The DEALER says="the GIANT mark protects you from imitations"

"It pays me to give my customers what they ask for," says the retailer who knows what's what. "When they ask for 'Giant Powders' I give them GIANT Powders—the real Giant, made by The Giant Powder Co., Con. I don't tell them that I have the same thing, only under another brand name, because it is not true.

"The name 'Giant' on a case or a stick of powder is evidence that the powder is made by the company that originated Giant Powders. Remember this: You can't get Giant results when you use ordinary dynamites that look like Giant but aren't marked Giant."

Look into the new, money-saving methods of clearing land, blasting tree beds, ditching, building, etc. They are all described in our up-to-the-minute book, "Better Farming with Giant Farm Powders." A post card will bring it by the first mail.

FEDERAL DIRECTOR SCHOOL GARDENS VISITS MEDFORD

C. A. Stebbins, regional director of the U. S. School Garden Army, with headquarters at Chico, Calif., is in Medford conferring with local school officials. Mr. Stebbins works under the bureau of education, Washington D. C., and is making a tour of the northwest. The aims of his work are enumerated as follows:

To set to work at home under the direction and supervision of the school 10,000,000 boys and girls to grow plants and animals.

The average child takes it for granted that the next meal, the next dress or suit of clothes, the next movie ticket is coming from father. In other words he believes that his home owes him a living.

Every boy and girl physically and mentally able should produce a part of that which he or she consumes. The children should help to sustain the home, should feel obligated to the home for food, clothing, shelter.

It is not a healthy national condition when 24,000,000 boys and girls consume one-seventh of the foodstuff and produce practically nothing. The boy trained in habits of work of production makes a good citizen. The dissatisfied, dangerous man was a non-producer as a boy.

To give each boy and girl that biological, spiritual, moral, mental and physical background which comes from working with and knowing living things. Other things being equal the country boy makes the superior man because of this background of experience.

The school and home garden division has no program to foster. It desires to stimulate and to strengthen resident possibilities for productive education of this nature. In order to do this it offers free to teachers on application to the bureau of education: (1) Insignia for boys and girls who have animal and plant projects under way at school or at home; (2) diplomas to be awarded to children who complete their projects; (3) instructive manuals for teachers; (4) Large colored posters for the schools; (5) Enlistment blanks.

The high cost of living would be materially reduced if the homes became more self-sustaining. On the one hand are 10,000,000 boys and girls physically and mentally fit, on the other are thousands of backyards. The limiting factor for an effective and educational values is an effective organization such as the school.
