Bean Power Sprayers Have now reached such tremendous national sale that the manufacturers are the first to carry full page space in the Saturday Evening Post and Country Gentleman. Read this advertisement which will appear in these publications, issue of January 10th, 1920. You cannot afford to use any other than the Bean Power Sprayer.

John Bean, Inventor He Showed the Way in 1883 to Save Millions of Fruit Trees from Pests. The 1920 Bean Power Sprayer Different from Others in Money Saving Ways. THE modern "BEAN" is different from all other power sprayers in some very vital ways. The "BEAN" includes a patented pressure regulator that results in great economy—Threadless Ball Valves—Porcelain-lined Cylinders—doubly strengthened bearings and other wearing parts. You will want these features and others found in "BEAN" sprayers if you are to spray at the lowest cost and with best results. The "BEAN" Resilient alone often saves one-half the time usually spent in spraying an entire orchard. When occasion requires "BEAN" plunger packing is replaced in twenty minutes by an inexperienced man. No need for a mechanic and the pay for several hours of his time. All six threadless ball valves are removed in two minutes with engine running and 300 lbs. pressure on the pump. Men who have spent half a day in removing threaded valves have doubted that statement until they have seen "BEAN" valves come out. The valves are washed out while open, through an underneath section—an underneath section—another immensely convenient "BEAN" feature. The porcelain-lined cylinders are without stuffing boxes. They eliminate grit troubles and last a lifetime. These advantages are the result of 36 years specialization in the building of improved power sprayers based on an ingenious, original design. If you are going to buy a sprayer and want the best, there is little choice today.
