H. DEMONSTRATOR LOWERS THE H.C.L. IN JACKSON COUNTY

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, March 12.—Mark dress forms at an average cost of $1 and at an estimated saving of $800 was one way 80 women of Jackson county defied the high cost of ready made clothing. This was but one phase of the work carried on by the home demonstration agent in the last six months in conjunction with the extension department of the college.

Construction of fireless cookers, iceless refrigerators, and home made dryers has been demonstrated and, it is reported, many have been made and are giving good results. Through the efforts of the home demonstration agent, three water systems have been installed and her influence has resulted in having hot lunches out in 10 rural schools. Assistance in keeping household accounts and in budgeting their family income was given 82 women. Sixty women attended the millinery school where 11 hats were remade, four hats were re-blocked, and the material of five others was used in other articles.

A clothing school has been conducted where women were helped to plan children's clothes made out of older people's clothing. Classes studying foods and food values were well attended and direct aid was given 50 women in food preservation. The services of a landscape gardener were given, on the home study tour, to the people of the county.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett.

After I had written my letter for the readers of the Medford Mail Tribune, John Foster of Lake creek, John Mayham, Jay Spitzer, Miss Margaret Riley, Frank Brandon of Central Point and five or six men who are in the forest service came in for supper and beds. The forest service men engaged rooms and meals for an indefinite time as they are engaged in putting up a telephone line between here and Trail, connecting the Butte Falls line with it north of here.

Sunday morning we had our regular Sunday school as usual and there was an addition of three who came in but took no active part. There was no preaching as Mr. Trovato, the regular minister, did not venture out from Butte Falls where he had been helping to care for the sick, and I am unable at this date to announce when he will be here again, altho Dr. Holt reports that those who have been sick are improving. He reports that there were forty cases in that place and neighborhood. We of Eagle Point, have been very fortunate in that regard as we have had but three cases reported in our town.

We had quite a crowd here for dinner Sunday. Mrs. Albe Daley who assisted Mrs. Howlett in her work reported that there were 53 took dinner (noon), including the family and regular boarders. Among those who came from a distance and from their homes in Eagle Point were A. J. Anderson, wife, son Harold and two daughters, Misses Ethel and Sadie, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Satchwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carpenter, all of Medford; A. L. Tasselton who is engaged teaching school near Rancheria Prairie, who came out to meet his wife and son Rob; Mrs. A. L. and Mrs. Frank Haselton of Eagle Point, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Palm, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Anna Avis, Mr. and Mrs. Tenet and son, Dr. and Mrs. Hart of Medford, Joe Moomaw and wife and baby, Rollen Reter, wife and child, Medford; Wm. Von der Hellen, wife, son Hugo and daughter Miss Joyce, Eagle Point; Ernest Peachy, C. D. Margan and wife of Gold Hill, G. W. Medley and wife, Medford; C. E. Gates and wife, Miss Marie Gates, Mildred Jacques, Mr. Hanford and Mrs. Whitley, Mr. Stuart Kissick, (Mr. Kissick is the engineer who has charge of the work of surveying and locating the proposed water ditch from above Butte Falls, taking the water out of Big Butte creek, and he brought with him his crew consisting of C. G. Hegler, Wm. James, Ed James and P. McCool). Mr. Kissick has had his wife boarding here since about the 23d of February and the four last named engaged rooms and board for an indefinite term. There were quite a number here Sunday who were strangers to me and in the tumult of coming and going I failed to get all of the names, but in such a company it is very hard to secure all of the names but no one was intentionally omitted.

Miss Anna French of Talent, who came out Saturday on the stage on her way to near MeLeod to teach school, remained here at the Sunnyside until Monday morning, taking the trail stage for her destination. Charles Horton of Klamath Falls, one of the cattle buyers, came in Monday and went out with Ben Drophy to look over his cattle that were on the range in the low hills near Round Top and Antelope mountain, returning to the Sunnyside that night tired and hungry for he had had no dinner that day.

Cecil Culbertson and wife came in Monday morning on their way to Medford.

George Gates of Medford, and Edward Riley called for dinner Monday and so did Mrs. J. Doubleday of Butte Falls. She came out from home, took dinner and went on to Medford. R. E. Morris, our school supervisor came out Monday night, spent the night with us, went to Laurel Hill and Reese creek, visited the schools, returning to the Sunnyside that night and today, Wednesday went up to Brownboro, Butte creek and Lake creek schools. Speaking about schools brings to mind an article that appeared in the Medford Mail Tribune of the 5th over the signature of W. E. Phipps, where he criticizes the action of the school board of Medford for what he calls a usurpation of power, and I will say for the encouragement of Mr. Phipps, that I have heard quite a number of our citizens applauding him for his stand in the matter. I cannot see the use of having a contract signed unless it is binding on both parties, and when a teacher signs a contract to teach a given time for a specified amount, she or he as the case may be, holds the board to that contract just the same as a corporation would hold a contractor who agrees to perform a certain job and they generally have to sign a bond as an assurance that the contract will be filled, but if a teacher signs up he or she can resign on a simple pretext and the board will generally accept the resignation thru sympathy and if they don't accept they can do as a teacher did in one of our rural districts in the high hills, she came out on some pretext and married, then sent word that she was not going to teach any more, and so left them to hunt up another teacher, and all the penalty attached was the revoking of her license to teach, but what did she care for that, for she was married and did not care how much she discommoded the patrons of the school. If they sign a contract it should not be left to the option of the board to raise a salary and if they have that right they should have the right also to lower the salary. It is a poor rule that don't work both ways.

A man came in Tuesday and gave his name as A. T. Spitzer but was very reticent as to his business, but in the run of conversation remarked that he had recently come from California. E. S. Harwood, a traveling salesman was also here for dinner Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kate Garrett who live on the old Phoenix road near Rossy Ann, came in Tuesday to bring in Mrs. Garrett's sister, Miss Ellen McCabe, who had been visiting Mrs. Garrett for the past two weeks.

M. F. Lewis, George McElonald, J. R. Beach, Frank Smith, Noble Zimmerman, who has been spending the winter in Blue Canyon trapping, and Wm. Moore of Butte Falls, and Harry Smith were among the diners today, Wednesday.

We are having some fine showers now so that the buzz of the autos is positively stopped for the present.

Prof. A. L. Haselton who is teaching north of Butte Falls, came out Saturday, returning Wednesday.

School began Monday after being closed nearly four weeks on account of the flu epidemic. The disease was in a mild form in most cases.

Dr. W. S. Cary was removed from his home here to the Sacred Heart hospital at Medford last week. He is suffering from peculiar after-effects of the flu, and is in a serious condition. Little hope is entertained for his recovery.

B. M. Rogers and family have recently moved here from Oklahoma. We are told that about fifteen families, mostly farmers, are soon to arrive from the same locality.

Mrs. Amy Merriam returned to her home at Bandon this week, after a few months visit here with her son Lou. She was accompanied by Mrs. Lou Merriam, who will return home after a short visit with relatives there.

C. S. Hatch and son, who purchased the O. K. Livery barn, are remodeling the building preparatory to the establishment of an up to date garage. An addition is being built for their stock of hardware and blacksmith shop. Wilbur Williams, of Grants Pass, has the contract for the carpenter work.

The heavy rain of this week brought joy to the hearts of both miners and farmers. So far this season there has not been enough water for placer mining, and the crops were showing a need of moisture.
