Divine Healer

Of Colorado, of 25 years ago, and styled "by the newspapers" "the world's greatest divine healer" has been drawing great crowds at the People's Auditorium in Portland, Grand Opera House in Salem, and Eugene and other places, and healing hundreds of people of all kinds of diseases. He carries records of many wonderful cases of healing from Denver, Seattle, Salem, Eugene and many other places.

In the larger places crowds are being turned away from the opera houses and hotels daily, unable to see him on account of the rush. Some have waited as high as four days to get to see him. He is prevailed upon almost every available moment to go out in autos and taxis to see those who are unable to come, or be brought to him.

The Father will be at Hotel Nash, Medford, Saturday, April 24, to May 1. All who wish to be healed may see him, 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. daily.

REV. J. K. BAILLIE GIVEN HEARTFELT FAREWELL, PHOENIX

Seldom has there been such a warm expression of good will manifested on the part of the people of this valley to any one as was shown last night in Clyde Hall, Phoenix.

The members of the Phoenix Presbyterian church and congregation and other residents of the community gathered in large numbers to express their feelings in terms of unalloyed loyalty toward Rev. J. K. Baillie, D. D. and Mrs. Baillie, who for the past ten years have made their home there.

Now that the time is drawing near at hand when these much respected friends are to change their residence to Los Angeles, the heartaches are rapidly developing. But there is a very consoling feature of the nature of the heartaches. Both Dr. and Mrs. Baillie "have fought a good fight" and "have kept the faith," though there is no sign that they have finished their course. Quite the contrary, for Dr. Baillie has acquired the habit of preaching for so many years in accordance with Christ's Sermon on the Mount that "all things whatsoever we would that man should do to you, do ye even so to them" that he will not easily be able to withdraw from this practice. Nor will he attempt it, but rather, because of his long-established custom he can be counted on to "walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God."

This is a day of concentration and co-operation, and in both these respects Dr. Baillie is fortunate in having the unflinching assistance of his good wife.

In tangible recognition of the high esteem in which the congregation hold them, Dr. Booser handed to Mrs. Baillie a beautiful gold wrist watch and to Dr. Baillie a scarf pin and set of cuff links. Both of the recipients acknowledged the gifts in words of heartfelt appreciation and manifested in every way the high value they place upon Dr. Baillie's parishioners after this long term of service.

It seemed fitting to the officers of the church that Dr. and Mrs. Baillie should carry with them some token of respect in the form of a written word which they might carry with them to present as occasion might justify, and accordingly the following was placed in Dr. Baillie's hand, after being read to those who had gathered:

"To Whom it May Concern: This will introduce to you Rev. J. K. Baillie, D. D., and Mrs. Baillie, who for the past ten years have made their home in Phoenix, Oregon.

"During this entire period Dr. Baillie has held the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of Phoenix, and both he and his able wife have won the love and esteem, the respect and confidence not only of the people of the community in which they have resided, but those of the entire Rogue River valley as well.

"Dr. Baillie is one of those 100 per cent Americans whose services stand out as indispensable to the growing needs of a world torn asunder by the ravages of war, and fortunate indeed is that community which is able to gain his counsel.

"A man of the finest Christian character, a prince among men, Dr. Baillie has ever stood for the right even in the face of daring odds. He is a man with a heart which beats in sympathetic rhythm with the oppressed and the afflicted, and he is untiring in his efforts to lend comfort and aid where his services are needed.

"Mrs. Baillie has always been a strong support to her husband in the work he has undertaken, and as a leader in the woman's organizations of the church and community her services have been unexcelled. She has proven herself a tower of strength in the Missionary Society and Red Cross activities and has, at all times shown herself willing, ready and efficient respecting the cause in hand.

"We, the undersigned, representing the various organizations of the church and community, bespeak for Dr. and Mrs. Baillie the esteem and confidence which they have so worthily merited from us.
