OVERLAND "4" SETS A GREAT ENDURANCE MARK

Stock Car, Running 24 Hours a Day for Seven Days, Establishes Record at Indianapolis.

IT TRAVELS 5452 MILES

This Is Said to Equal a Year's Wear and Tear by the Average Motor Car Owner.

FURIOUS DRIVING ALL THE WAY

Triplex Springs Protect Car From Road Vibration of Driving at an Average 32 1/2 Mile an Hour Speed.

Driven continuously for seven days and seven nights, over ordinary suburban roadways, an Overland 4 stock car has established at Indianapolis, Ind., a new unofficial world's mileage record for a light car under 168 hours of incessant driving.

The Overland 4 in the seven days and night of this remarkable endurance run piled up record of 5,452.15 miles. The car finished the grind on the same Fisk tires which it started. To make this new record, the drivers of Overland 4 maintained an average speed of 32 1/2 miles an hour, 24 hours a day. Gasoline mileage was 20.24 miles a gallon.

The consistency of Overland 4 performance is shown in this tabulation of each day's run. The first day and night, the speedometer registered 749 miles. On the second day, the mark was 778 miles; on the third, 747 miles; on the fourth, 793; fifth, 809; sixth, 823, and on the last lap of the new unofficial world's record, 753 miles.

The test, the first of its kind to be tried and actually accomplished by a light car, started at 9 a. m. on February 25th and ended at 9 a. m. on March 3rd. The run was conducted by the Gibson Company of Indianapolis, distributors for Overland cars. The mileage and gasoline records are certified by the following observers:

Howard F. (Howdy) Wilcox, winner of the 1919 Indianapolis Speedway 500 mile racing classic; Munroe E. Boblet, secretary of the Hoosier Motor club of Indianapolis; and R. H. Scrogin, editor of the Hoosier Motorist.

Although the new Overland 4 with Triplex springs had been tested 250,000 miles under all possible weather and road conditions before it was placed on the market by the Willys-Overland Company, the officials of the company feel that the Indianapolis endurance run is one of the most convincing demonstrations yet made of the reliable, economical performance of the car and the road-comfort qualities of the now famous Triplex spring suspension.

Officials of the company witnessed the start and the finish of the seven-day continuous run. Careful examination of the car and its power plant after the run convinced the Gibson company that the car was ready to repeat the endurance test of the 168 hours of furious driving and largely because the car had been protected by the new Triplex springs. The run is considered the highest possible verification of the ability of this new spring suspension to protect the car from road wear and provide big car riding comfort in a motor car of short wheel-base.

PRESBYTERIANS OF ASHLAND GATHER ANNUAL REUNION

ASHLAND, April 2.—Presbyterians gathered in annual reunion at the church on Wednesday evening. As a preliminary a big feast was served, and it was such a repast as has made the yearly gathering famous. There was a superabundance of all the substantial and luxuries, served in generous measure by the Wednesday Afternoon club and the Ladies' Aid. This year the attendance was notably large and enthusiastic. Fortified by an ideal dinner, the business session which followed was correspondingly energetic. Aggressiveness is in order with all the activities of the church, the spiritual and financial outlook being gratifying. There is $500 or more in the treasury, a condition which has not heretofore prevailed for years. Evidently the congregation, in meeting a multiplicity of calls on every hand, are not unmindful of their church obligations. Church, Sunday school, missionary and other activities have been quickened, while the social status is marked by an era of good fellowship which is even more than proverbial. The position of Rev. C. F. Koehler as permanent pastor has been confirmed, and under his ministrations the work of the church has become standardized along progressive lines.

A bazaar, held in an environment reflecting the atmosphere and traditions of both the occident and the orient, will be held by the ladies of Trinity guild, in the parish house, on Thursday, April 8, afternoon and evening. As its name implies, this bazaar will afford a display and sale of numerous articles, fancy, useful and ornamental and it goes without saying that the merits of the collection will prompt many to invest.

Among those returning here to remain indefinitely from northern points, are Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wyant, who have been living in the vicinity of Seattle since the war period dawned, Mr. Wyant having been employed in the shipbuilding industry around Bremerton and Charleston in a governmental semi-service capacity.

The special service of song by the Presbyterian choir, which was to have been given to commemorate Easter, next Sunday evening has been postponed a week from April 4.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fahs, whose home is on Pine street, has been named Lois, and the little son of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Burdick has Robert Lester for his given name. Charlotte May is the name as applied to the little girl recently adopted by Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Mitchell, who thus succeeds to all the comforts of a fine home as afforded by this kind hearted family residing on Fairview street.

Supt. Briscoe, and T. H. Simpson, chairman of the school board, have returned from a visit to Albany, where they were in attendance upon a convention specifically called for consideration of problems dealing with the educational question as applying to both schools and teachers, particularly compensation in behalf of the latter.

To the platform born might appropriately be applied to R. P. Campbell, local poet laureate, who as "Dick Posey" has ever been willing to respond with both time and talent in contributing to the entertainment of the community on all manner of occasions. To such extent has his merit been recognized along these lines, that the Ellison-White chaletauqua management have prevailed upon him to enter their employment for a stated period at least.

Dr. Bertha Sawyer, osteopathist, with offices remaining in Pioneer block, has changed her personal residence from Oak street to the Wheeler home on North Main.

L. P. Kidder, inspector in the government postal service, has been in town this week attending to details connected with the renewed lease by the Masonic lodge of the postoffice quarters. His home is in Roseburg, from which center he supervises post-office requirements as they exist in southern Oregon's six counties. Previous to his call here he had been over in Klamath county on official matters. He is an affable gentleman, with whom it is a pleasure to transact business.

Mrs. H. J. Van Fossen is expected home soon from an extended visit with relatives in Tennessee. In the meantime Mrs. C. S. Sibley and the Perry Ashcraft family will vacate her home on North Main and remove to property recently purchased.

A native son of Jackson county, and who is a candidate before the republican primaries for secretary of state, has been a visitor locally this week. Reference is made to E. L. Coburn, of Grants Pass, who is laying out the lay of the political landscape through the valley.

Trinity Episcopal church observed Good Friday by a series of services commemorating the anniversary of the greatest tragedy in Christendom. Local Rehearsals date upon "Fifth Tuesday," and on March 30, they observed that particular date in the monthly calendar on a social scale greater than ever.

Bert H. Harris, former resident of Medford, and well known thru fraternal affiliations both there and in Ashland, died recently at Berkeley, Cal.

after prolonged illness initially contracted in the Canal Zone region, from which section he was brought to central California, never having recovered his normal health. Details as to his physical collapse in Central America have never developed.

The Maccaobes will hold a cooked food sale at Enders store, Saturday, April 3, affording an opportunity to obtain a variety of Easter edibles.

C. D. Porter, former west Ashland resident, and later a rancher in Lake county, is now living at Payette, Ida., which is also the present home of C. H. Robertson of the Square Deal orchards across Bear creek.

Prof. Irving Vining, after the customary vacation season here with relatives and friends, has returned to New York city to re-engage in his professional activities indefinitely.

"Save-money-or-meet" week is being indifferently observed thru this section of Oregon, no effects being apparent even in hash circles.

Mrs. Clara Engle, of Soquel, Cal., with her children is expected here soon for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Sadie Irwin. Later on mother, daughter and grandchildren will return to California together to remain indefinitely.

The Gearhart property east of town ten acres in extent and well improved has been sold to Mrs. Lillian Inman, newcomer from Iowa. The acreage is so extensive that the place will be cultivated on a scale justifying ranching operations. The Archie Miller home on Hargadine street has been purchased by Mrs. C. S. Sibley, who with the Perry Ashcraft family will occupy it. Mrs. Edna Clark has moved from the Burdick house on Laurel street to East Main. C. R. De Haven, in moving to a different location, has rented property on Scenic drive. Indicating operations on an extensive scale, A. L. Lamb, building contractor, has moved concrete mixing equipment from highway work near Tolo to the vicinity of Morton and Iowa streets, and will build a number of houses of the cement type. Two will be started initially, with more to follow, if the project justifies it. Among urban improvements the State Exchange on East Main street, also Stearns grocery on the Plaza, are both undergoing extensive interior improvements.

The Girls Glee club of the state university, the personnel of which includes 21 star vocalists, comprising 11 sopranos and 10 altos, in addition to an accompanist, a director and manager, and a staid chaperon, will appear here in concert at the Vining theatre, Saturday evening, April 3. Patronize the collegiate girls.

PROGRAM COMPLETE! EASTER FROLIC AT PARK TOMORROW

Tomorrow is the big day that the children have been waiting for—the day of the Easter egg hunt in the city park. Perhaps it had better be called the annual Easter frolic, for that is what it is hoped to make it. The egg hunt is the first event and the event for the little kiddies. But, the egg race, which follows, and is open to all boys and girls, will be almost as much fun. Mr. W. V. Crowson will have charge of this feature—it will be run in six divisions. A first and second prize goes to each division. Then follows ten other athletic events, under direction of Mr. King, athletic director for the boys and girls over ten years, in through the grammar grades—as listed in yesterday's paper. These will be run on Ivy street.

The three blocks from Holly to Oakdale, including the city park library block, and Washington school grounds, will be closed to the public as largely as possible from 12 o'clock until 2. The boy scouts will police the grounds from one o'clock on, and during the afternoon. It is understood a small detachment of the militia will be there, and also a large committee of well known Elks. Then a large group of women to look after the children, the younger ones in particular.

The public has been generous in their response with eggs, and the merchants have donated all the prizes for the athletic contests for both boys and girls.

The newspaper has also given most generously to the publicity of the affair. To them, and to all who have given such a hearty response to all calls for assistance, the committee, in the name of the children of the community, extend their hearty thanks.
