

COL. KOESTER AND STAFF TO INSPECT CO. "D" FEB'Y 17TH

PORTLAND—Colonel Francis J. Koester, U. S. Army, commanding officer of Vancouver barracks, has been detailed by the war department to inspect the National Guard organizations of this state.

The colonel and his staff will be in Medford, February 17, 1920, to inspect and offer suggestions to Company D, so that its value to the state and federal government may be greatly enhanced. This will be the most thorough inspection the reorganized local company has had to stand and will undoubtedly prove of great value.

Due to the great activity in recruiting for the new peace time army of the United States, this is a very pertinent time to hold this inspection, as Colonel Koester and members of his staff are in a position to answer the numerous questions which are agitating the minds of our patriotic citizens. What is this "new peace time army"? What is its function? What are its needs? What can we do to help it? Put these questions and others you may think of, up to the colonel.

G. W. S. STEVENS, Lieut-Col. U. S. Army.

JOINT LAND BANKS ARE STILL IN BUSINESS

A few days ago a press report emanating from Washington, D. C., announced that it would be necessary to farmers under the Federal Farm Loan act until the constitutionality of the act itself be determined in the courts. The McCurdy Insurance Agency, local correspondents for the California Joint Stock Land Bank, have been advised that this in no wise affects the business of Joint Stock Land Banks. Mr. C. D. Thompson, appraiser for the Joint Land Bank was in Medford last week making appraisals on applications taken by the McCurdy Insurance office, and he is expected to return again in two or three weeks.

Gleanings—God's Tomorrow (By John Oxenham). The night is very black and grim. Our hearts are sick with sorrow. But on the rim of the curtain dim A pulsing beam, a tiny gleam, Whispers of God's tomorrow.

Beyond the night there shines a light Our eyes are dim with sorrow— But faith still clings, and hope still springs. And love still sings of happier things, For life is fighting through new sinns In search of God's tomorrow.
