The Medford and Ashland high schools are interested in the egg market as witness the following editorial in the latest issue of the Medford Hi Times: "During the last few weeks eggs have been in popular demand as a medium of expressing sentiment. Some of the students of both Medford and Ashland have the idea that school spirit and keen rivalry can be shown thru ripe egg throwing and have been carrying out this idea in several recent raids. At first it was funny—we will grant that. But now it has assumed a serious proportion. It has reached the point where it is threatening athletics and both schools should wake up and clamp the lid on such activities. Even the good old interschool mock scraps show a little more courage than the now famous 'egg bee.' Doesn't it take a real man to throw an egg from a telephone post? Egg raids will eventually and inevitably mean trouble in athletics. Let's cut out the kid stuff before it's too late."

PICTURE BRIDES TO COME TILL AUGUST

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 26—Japanese picture brides will continue coming into this country until August August, despite the proscription placed on them by the Japanese government because of the fact that many of the brides secured previously to February 25 when the ban became operative, and now are awaiting passage to this country. The Japanese association of America announced here today.

"According to the regulations of the Japanese government, a passport is valid for six months after its issuance," the association said. "It is therefore obvious that for the few months following February 25 picture brides will continue to come, though undoubtedly in decreasing numbers. The Japanese government cannot legally revoke the passports that were issued before February 25."
