

SUP. CT. DECISION SENDS STOCKS ON EXCHANGE SOARING

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—Shares of various industrial companies which are likely to declare liberal stock dividend distributions on yesterday's ruling of the United States supreme court registered further sensational gains in the early period of today's very active stock market session.

General Motors and Crucible Steel were again in the forefront of the dealings. General Motors opened at a gain of four points, but aggressive buying and short covering soon extended its gain to 322, an overnight advance of 21 points and a total of 73 points from yesterday's low.

Crucible Steel lost two points at the start but immediately went upward, showing an extreme gain of 13 points at 2:40, or a total of 49 points from yesterday's minimum.

Other motor and steel shares were 2 to 5 points over final prices of the preceding session. Shippings, oils and leathers also were carried forward to a similar extent on the general advance, but rails made only moderate gains.

Dealings up to 11 o'clock were on the largest and most diversified scale of any day so far this year, the turnover approximating a half million shares.

MORE FRENCHMEN ROUGHLY HANDLED BY GERMAN MOB

BERLIN, Mar. 9.—Germany has expressed her regrets to France for the anti-allied demonstration at the hotel Adlon here Saturday night when an official French party was subjected to assault at the instigation of Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia because its members had failed to stand when the orchestra played "Deutschland Uber Alles."

Foreign Minister Mueller visited M. DeMarçilly, the French charge today and personally expressed his regrets.

BERLIN, Mar. 9.—Closely following the incident of Saturday night at the hotel Adlon here in which Prince Joachim Albrecht, of Prussia was the chief figure, leading a demonstration against a party of French officers in the dining room another anti-allied incident is reported from Bremen. The victims in this case also were high French officers, who are members of the entente military commission.

When the Frenchmen entered the barracks in Bremen to conduct negotiations with German officers, the accounts run, the soldiers sang "Deutschland Uber Alles." The singing attracted a large crowd which roughly handled the French when they left the barracks. The police dispersed the crowd and escorted the officers to their quarters. An inquiry into the affair was opened immediately.

MARY PICKFORD IN "HEART O' THE HILLS"

The same beloved Mary Pickford, with her smiles and tears, her loves and hates, her whims and winning ways in an entirely new characterization. The Hialto theatre, four days, beginning tomorrow.

Two Comedies at Liberty

That prolific and delightful writer of short stories and novels, Mary Roberts Rinehart is the connecting link by which Doris May and Douglas MacLean made their debut before local screen lovers as a co-starring team at the Liberty theatre this afternoon. The picture was made by Thomas H. Ince from Mrs. Rinehart's humorous story "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave," which appeared first in a popular magazine.

The picture is a comedy. It is one of the best comedies of the year. An army cantonment is the background and training days the time, but the most prejudiced cannot possibly object to these facts in the face of the splendid story which is told.

When you enter the "Garage" with "Fatty" Arbuckle, prepare to have your poor old broken-down car of care not only repaired but completely rebuilt into a luxurious limousine of laughter, for from the moment that he waddles forth to perform the first duty of his daily routine it's just one "durned" thing after another.

To any one who owns an automobile, a garage is an oasis in a desert of trouble. To "Fatty," however, whose intentions are perfectly good, but whose mechanical execution is perfectly awful, it's a nightmare of no small proportions; not only to himself, but to his unfortunate customers as well. This program runs through Tuesday.

SCHOOL AID TO BE GIVEN.

abilities of business and citizenship in this city. By answering the questions below, you can co-operate now in the preparation of a "program of work" for the association.

The four questions referred to read as follows:

1. What business, profession or trade do you hope to pursue as a life work?
2. Do you expect to remain in Medford after leaving high school? If so, why? If not, why?
3. What, in your opinion, is the thing of most importance that the chamber of commerce should undertake first to assist you in preparing for your life work?
4. What do you think the chamber of commerce should undertake first for the improvement of Medford?

A similar campaign survey conducted among the high school students at Ashland showed that 65 per cent of the boys and girls of that city intend leaving after finishing school because of better opportunities being offered elsewhere. Among the suggestions offered by the boys and girls of that place to make the city a better town in which to live, and to create greater opportunities, were quite a few none of which was impracticable and not within the reach of Ashland to accomplish.

The result of the Medford high school survey will be compiled and in next Sunday's issue of the Medford Sun will be published for the benefit of the public. There is little doubt that every parent in the city will find something of interest in this report, and there will be much, no doubt, from which the chamber of commerce and the citizenship generally may profit in mapping out the new program of work for the reorganized association.

Talks on the expansion and reorganization program of the chamber of commerce, and reports on the progress that is being made in the early preliminary preparations will be heard at a luncheon to be served at the Hotel Medford at noon tomorrow. Notices of this meeting were mailed out yesterday to approximately 100 local business men who are behind the new movement from campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building, corner Main and Front streets. Those who are to attend the luncheon are members of the advisory, executive, and budget committees, also the regular board of directors of the local chamber.

The second week of the campaign has found the preliminary work right up to schedule, according to Director Ghem who predicts that with a sufficient number of field workers to lend a hand in the enrollment of memberships during the four days intensive drive, to begin Tuesday morning, March 23, Medford will go over the top in less than the usually prescribed time limit with a number in excess of the objective, which provides for at least 400 members and a sustaining fund of $10,000 annually. By this, he explained, he does not wish it understood that there is not a great deal of work ahead for every one, nor does he wish to create any impression that may be productive of a lethargic condition superinduced by over-confidence. But he does believe that if Medford's public-spirited citizens will lend generous co-operation and assistance in the big drive, that the campaign will be one of which the city may well feel proud, and that it will result in Medford being provided with a civic-commercial organization that will rank second to none of cities of its class thruout the United States.

President Vernon H. Yawter of the chamber of commerce has named a committee composed of John Tomlin, Dr. E. G. Riddell and H. S. Deuel to award the cash prize of $25 to be awarded by the chamber of commerce and the American City Bureau for the best slogan for the new chamber of commerce.

BOY FINDS $1,200,000 GIVEN $2 REWARD

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—An order on the Bank of Montreal entitling the bearer to $1,200,000 in railroad bonds was picked up in the street in the financial district yesterday by Harry Hahn, a 17 year old clerk.

Noting the brokerage firm signature on the order the youth delivered the paper at its office. A reward of $2 was given to him with the advice "that he was an honest lad and probably would make his way in the world."

by the opponents of article ten here," said the republican leader. "That is not admitted and advocated in this letter. It is set forth as a definite and binding article founded on naked force."

Senator Lodge said he thought the president's declaration that the French militaristic element had been defeated at the peace conference, but now had regained control, was "most unfortunate."

"I regret that the president should also have taken occasion to say something about Italy. The president says Italy's desire for Fiume is based on considerations of military strategy. That is true. Since when has it become a crime for a nation to seek self-protection?"

Senator Lodge also read the president's statement that he was not willing to trust to counsel of diplomats "the working out of any salvation of the world," and continued:

"The whole peace conference was a collection of diplomats. The result was an alliance in which the representatives of all countries are diplomats covered by the best interests of their governments and political expediency."
