"Gets-It" the never-failing, guaranteed, money-back corn remover, is but a trifle at any drug store, by H. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

CROPS AT TABLE ROCK BENEFITTED BY APRIL RAINS

TABLE ROCK, April 16.—The April showers are proving a great stimulation to growing crops, such as grain, gardens and alfalfa, which are looking much better than they have for several years at this season. Farmers have about finished the seeding of alfalfa and are now busy preparing ground for potatoes and corn.

A letter from Miss Fern Reid states that her father died on April 4 at Abraham, Utah, of blood poisoning. The Reid family resided in this community some ten years ago and were highly respected by their many neighbors.

The ranch recently purchased by Loren Gregory has been seeded to grain and alfalfa, but will not be occupied until fall, when Mr. Gregory and family will move from the Azate district into their new home and thus become a valuable addition to our neighborhood. Hundreds of people from the valley towns were out this way last Sunday to gather flowers and many beautiful bouquets of white lams tongues were secured.

Harry Nealon, who has much faith in the oil possibilities of this valley, spent a part of last Sunday inspecting the oil well at Fern Valley.

Sanidge pots have been placed in readiness by some of our orchardists, but from present weather indications, will not be needed.

Roland Maherty, secretary of the Farm Bureau, was out this way last week, setting traps for their next shipment.

An interesting news letter sent out by the department of agriculture gives the purchasing power of an acre of wheat at the present time and before the war by giving a long list of articles and the number of each an acre of wheat will buy at the present time and previously.

It is noticed that where the buying power of the wheat has increased to any extent it is generally with articles that a farmer buys very few of, and the increased cost of producing the wheat is not considered.

A loading chute has been erected on the Reese place and five large trucks are busy hauling pumace to surface the road between Azate and Central Point.

This is the first time pumace soil has crossed the river for road dressing and those of us who have seen it used for this purpose, believe that there is no soil in the valley that exceeds it and few that equal it. Coarse pumace, when properly packed, is not effected by water and has enough grit so that it is never slippery, contains no rocks, so is always smooth and during the heat of summer glazes over and becomes harder as the travel increases.

Mr. Meyers, who a few years ago farmed the Wykoff ranch, was shaking hands with old friends in this district abt Sunday. Mr. Meyers has disposed of his ranch property near Roseburg and is now looking for a suitable location in the Rogue River valley.

Ethel Wilcox and Mrs. Davison attended the Presbyterian meeting at Central Point last week.

Melborn Atkins of Lakeview spent a few days of last week visiting friends and relatives in this district.

Will Lydiard has taken a logging contract near Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Collins and baby of Medford were visitors in this district Tuesday evening. Clark is demonstrating with a new Allen car.

R. C. Washburn has returned to his orchard property here, after an absence of several months spent in many different parts of the country.

Miss Sue Lydiard, who is teaching a private school in Medford, enjoyed several days' vacation last week, which she spent at home.

REESE CREEK RIPELTS

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Will Merritt April 12th, an eight and a half lb. daughter. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Tom Vestal and wife have been visiting in Medford for a few days prior to going to housekeeping on their ranch above Reese creek. Tom expects to work on the Butte Falls road.

Miss Marie Meyers and a few of her friends came out from Medford Sunday morning and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hammel.

Mr. Hammel and Marshall Minter are working on Mr. Hammel's wind mill, raising and placing it in position.

Rev. John Stille preached Sunday after Sunday school. Mr. Eli Stille and Rev. J. Stille sang a duet, "Cast Thy Bread Upon the Waters."

C. E. Bellows was soliciting for the Farm Bureau last week. Mr. Lewis of Central Point, the sheep man, was out this week looking after his flocks.

Papers Reduced to 8 Pages CINCINNATI, O., April 16.—Cincinnati afternoon newspapers announce that owing to the shortage of news print paper, editions will be limited to eight pages until the situation is relieved.
