At their recent hard time dance and entertainment in Portland, former members of company C, Third Oregon infantry, had lots of fun and revenge with their former commander, Lieutenant Colonel J. J. Crossley who headed that organization as captain when it went into the war and while it was stationed in Medford on tunnel and bridge guard duty. As captain Attorney Crossley often sentenced enlisted men to kitchen police duty as a matter of discipline. Shortly after the command reached France he was promoted major and later to lieutenant colonel. The boys got in their revenge on their old time commander at the entertainment. Wearing an old pair of breeches and a tattered olive drab shirt, Crossley looked very unmilitary, it is said. He served coffee, mopped the floor, and was general slave to former buck privates and other enlisted men.

"Told in the Hills" Delightful

The screen has rendered a great service in picturizing Marah Ellis Ryan's immortal novel, "Told in the Hills," which with Major Robert Warwick, in the leading role, came to the Liberty theater last night. It is a thrilling story of love and sacrifice. Against a magnificent background of high mountains and canyons, a splendid cast of players enacts the story. Eileen Percy, Ann Little, Wanda Hawley and Tom Forman assist Major Warwick, who plays the role of the hero "Genesee" Jack Stuart. It is a delightfully thrilling photoplay, and will be presented at the Liberty last time tonight.

Sweet, snappy, beautiful, mad-faced, loving, furious tempered, big hearted, considerate, thoughtless, lavishly gowned, slatternly attired, romantic, cynical, honorable, a safe cracker, dignified, a shimmy dancer, and crapshooter, wholesome alley denizen—that's "The Hoodlum," the second of Mary Pickford's productions produced in her own studios, which will be shown at the Rialto theater four days, starting tomorrow.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LOOK IN A MIRROR

Are there any lines between your eyes? If so, ask yourself the question, "Why?"

Many people have a constant scowl caused solely by eyestrain. This is often so disfiguring that it doesn't matter how attractive the person otherwise appears — the scowl spoils it all.

In most cases scowls can be "smoothed" out by relieving the eyestrain.

If you have any symptoms of eyestrain you should let us examine your eyes at once. Don't wait until ugly lines appear between the eyes.
