By Harriet Boewig "Oh, ves, they'll have it anyway; They'd better be exposed today, In ignorance so parents say,

A how of white upon the door, little voice is heard no more; Another point on ignorance' score, This is quoted from the Ohio Pub-lic Health Journal.

Children do not "have to" have the so-called children's diseases. The They can go through life very comfortably without them. The time is not so long past when we said that these diseases "brought out" some myster-ious poisons in the blood. Alas, the only real poison in the blood of the new-born is not so easily gotten rid of. Better keep clean boys and run no chances of putting the poison into your children. But children's diseases are as preventable as any of the other contag-ious discusses, and strict quarantine and keeping your youngster away from sick children as well as being careful who kisses it is much the wiser plan than putting all into the same bed when one has it, because, forsooth, they will get it eventually-why not now?

These diseases are carried in the mouth, all of them, and they are caught some time before they break out. So your little tribe may all have taken it when the first comes down. Yet this is not necessary, and may not be. Keep the sick one away from the rest, and run the chance of the other-

A WORTHY CAUSE

M ILLIONS of dollars are being sent abroad to help the suffering people of foreign lands. This is a necessary and a noble work, but more important are the suffering at home.

There are at this time something like 335,000 United States soldiers, sailors and marines who are permanently States soldiers, sailors and marines who are permanently what this country does not need disabled, this disability having been incurred either is a man on horseback. What this through wounds or disease in their country's service. Provision has been made by the United States government for training these men so they may resume some useful and productive service, but not only is the sum allowed inade quate, but through the senseless obstruction of governmental red tape, thousands of young men entitled to this aid, are unable to secure it.

A Carry-On association has been formed in New York City to relieve this deplorable situation, and correct what amounts to no less than a governmental crime. Not only Official paper of Jackson County. have these men most gloriously earned the care they do Mentered as second-class matter at not get, but every neglected case is adding to the already alarming enidemic of Bolsheviam anarchy and unorth alarming epidemic of Bolshevism, anarchy and unrest, which if not checked will ultimately destroy our American civilization.

Here is a cause, which must appeal to every right thinking American. It is not only a cause for sympathy, it's a cause for action. For $10 per week from each man's allowance this association supplies good wholesome food, a room, dental and medical care, clothes, laundry and necessary transportation. This leaves to each man a sufficient amount to keep up his insurance and cover the necessary incidental expenses.

The organization is conducting no drive. Its working force is composed of unpaid volunteers, and it depends for its maintenance upon voluntary contributions.

In conclusion, let us emphasize the need is immediate. These men, after sacrificing their health and efficiency for their country, now show the spirit and determination to refit themselves for useful living, but the medium is not provided,-at least not adequately. It may be natural to curse governmental red tape, and condemn the political hodge podge, with which the country is inflicted. That relieves the feelings, but it doesn't help these boys.

No, a genuine emergency exists, and the only way to meet that emergency is with money. The movement has the sanction of the government, it must have the sanction. we feel sure, of every individual who understands it. Contributions should be made payable to James A. Blair, Jr., treasurer of the National Allied Relief Committee, 2 West 45th street, New York.

how we stood and trembled, and hoped-and hoped in vain! The fool winds come a-whooping and blew the clouds away; and we, with spirits drooping, went weeping to the hay. And all our faith was shaken in everything below; our world had lost its bacon, our heritage was woe. And then at last the water came tumbling from on high; Old Pluvius, he shot her from somewhere round the sky. All night the rain was pouring and splashing on the lea, and soon the rills were roaring in tumult to the sea. And then you should have seen us, how merrily we strode, and mudholes strewn between us, as we went up the road! Then all our griefs were banished as cheap and tinhorn fakes, and pessimism vanished in less than seven shakes.
