REVIVAL SERVICES AT FIRST BAPTIST BEGIN FEBRUARY 15

An evangelistic campaign of unusual power is to begin Feb. 15th, 1920 at the First Baptist church. The pastor and people have been planning for some weeks. Special prayer services have been held at the church and in the homes. Rev. S. J. Reid, evangelist of the Oregon Baptist state convention is coming. Mr. Reid has held successful meetings at Pendleton, Marshfield, Salem, etc. Dr. Reid is familiarly known as "The Irish Evangelist," and has many popular gifts, without the cheap methods of the usual type of sensational evangelist.

There is no man more widely known than Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, Texas. See what he has to say of Dr. Reid:

"The Texas Baptists are greatly indebted to Dr. S. J. Reid, and also to the Baptist Young People's assembly of Texas, that has just closed its annual meetings at Palacios. Dr. Reid completely captured the assembly. We are greatly indebted to Dr. Reid, and our lives shall be richer and better because of his visit to Texas. Let us co-operate to have him in this country again. He is a man of superb gifts, modest, humble, courageous, cultured and deeply spiritual. He is a man with a message worth while for any and every class fortunate enough to hear him."—Rev. Geo. T. Truett, D. D., pastor, First Baptist church.

Neil Moore and Group of Bewitching Feminity With Mitzi at the Page Theater Next Tuesday Night

A most unique figure on the modern stage is Mitzi, the one star famed both as prima donna and comedienne of today and easily remembered as the flashing figure of "Sari" and "Tom Tom." Her unpronounceable last name has now been dropped in the interest of the throats of the theatergoers and "Mitzi" is considered enough, as there is likely to be but one.

She will come to the Page February 3 in Henry W. Savage's gay musical play, "Head Over Heels," that was so much praised during its long runs in Boston, New York and Chicago last season.

Mitzi is an original. Reviewers do not liken her to any other player of past or present. She has been willing to sacrifice good looks, but never charm—for at least part of her performance—to give striking characterization of whimsical stage figures. In "Head Over Heels" she cannot be conventional even if she would, for she must be singer, dancer, acrobat and comedienne with an equal ability to sari one's eyes a swimming or their lips to laughing, all in one small body.

"Head Over Heels" is praised as a musical comedy as unusual in tone as she herself. It has no spies nor cannon, but is credited with providing laughter almost as incessant as a machine gun's rattle. Of the story as told it is easily believable that the natural developments of amusing situations and dialogue in the piece ran away with its original sober drama and made chuckles where at first tears were called for and circles have even set it apart as a "melodrama of musical joyfulness."

Special music will be a solo, "The Palms" by Mr. Millard and special music by the choir.
