Eagle Point Eaglets

By A. C. Howlett

Mr. and Mrs. Simon, formerly foreman on the A. Corbin orchard, but now living on their own place, near Wellen, were in town Wednesday afternoon trading.

H. B. Trossman and Mrs. Ward, wife of his foreman, were also trading at the same time.

R. E. Morris, our school supervisor, came in Wednesday afternoon and invited me to go with him out to the Reese Creek school house, which invitation I gladly accepted and the result was that after enjoying a five mile ride with Mr. Morris we reached the school house just after the little folk were dismissed, but we met them at the door before they had dispersed.

Miss Marie Myers, the teacher, was just commencing to hear the class in civil government recite and the way she handled the subject evidenced that she was fully competent to fill the position. Then came the spelling classes, but as the recitation was in writing it was not so interesting as what it would have been if they had spelled orally.

After the school was dismissed we were entertained by Miss Myers in giving Mr. M., the superintendent, an idea of how she was conducting the school, and then she showed us the stock of goods they had on hand in the store that she uses to give the children practical lessons in business affairs, having them purchase a number of different articles on different plans.

For instance, one would buy a half of goods to run a certain length of time at a certain price and so much discount for cash, thus giving them actual experience in doing business and by that means she would enable them to secure a better idea than could be obtained otherwise.

After spending a while in that way we then visited the camp of the men who are inspecting the different routes for the Crater Lake highway. They had come down on the east side of Rogue river and were just establishing their camp. But of course, knowing as much about the working of civil engineering as we did we wasted no breath asking questions, but we will know where the road is going to be, possibly, when the contract is let for building it. Retracing our steps we reached the Sunnyside before dark and Mr. M. spent the night with us, going up to Lake Creek the next day.

Mr. J. L. Robinson, Sr., walked into town from his farm to try to catch the Lewis train, but arrived just five minutes too late, and then while waiting for a car to come along so that he could ride to Medford, and talking to friends he let two cars pass unnoted, and when I saw him last was still looking for a car.

Raymond Bergsman and Roy Watkins were diners at the Sunnyside Thursday.

There was the usual number of visitors in town Thursday, those who bring in their chickens, eggs and cream. George Stovell brought in three crates of eggs, 90 dozen at 40 cents per dozen, and 20 gallons of cream, and I heard him tell the creamery men to bring more crates as he would have four crates next week. He keeps the White Leghorn hens, and keeps his coops, but simply keeps the hens to lay and sends off for his new supply of hens, and I heard him say that the last lot of pullets he sent for, 3,000, but he could only get 250 on account of the demand. Perry Foster, one of the old standbys of the Debevergan country, was in town Thursday. His reports that he has been laid up with rheumatism for the past two weeks, but is all O. K. now.

Mrs. Mone of Brownsboro, was also a business visitor, bringing in a crate of chickens for one of the creamery men, and then she took passage on the Lewis train for Medford.

I noticed in the Table Rock items that some hard hearted person has been leaving a poor old horse to starve out in his neighborhood, and he by inches and suggest that some one ought to report such owners to the Humane Society. Well, last winter we had two old horses here that had been turned out to "rot loose or die" and after hanging around all winter, one of them disappeared and the other was taken up and put in the pound, and after keeping it there for several days the owner notified the town marshal that they would make the town a present of the old horse, and the next morning the horse was seen in the lane about four miles this side of Medford. There is no four or five head of horses running around town and starving to death, and I would suggest that some one gather them all up, and they did in the Butte and Lake creek country and drive them off to Medford and have them put in the pound and let some one would buy them, if for nothing else, for chicken meat, and have them put out of their misery.

H. C. Mechem of Ashland and Thomas Steninger of Prussisport spent Thursday night with us, and Friday morning took passage in the E. P. Persist stage for Trail.

A. L. Boggs and H. Dolf of Medford were here Friday for dinner. They were here with a new wood saw that Mr. Boggs is placing on the market. It is fastened onto the front end of an auto and is run by having a drum fastened onto the hind end of the auto with a belt running to the wheel on the saw frame. It cut up quite a lot of wood for William Von der Heller while it was here and when they got there simply lowered the hind wheel that confined the drum and started right off for another job. Mr. H. Dolf has accepted the agency for the machine in this county.

Ed Cowden, Fred Jay, Mrs. Thomas Ciende, Mrs. Lynn and daughter were shopping in town Friday. Mrs. Lynn is the lady who lives on the Kennedy place they bought last spring.

Friday evening G. Allred, Harold Patton, Ernest Abbott, Sam Hughes, Orbra Abbott, Wilson O'Brien, Prof. H. P. Jewett and Fred Eriksen, all of Butte Falls, came out and took supper at the Sunnyside and then secured passage to Gold Hill on the big Hudson mail coach, where they were engaged to play a game of basketball against the Gold Hill ball team.

He went to Medford and came out on the stage going on to Butte Falls that night.

Willow Beeson of Talent spent Friday night at the Sunnyside.

W. C. Daley and Rudolph Peck of Lake Creek were early callers Saturday morning. Mr. Daley was on his way to Medford on business.

Mrs. Frank Neil of Derby came out on the E. P. B. F. stage and went on home.

Word came Saturday morning that the residence of S. M. Hawk near Butte Falls was burned Friday night, but I have none of the particulars.

P. E. Sanzoy of Elk Creek, Trail post-office, came in Saturday for dinner. He had just returned from Nebraska, where he had been combining business with pleasure, looking after business interests and visiting two of his sons and a sister. After dinner he started right on home.

H. A. Hauser, representing Filling, McCollum company, Portland, Ore., was here for dinner Saturday.

Mrs. McGill of Medford came out Saturday morning and spent the day at the Sunnyside.

John Holtz of Sams Valley and A. C. Spence of Brownsboro were business callers Saturday morning.

Mrs. Julia McQuillen returned to her home in Ashland on Saturday. Mrs. Rose Gay and children accompanied her and will remain for a week or two.

Mrs. L. F. Pickett returned Friday from a week's visit in Portland. She stopped over a day in Corvallis and visited her son Bruce.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wahl were down from Medford for the week end and attended the Community Club party Saturday evening.

C. D. Wolvorton drove to Central Point one day the past week for a load of feed.

The following Riverside people attended the basket ball game at Gold Hill Saturday evening: Mr. Chas. Gray and children, Geo. W. Jacobs, Bert Carley, Harris and Martha Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hittle and children were Medford visitors Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Hittle consulted a physician about their son Merritt who has been ailing for some time and find he has asthma and diseased tonsils. He was put under a course of treatment and will be unable to attend school for a while.

Mr. Foster, superintendent of construction of the new bridge at Rock Point, informs us that the bridge work will be completed about Feb. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Engel were guests at the Grant Matthews home on Foots creek Sunday.

Miss Alison French was a Rogue River visitor Saturday.

Foots creek people expect to get their telephone line repaired this week. They are going to set new poles the entire length.

C. D. Wolvorton butchered a hog for Mrs. Chaupin which dressed 250 pounds.

Miss Emma Gannay who has been sewing for Mrs. Abbie Champlin, went to Medford Sunday for a few days.

C. R. Boyd is carrying a scared face about these days the result of walking into the side of the barn.

Foots creek school house was again the scene of festivities last Saturday evening when the ladies of the Community club conducted a box social and succeeded in raising that fund over $52 by the sale of beautifully decorated boxes filled with appetizing lunches. We are proud to say the reputation of these ladies for preparing lunches was very manifest when the bidding soared as high as five dollars on some and all went for over two dollars. However the general spirit of the occasion was augmented in part by the increasing enthusiasm over the new club house, all material for which has now been purchased and paid for and a neat little surplus of $100 is on hand to meet unforeseen emergencies. Construction will be resumed in the near future.
