TOO MANY LIVE RELIGIOUS LIFE ON MONKEY PLANE

Dr. S. J. Reid spoke twice yesterday. In the morning he answered the question "Can a Christian be a successful business man?" by giving numerous instances within his own knowledge of Christian men who from lowly beginnings rose to great eminence in the business world and thru all their success gave a large percentage of their income to Christian missions and other deserving charities. In the evening service he addressed a very large audience on the "Religion of Monkeys". Briefly the monkey's religion consists of the trinity of the "best nuts, the best forest and the best mate." That is all a monkey lives for, and given that is perfectly satisfied. So savage man tries to live his human life on the monkey plane. And so do many of the civilized section of the human race.

To be content with a materialistic environment, to live your life on the materialistic plane, without God or religion, is to live your life on the monkey plane. The greatest man that ever lived said it was a waste of time to try to get satisfaction in material things, the only true satisfaction came to those who hungered and thirsted after righteousness for they should be filled.

Tonight at the Baptist church Dr. Wilcox, one of a party of Baptist leaders, who comes to Medford from California, will give an illustrated lecture on Child Welfare. The public are cordially invited.

HUNGARY GIVES HER OBJECTIONS TO PEACE TREATY

PARIS, Feb. 23.—The final documents annexed to the Hungarian reply to the allied peace terms, were presented to the secretary of the peace conference Saturday last.

The French press has intimated that the London conference would take up the Hungarian reply, but it is learned that no official notice to this effect has been given to the Hungarian delegation, headed by Count Apponyi.

The Hungarian attitude has been represented as an uncompromising rejection of the proposed detachment of Transylvania and other territories and the economic terms of the treaty. It became known today, however, that the reply is based rather on the principle of self-determination.

It questions the exactitude of the representations made to the peace conference by neighboring countries regarding their ethnological, historical and territorial claims. It says that Hungary is willing that the populations of all the contested regions should decide by an impartial plebiscite not dominated by troops of occupation, whether they wished to remain Hungarian.

It is contended by the Hungarians in their answer that the boundaries proposed by the treaty are strategically and economically favorable to the adjoining countries, but are unjust to Hungary.

CONSCRIPTION IN ENGLAND WILL BE ABOLISHED MAR. 1

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Conscription will be abolished in England March 31 and within a month from that date the last conscription will be entitled to be released, it was announced by Winston Churchill, the secretary of war, in the house of commons today.

He stated that Great Britain had sponsored in 1915 a new voluntary army which when conscription ended will number about 230,000, excluding troops serving in India.

The nation would be able to place in the field in case of emergency twenty divisions, with cavalry and auxiliary services, and equipped with the most modern arms and equipment a British army ever has had, the war secretary declared.

CONGRESS STOPS ITS WRANGLING TO HONOR GEORGE LLOYD GEORGE AND NITTI FOR RUSSIAN PEACE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Both senate and house today refrained from discussion of matters before them long enough to hear the reading of Washington's farewell address while other departments at the capital were closed to celebrate the birthday of the nation's first president. Senator Pomeroy of Ohio read the address before the senate, while in the house it was read by Representative Rodgers, Illinois. Representative Montague, Virginia, spoke on Washington's life and character. Outbursts of applause punctuated the reading of the farewell address in the house, the republican members particularly applauding Washington's admonitions against foreign alliances.

A score of democrats joined with the republicans in cheering the proclamation that the "great rule of conduct" for the United States was to have "as little political connection as possible" with foreign nations.

An innovation in the day's observance was the decoration of the Washington monument with the flags of the 48 states and a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon by the Southern Society of Washington. The program included an address by former Speaker Clark, of the house of representatives and the laying of a wreath on Washington's tomb.
