

COMMITTEE ON BUDGET NAMED FOR CAMPAIGN

Representative Business Men of City Appointed to Finance Chamber of Commerce Fund—Prominent New York Speaker to Address Community Conference on March 16.

Following adjournment of a meeting of the executive committee of the Medford Chamber of Commerce's expansion and reorganization campaign the announcement was made by Chairman Harry L. Walther that the committee had decided on two big public meetings to be held in the immediate future, and to which every man and woman in Medford is invited.

The first of these meetings is to be designated as a community conference and will be held on the evening of Tuesday, March 16, at a place to be decided upon and announced later. The second meeting will be a combination meeting and dinner and will be known as the Medford Civic Dinner. The civic dinner will be served Monday evening, March 22.

DR. HENRY GAINES DAWN Who will speak at Community Conference, March 16th.

which is the date preceding the opening of the big drive for 400 new members to be signed for $25 a year for a period of three years, and the raising by subscription of a budget of $10,000.

Both the community conference and the civic dinner will be featured by speaking, local as well as out-of-town speakers to be announced later, and community singing. One of the principal speakers, however, at the community conference will be Dr. Henry Gaines Dawn of New York city. Dr. Dawn is one of the most widely known, and deservedly popular speakers of the east. For eighteen years he has been at the head of his own school of expression in Brooklyn, and has been identified with some of the larger institutions of the kind besides. He is said to be a man of unusual personal magnetism, and an orator of rare ability. The public of Medford is promised a real treat in the address by Dr. Dawn.

Special song sheets for both meetings have been prepared, and community singing such as Medford has never heard before, is expected. The greater number of these songs are popular airs to which special words befitting the present campaign have been applied. These special song sheets will be distributed among the audience at both meetings and will, doubtless, prove acceptable little souvenirs of the conference and dinner. The executive committee at its meeting last evening appointed the budget committee which, it is explained, will be expected to formulate plans for the securing of the $10,000 budget. A meeting of this committee will be held shortly at which time the duties incumbent upon it will be explained.

The personnel of the budget committee is as follows: S. I. Brown, George T. Collins, J. H. Cochran, W. Gaston Domorgno, W. H. Gore, Delroy Getchell, E. C. Gaddis, C. E. Gates, A. C. Hubbard, W. F. Isaacs, E. Corning Kenly, C. M. Kidd, H. L. Lunsden, C. W. McDonald, E. M. McKeaney, Rev. D. E. Millard, J. C. Mann, George A. Mansfield, Gus Newbury, Hamilton Patton, H. W. Paul, David Rosenberg, W. G. Tall, George L. Treibler and E. W. Walker.

Members of the executive committee present at the meeting last evening were: H. L. Walther, chairman; C. M. Kidd, A. J. Hill, H. C. Garnett, Mrs. F. E. Merrick and Mrs. C. L. Schierfelin.

DEMOCRATS MAY ABANDON WILSON ON PEACE TREATY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The reservation declining to bear league expenses except on action of congress was re-adopted late today by a vote of 46 to 25 with eight democrats supporting it.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—White House officials in discussing today the move of administration senators to arrange a conference with President Wilson to discuss the peace treaty situation, said the president had told Senator Glass, of Virginia, two weeks ago, what his attitude was toward a compromise on the article ten reservation.

It was said that there had been no decision as to whether the president would see the senators in response to the request of Senator Hitchcock.

Those close to the president, however, pointed out that Senator Glass must have informed his colleagues as to Mr. Wilson's position. The president's attitude toward further conferences with democratic senators as reflected at the White House was learned with manifest disappointment by democratic and republican senators who have been working for a compromise. It was said the negotiations would continue but senators predicted that if Mr. Wilson declined to consider further compromise proposals the hope of ratification would be greatly diminished.

Among some of the republicans, however, it was predicted that a refusal to see Senator Simmons would result in further defections from the administration ranks and might lead to a break sufficient to secure acceptance of the republican reservations.

The compromise proposals Senator Simmons had planned to present to the president were worked out in negotiations between substantial groups of the two parties with Senator Simmons acting for the democrats and Senator Watach of Indiana for the republicans.

locality had been organized, all the lumber needed "would have been produced at moderate cost."

"Those placed in authority in the Northwest by the war department," he said, "not only had no experience in the lumber business, but they were arrogant, autocratic and operated wholly regardless of law and authority. Those that had no power to do so ordered the construction of railroads in Oregon through cost-plus contracts at large governmental expense and not in the public interest."

J. D. Ryan scored the employment of 30,000 soldiers, including officers in the lumber operations was also attacked by Mr. Magee, who asserted the payment to them of wages of $3 to $8 a day was "in defiant violation of law."

John D. Ryan, director of aircraft production, he said, "heartily approved of these payments."

"Those who are responsible for this unlawful expenditure," he added, "should be held strictly accountable therefor. The Selts-Carey-Kerbaugh corporation was actually paid by the war department a seven percent commission on civilian wages paid to soldiers working for subcontractors in the construction of the Lake Crescent railroad, in excess of the compensation fixed by congress."

Central Point Church Notes
Beginning with Sunday, Mar. 7, there will be special meetings held in the Union (Presbyterian) church of this place. They are to be under the leadership of Rev. Chas. F. Koehler of Ashland. Mr. Koehler is considered to be one of the keenest thinkers and most forceful speakers in this whole coast country. It has been my privilege to work with him in special meetings in other states, and I am now looking forward to these with great interest. Mr. Koehler's subjects for the week are as follows:
Sunday eve, "What We Are to Be."
Monday eve, "The Single Causeway to Life."
Tuesday eve, "Giant and Pigmy."
Wednesday eve, "Chickens Come Home to Roost."
Thursday eve, "An Infallible Verdict."
Friday eve, "The Re-birth of a Soul."

It is our plan to have special music at all of these services. Let us plan to attend these meetings and get all the good we possibly can from them.
E. H. Edgar, pastor.

"RUDDY" SCHOLTZ MAY PLAY RUGBY AT OLYMPIC GAMES

The following article in a San Francisco paper, will be of interest to the many friends of Rudy Scholtz, of this city, once a star member of the local baseball team:

"A committee of the management of the Olympic games recently visited Santa Clara University in the hope of securing the services of the star rugby men who made the old Mission school so famous in the past. That some of these marvels will journey this year to Antwerp is hardly to be doubted. Most of the stars will receive their degree in law just at the time the athletes are supposed to take the ship from the United States.

"Rudy Scholtz is being sought as half-back for the big team. It will be remembered what a sensation he created in 1916, when the little wonder did so much to help Santa Clara tie that most humiliating defeat on Stanford. John O. Miller, himself one of the best rugby men this state ever produced, declared that Scholtz was by far the greatest half back the game ever saw in these parts. Rudy is fast on his feet and just as fast with his thinking apparatus. For him to think is to act; and he seldom makes an error of judgment. Old Antwerp will see some speed if Scholtz ever gets going on their turf.
