WILLOW SPRINGS

Nathan Grisham, who has been employed at Chico, California, during the winter, arrived here last Wednesday and will remain for a time with relatives in the valley. Oscar Blackford reports that one pair of coyotes has solved the high cost of living, and dine on chickens often, also entertain an appetite for spring lamb. Several men from Central Point have coyote traps out in this vicinity.

A Jan family are soon to move into the Gillinham bungalow. The man has been engaged as gardener at the Salade orchard. W. B. Harris has lately purchased a new team to take the place of the plow team he is offering for sale. Mr. Stewart has moved his apiary from the Penninger place to the pine grove.

Helen Brophy spent a few days in the valley last week, and, with her sister, visited her grandmother and eastern relatives at Grants Pass. The D. W. Stones were dinner guests at the William Thompson home on Sunday.

Mrs. R. W. Elden has been suffering from a slight attack of tonsillitis. There have been a few other slight illnesses, but nothing of a serious nature in this vicinity. The M. F. Young family, who were exposed to the small-pox, have none of them contracted the disease, and the small-pox scare is a thing of the past. The trees in the A. V. Carlson orchard have attained such a size that Mr. Carlson has purchased a power sprayer.

The ditch company is having a large amount of lumber delivered at the old McKee place and will erect another big barn in the near future.
