

GEN'L WOOD FOR PROMOTING TRADE IN FOREIGN LANDS

INDIANAPOLIS, Mar. 12.—The fostering of domestic business and world commerce was advanced by Major General Leonard Wood, candidate for the republican nomination for president, as one of the paramount obligations of the American people and government, in an address before Indiana republican leaders at a luncheon at the Columbia club here today.

General Wood advocated careful training of consular officers for foreign countries, to the offices of which will be attached trained commercial agents. In this connection he mentioned particularly the South and Central American and Far Eastern countries, in which he declared the United States has never had such an opportunity to advance its trade relations.

The sale or lease of American ships built during the war, to American interests only in order that the merchant marine built up might be kept under the American flag also was urged by the speaker.

General Wood reiterated that he favored adoption of the treaty of peace and the League of Nations covenant with reservations "which would absolutely Americanize it," and a "strong courteous foreign policy," which would include a trade policy.

H.C.L. REDUCES U.S. BEEF CONSUMPTION 8 LBS. PER CAPITA

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—High retail prices in 1919 reduced the per capita consumption of beef in America almost eight pounds, and caused the consumer to turn to veal and mutton, according to a statement today by the department of agriculture. Slightly less pork was eaten but the total consumption of pork products was much larger than in 1917 and the exports of pork and lard were greater than ever shown in the records of the department. The meat consumption was less than in 1918, the per capita for 1918 being 159.95 and that in 1919, 141.29.

Beef exports were shown to have fallen off 50.8 per cent, but the shipments of pork and lard to foreign ports showed a great increase. The exports were equivalent to 18,000,000 hogs weighing 200 pounds apiece. The number of hogs slaughtered was a million more than in 1918.

PRESIDENT WILL ATTEMPT SOLUTION OF COAL TANGLE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—An effort to compose the differences between the majority and minority of the bituminous coal strike commission will be made by President Wilson, it was said today at the White House. Officials said that neither the majority or minority report would be made public if there was a probability of bringing the members of the commission to an agreement on their principal differences—the amount of the wage advance and the hours of work.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, who hurried here last night from New York, where he has been attending the anthracite wage conference, conferred today with Mr. White and William Green, secretary of the miners union, familiarizing himself with the failure of the majority to recommend improved working conditions proved a disappointment to the miners, it was said, as this had been one of the chief demands of the men. Officials said today that John P. White, the miners' representative had held out for a six hour day throughout the negotiations between the commissioners in an effort to reach an unanimous agreement. The miners originally demanded a six hour day and five days a week.

OLD KENTUCKY SHINDIG RIVALS CITY CABARETS

Broadway cabarets stir up in the light of the gaiety of a good old Kentucky shindig as shown in "Heart O' the Hills," adapted from the story by John Fox, Jr., Mary Pickford's latest production from her own studios and which is now playing at the Rialto theatre.

As Mavis Dawn, the hardworking and unlovely daughter of a Kentucky mountain family, Miss Pickford is given an unprecedented opportunity to display her unexcelled ability to produce laughs and tears.

Unwilling to see her rustic Romeo defeated in juggling honors by an aristocrat from the lowlands, Miss Pickford dashes into the circle and makes a noble effort to keep the terpsichorean laurels among the mountain folk. The dance is suddenly interrupted when Uncle Zeke, going on 93 years old, orders the dance to stop. He has lost his teeth.

ate modification had a weakening effect and that he would not support any reservation which did not go as far as the original. He offered a substitute.

The irreconcilable opponents of ratification also indicated they would vote to substitute the new draft for the old one, but leaders insisted they would hold close to thirty votes. Compromise advocates among the democrats predicted that about the same number of their side would vote for the substitute. It takes sixty-four votes to ratify, however.
