

FREE ANALYSIS OF CHARACTER BY MRS. ELLIS

A highly intellectual presentation of character analysis was given last evening by Mrs. Jean Morris Ellis before an audience that gave the closest attention to the speaker's remarks.

She has been in great demand by masters of industry to help them solve their problems of transforming square pegs to fit round holes.

There are many ex-service men scattered thruout the country who have not as yet found themselves since being forced to confront conditions awaiting them upon their return to civil life.

Through the courtesy of Dr. Henry Hart and Mr. E. H. Hurd, room 215 in the Liberty building is turned over for consultation purposes.

Tonight at 8 o'clock she will speak to the Medford post of the American Legion at its regular monthly meeting in Moose Hall.

OVER $100,000,000 PUT INTO MEXICAN OIL

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 2.—Figures showing the production of petroleum in Mexico increased 36 per cent last year over the record of 1918, which were made public last night at the department of industry and commerce.

The masterly production of the New Year's eve celebration in "The Market of Souls" is enough to make the picture worth seeing.

GOOD CHANCE OF U.S. ARMY RECRUIT BECOMING OFFICER

There are four recruiting parties in Medford today and they represent the different branches of the service, namely, the infantry, cavalry, field artillery and engineers corps.

A recruit may have a chance to become an officer in the army, almost 1000 former privates of the army have risen to grades of general and field officers—they rank from major to major general—and a considerably greater number have received commissions from the ranks.

The president is authorized to appoint 180 cadets to the United States military academy from among the regular army and National Guard in number as nearly equal as practicable.

The law also provides that enlisted men may receive commissions direct from the ranks without entering the United States Military academy, and this course has been followed by many ranking officers in the army of today.
