MIX THE INIMITABLE DUE IN A NEW PLAY

Tom Mix, the inimitable, is to be here again with new thrills, adventures, fun and romance in a new photoplay the rapid fire action of which is indicated in its title, "The Speed Maniac." It is to open tomorrow at the Rialto theatre. The perpetual fascination of Mix, the intrepid daredevil of western drama—the one real cowpuncher of photoplay—has set him in the mid-sky of stardom.

"The Speed Maniac" is a story of western life, embodying, according to advance reports, a big auto race classic, a boxing match in which Mix champions the weak and baffles the wrong; some daring rides on the famous horse Tony, and other "stunts" that show Mix a past master of his craft—which includes handling a charming love theme.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS
By A. C. Howlett

Among the callers, after I had written the Eaglets for the Mail Tribune Saturday afternoon were George Morriche and George Klinge of Lake creek. Mr. Morriche is the man who has charge of the water pipe at the intake of the Fish Lake-Medford water system, and Mr. Klinge is one of the promising young farmers of the Lake creek country. Wm. Holmes Jake Jonas and A. M. Gay were also guests at the Sunnyside Saturday night.

Easter Sunday morning broke on us rather damp early in the morning it was raining and then that went off with a fog that lasted for a few hours, but then the sun came out bright and clear and the day proved to be as lovely as one could have desired and we had our Sunday school as usual with the exception that our superintendent was not in his usual place, on account of a slight indisposition, but his father, the senior Mr. Esch, took his place and we had one of those interesting lessons appropriate to the occasion for our consideration.

Among the arrivals at the Sunnyside for dinner were Elmer Nice, Hotel Medford truck driver, Sidney S. Smith and children Lloyd and Stanley of Medford, Mr. Theron Taylor, E. P. Ray Casey, wife and two boys, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McReynolds and daughter Eva, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Murrell, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Simpson, Lauretta Simpson, George W. Neilson wife and two boys, Harry Lewis, Wm. Von der Hellen, wife and daughter Joyce and son Hugo, and later in the day Mr. E. M. Sutton, E. Whiston and G. Whiston of Central Point and Wm. Lewis, our sheep king, also of Central Point. The McReynolds, Murrells and Simpsons after eating their dinner and spending an hour or more looking over the place and enjoying the beauties of our Butte creek started for a drive, intending to return for supper, but on the road had a breakdown in one of their cars and the result was they, at least a part of the company, came in late and reported their mishap and went on to Medford as one of the ladies had left her children with a neighbor to care for them and it being Sunday evening could not phone so hurried on home as fast as they could. This incident illustrates the fact that there are no earthly pleasures without their sorrows.

Wm. Heckathorn of Elk Creek (Trail), is here visiting his uncle and aunt, Frank Lewis and wife.

Mr. Mechem of Trail, came out from Medford on the stage Monday morning and went up home on the Trail stage and a young girl also came out from Medford and went up on the Trail stage.

Rudolph Peek and Henry Tonn of Lake creek, two of our prosperous farmers made a short stop at the Childreth shop as they passed thru town Monday on their way from Medford.

William Holman and Cecil Culbertson of Lake creek, were doing business here also Monday.

Tuesday Jack O'Conner of Phoenix called for dinner and he had with him Roy J. Frederick, E. A. Braden of Tacoma, L. E. Bigelow of Medford. The visitors were very reticent as to their business but I would judge by their conversation that they were interested in geological business, either oil or mining.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McReynolds, C. W. McReynolds and wife, of the A. W. Walker Auto company were here for dinner Tuesday. Mr. C. W. McReynolds is selling the different kinds of autos for the A. W. Walker Auto company.

At Home or Abroad

—the church stands back of civilization

THE Presbyterian Church has always been forward in evangelism and social service. It seeks to turn men to God and to uplift life in every community it touches.

Teaching and preaching amid the snows of the Arctic and the jungles of Africa—
Tending the sick on five continents—a colossal Samaritan ministering to suffering humanity in super-stition-ridden regions, where the only hospitals are church-maintained—
Teaching India's millions to impound their waters against coming drought, showing Brazil how to plow its land, and combating Bolshevism in the mines, lumber camps, and congested areas of cities—
This is how the Presbyterian Church is helping to make a better world.

Every Presbyterian adherent is a partner in this magnificent enterprise. What can the church count upon from you in the financial canvass April 25 to May 2?

Do you know that you are living in the most critical period of American history? Do you know that a struggle is now going on between two forces in the United States, the outcome of which will decide forever what the future of the nation is to be?

Few, perhaps, realize the tremendous nature of the crisis. Our daily papers are full of it, ministers preach it from the pulpit. The struggle is a struggle for supremacy between those who possess and those who produce, and on the outcome depends our whole future prosperity and freedom.

Thomas H. Ince, master producer, has woven around this situation a tremendous and realistic drama, staged on a stupendous scale, filled with spectacular scenes, and presenting the mighty struggle in all its significance. It is a human drama based on a big human problem that all who are interested in the future of the nation should see. It is a picture which will be talked about for months after it is shown. "Dangerous Hours," is adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story "A Prodigal in Utopia," by Donna Byrne. It is especially supervised by Mr. Ince and worthy to take place
