MEDFORD WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT, SALEM

SALEM, Feb. 20.—Dr. Catherine Schlett, from Medford, was badly lacerated about the head and face, and T. H. Gurnler was severely shaken up at 1:20 Tuesday when a heavy automobile in which they were riding leaped across the sidewalk and plunged into the plate glass front of the Otto J. Wilson garage, corner Center and Commercial streets. Dr. Schlett was taken to the offices of Dr. J. Ray Pemberton where medical attention was given.

In leaving the street the big machine collided with a gasoline pumping station in the curb, breaking it off at the level of the sidewalk. Several huge panes of the glass front of the garage were shattered and oil tanks just inside the wall were damaged. The auto was badly damaged, the compact breaking off the windshield, bending the front spring and fender.

Witnesses say that the accident occurred when Dr. Schlett, after driving across the bridge and going east on Center street, attempted to avoid a collision with a truck plying north on Commercial street. It is believed that she became confused and instead of reaching the brake stepped on the accelerator, causing the car to leap forward and across the sidewalk.

No Dr. Catherine Schlett is listed in the Medford directory or telephone book, tho a person by such a name has stopped at the Hotel Medford.

THE RELIGION OF MONKEYS SUBJECT REVIVAL TONIGHT

Dr. J. J. Reid spoke last night on "The Religion of a Primate," taking for his message the "Saviour" lost effort to save Judas the betrayer. He showed how the love of God persists and follows a man no matter how much or how often he has sinned.

At the very moment of betrayal, when Judas kissed Jesus, the Saviour called him friend and endeavored thus to reach his heart. The Saviour asked him "wherefore art thou come" in order to make Judas realize the treachery of his act and bring him to repentance. The love of God is not turned away by the sin of any man, tho any man can turn himself away from the love of God.

Dr. Reid spoke tonight and tomorrow night. His message tonight is "The Religion of Monkeys," and should arouse curiosity to hear what he has to say on such a subject. The services begin at 7:30 and are for all the city of Medford.

"He-Man" at Liberty. The first Charles Miller special, under the Charles Miller Productions, is "A Dangerous Affair" and is shown in six reels and represents the standard of photo-dramatic art as set by Mr. Miller in such of his productions as "The Flame of the Yukon," starring Dorothy Dalton; "The Ghosts of Yesterday," with Norma Talmadge and other Miller productions that stand today as examples of all that is art in motion pictures.

Four titanic encounters between the hero and the villain serve as the four big punches of the picture. In one scene it is said that Mr. Miller has given to the screen one of the best exhibitions of the famed Japanese art of self defense, Jiu-Jitsu, ever enacted.

"A Dangerous Affair" will be heard on the screen of the Liberty theater today and tomorrow as a special attraction.

Live Girls at Rialto. The personal appearance of the famous bathing beauties need hardly make an epoch in the history of your favorite moving picture theatre. These athletic girls are not professional stage beauties, the kind that is cross-eyed painted and artificially eye-browed. They are youthful queens of nature, selected after an exhaustive country wide search of the bathing beaches and natoriums, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, in an effort to discover the most beautiful and startling beauty of real bathing beauties in all America. Each girl is a superb diver and swimmer being possessed of astonishing prowess in mastering the water. Each one is a medal winner in aquatic competition. And then add youth, beauty, personality, shapeliness, grace with a perennial smile, and you have the perfect bathing girl—the girls that will appear on the screens in the great new sea side comedy "Dog Days" and they appear in person before your very eyes at the Rialto theatre.
