from Verkhne Udninsk eastward.

General Semenov, commander in chief of the all-Russian forces opposing the bolsheviks, has appointed General Katnikoff as his assistant to command the military forces in the Far East provinces.

SEATTLE, Jan. 20.—General Pershing attended a boxing smoker by the Seattle posts of the American Legion last night. Over 4,000 former soldiers and sailors attended.

Just before the fights started, a former service man, in the ring, asked the men if they wanted Jack Dempsey to represent America against Georges Carpentier for the world's heavyweight championship. The crowd yelled its disapproval and, in the next breath, shouted that Bob Martin, heavyweight champion of the American expatriation forces, should meet the French champion.

King Alfonso of Spain received Captain Thomas J. Senn of the United States battleship North Dakota at the palace yesterday.

GIVE UP DRESS TO CAPTURE MALE AND SAVE MONEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Women were urged to lower the cost of clothes by abandoning the world-old tradition that they must dress "to capture the fleeting fancy of the male," or to outdo others of their sex in an address today by Helen Louise Johnson, editor of the General Federation magazine of the Columbia university institute of arts and sciences. Lower prices could be brought about, she added in her talk on "the ethics of dress," by the adoption of a standardized costume.

"Man," Miss Johnson said, "can dress properly and becomingly on a limited number of suits. His reasoning seems to be that beauty unadorned is adorned the most. His clothes are far from beautiful."

Women would become less conspicuous and more impressive by wearing standard dress, she declared, for "the active, healthy woman creates a spiritual impression by simplifying her dress and thus enhancing her facial beauty, while her less advanced sister clings to the older dress forms."

NEW COMPENSATION FOR WORKMEN IN EFFECT

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 20.—The industrial accident commission yesterday put into operation the law enacted at the recent session of the legislature providing for an increase of 30 per cent in payments to workers injured while entitled to benefits under the workmen's compensation act. Increased compensation to workers under the new law will cover all cases of disability coming under the jurisdiction of the accident commission from and after December 1 of last year.

AGAINST AND FOR DANIELS

Chairman Hale said there was no record that Commander P. W. Foote, now personal aid to Secretary Daniels, had been recommended by any officer for a decoration, although the secretary awarded him a distinguished service medal. Admiral Mayo replied that he had approved a recommendation by Admiral Gleaves, commanding the cruiser and transport force, that Foote be awarded a distinguished service medal.

Admiral Mayo said he had written Secretary Daniels because he felt there had not been a sufficient realization of the value of staff duties, that this might cause officers to avoid staff assignments.

"There has been a popular idea," he said, "that the chief function of the staff is to carry out orders."

Agrees With Sims

Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, asked if Admiral Mayo believed there should be a policy that officers who lost ships should be honored.

Such a policy would not be a good thing for the service, Admiral Mayo said, but added that in cases where the officer's conduct during and after the sinking, as in the cases of Captain Christy of the cruiser San Diego and Commander Foote of the transport President Lincoln, it should entitle him to high distinction. Under ordinary circumstances, he added, an officer who lost his ship was, in all navies, court-martialed.

When Rear Admiral Mayo concluded his testimony, the committee adjourned until tomorrow. Major General Barnett, commander of the marine corps, will be called then.
