Senator Lodge Refuses to Accept Reservation to Article Ten Drafted by Former President Taft So Democrats Walk Out—Hitchcock Declares Treaty Will Be Called Up in Senate for Debate February 10—Opinion Divided as to Success.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The unofficial bi-partisan negotiations on reservations to the peace treaty suddenly came to an end today when the democratic senators, failing in a last attempt to obtain a compromise on article ten, walked out of the conference and announced they would seek some other method of obtaining ratification.

The democratic leaders said the next step would not be determined until there had been a consultation among the friends of the treaty. They indicated that nothing would be done for a few days.

The final break came when Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the republican leader, refused to accept a reservation to article ten drafted by former President Taft and presented to the bi-partisan conference by the democrats.

After consultation with his party associates, Senator Hitchcock announced that notice would be given in the senate tomorrow that on February 10 he would move to take up the treaty for debate. Opinion among senators was divided as to whether the motion could secure a majority.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Difficulties of supply have probably stopped the advance of Bolshevik troops along the trans-Siberian railroad west of Irkutsk, according to advices to the war office. Detachments are reported to have reached the Chinese frontier southeast of Blsk.

Latest reports show that relations between the new government and the Czech-Slovaks have become worse and that bolshevism is gaining ground as a result of the arrival of red agents. Encounters between Semenov's troops and Czech detachments are reported.

In south Russia the bolsheviki have resumed their advance against General Denikine. On the western half of the front the main effort of the soviet troops appears to be directed southward against Crimen, and southwestward against the Kherson-Nikolaiev-Odessa area. In the former sector they have reached the northern end of the isthmus and captured Genichik and Perelton, but further progress across the narrow and easily defended neck of land has been stayed momentarily.

In the latter area the reds have pushed forward down the railway toward Nikolaiev after occupying Elizabethtal, but still are about 50 miles from Nikolaiev.

Reds Checked on East. On the eastern half of the front the threatening red advance along the western shores of the Caspian sea has been checked and thrown back. In the center General Denikine's units have fallen back, but in the Don region the anti-bolsheviki are maintaining their positions. All reports concern saving the Russian retreat is being carried out in an orderly manner and that the pursuing soviet cavalry is gaining ground only step by step and is losing severely.

Mrs. Sharris expressed the opinion that "general substitution of house men for house maids is the only solution of the servant problem," and added:

"I got 15 replies within 24 hours in answer to an advertisement for house men, but not one replied to an advertisement for house maids. A friend of mine employs a Japanese as lady's maid to do her hair, hook her up and take care of her clothes."

"This is one of the gravest crises of the past five years." "If no remedy is possible, if currency has inflated the organism," the newspaper continues, "only an operation will save us. In financial language this means liquidation or some kind of compression of our debt."

The financial policy of the French government is to avoid as far as possible restricting trade with all nations.

U.S. FARMERS ON VERGE OF BIG REVOLT

As't Postmaster Gen'l Bakslee Tells Senate Committee Conditions "Disquieting and Portentious of Disastrous Consequences—40,000 Replies to 200,000 Questionnaires Show Tillers of Soil Ready to Quit Farm or Cut Down Production.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Decreased farm production next year and a consequent increase in the cost of living, due to dissatisfaction of farmers was predicted before the senate postoffice committee today by James I. Bakslee, fourth assistant postmaster general. More than 40,000 answers to 200,000 questionnaires sent to farmers, he said, indicate a condition "disquieting and portentous of disastrous consequences."

A report summarizing the contents of the farmers' answers prepared by George L. Wood, superintendent of the division of rural mails, was read by Mr. Bakslee. Declaring that the farmers were tired of receiving low returns for long, hard periods of toil while city dwellers lived in "ease and comfort with high wages and short hours," the report said that the replies received indicated that hundreds of farmers had resolved either to quit the farm entirely or greatly decrease production.

Complain of H. C. J. Complaint was made in a majority of the replies, the report said, of the high prices paid by consumers as compared with the low return to the farmer, indicating an entirely disproportionate profit for the middleman.

A member of the committee remarked that the replies seemed to be "mostly from a bunch of bolshevists," which prompted Mr. Bakslee to say that in his opinion the situation was extremely serious.

Inability to obtain farm labor was another complaint of the farmers. The report said that the great demand in the cities for labor with high pay and short hours is driving the farm hired help and the farmers' boys and girls to the city.

Farmer's Resentful. "The high cost of wearing apparel, of staples not produced on the farm, of farm implements, and fertilizers, all of which seem to have filled the farmers' minds with discontent and resentment, is decreasing to result in the curtailment of food production," the report said.

Mr. Bakslee said the report and all other data bearing on the matter had been submitted to Postmaster General Burleson. Extension of the rural parcel post service to make it easier for the farmer to sell his products direct to the city consumer was advocated by Mr. Bakslee as one solution toward correcting the conditions indicated.

Assuming the questionnaire to farmers was a letter urging them to take advantage of the rural parcel post system.

Production could be greatly increased, the letter said, and the shortage of labor complained of partly remedied, if farmers would ship their products by parcel post and not devote their own valuable time and the service of their teams and vehicles to hauling goods to market.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT DIES GAME, HIDES HIS REAL IDENTITY TO THE LAST

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The body of Gordon Fawcett Hamby, notorious murderer and bandit who was electrocuted in Sing Sing prison late last night for the murder of two officials of a Brooklyn savings bank in December, 1918, will be buried today. No one claimed the body and the mystery surrounding his parentage which he had studiously guarded, remained unsolved.

An autopsy disclosed that the brain of the youthful criminal was "normal" and well developed. Hamby maintained his composure to the last, smiling as he was strapped to the chair and making a brief oral statement to the warden and witnesses just before life was snuffed out.
