

ELK'S LODGE TO HAVE BIG JULY 4TH CELEBRATION

Those pesky Elks are always doing something to contribute to the safety and patriotism of the community, and now what do you think the local antlered herd have gone and done after looking around carefully to see what Medford has missed for many years, something every man, woman and child in the city longs to see and take part in.

Gather around folks and promise not to tell anyone, for it is a secret yet, but let it be divulged that those B. P. O. E. fellows are making arrangements for a grand old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration at the Elks lodge picnic grounds on the Rogue river 10 miles north from Medford, and the committees in charge will comprise over 250 active working Elks.

Yum, Yum! Think of the good time coming on Monday, July 5th, for the Fourth comes this year on Sunday, and will be universally celebrated on Monday. There will be scores of auto stages to transport the multitudes of pleasure seekers out to the picnic grounds, for all of Jackson county and Southern Oregon will be there. It will be an all day of celebration with something doing every minute. There will be all kinds of sports, races and water events, and dancing will be enjoyed on the big new floor.

At Thursday night's meeting of the Elks lodge the arrangements will be completed for what is expected to be the most elaborate and enjoyable Fourth of July celebration in the county's history, and the details of which will be let loose from time to time, but for the present you are requested to say nothing to anyone about it, and only keep the date and place in mind.

TORNADO DEATH LIST NOW 70

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 4.—The death toll of the cyclone that destroyed Pears, Okla., Sunday night, reached seventy, it was indicated today when reports of several additional deaths as a result of injuries, reached Muskogee. Physicians and rescue workers estimated that possibly a score of severely wounded would not survive.

SIGNOR MANNING, MEDFORD'S CARUSO, GIVEN AN OVATION

The spring season of grand opera and other noises was opened in Medford last night when Harry Manning, Medford's Caruso, made his 1920 debut after a long rest, much to the frantic delight of an audience that crowded the Liberty theater and paid the sweet singer vociferous applause. It was a night ever to be remembered.

Harry made a tremendous hit and responded liberally with encores. The audience was glutinous and seemingly could not get enough. Especially did his rendition of "They Go Wild Over Me" arouse enthusiasm, and his singing of "Bring Back Those Olden Days" brought tears of sadness or joy to the eyes of every one present.

His last encore when he came out dressed in summer costume with straw hat, gloves and cane was a fitting climax to an unusually enjoyable occasion.

The management of the Liberty is to be congratulated on its enterprising in delighting the music lovers of Medford.

LATEST NEWS OF THE STATE

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 4.—News of the death of Dr. H. P. Barrows, who has just resigned as professor of agricultural education and state supervisor of the Smith-Hughes act work in Oregon has been received by the college. Dr. Barrows was recently ill in Corvallis following an attack of pneumonia. He died in Berkeley, Cal., Monday.

Dr. Barrows had been appointed federal regional agent for agricultural education with headquarters at San Francisco.

He developed agricultural education in Oregon greatly, and said when leaving Corvallis that many towns had taken up the work in their high schools.

PORTLAND, May 4.—The sailing schooner William H. Smith, a former clipper ship built 50 years ago on the coast of Maine, arrived in the Columbia river yesterday from San Francisco and started up for Portland in tow of the tug Oneonta. The William H. Smith is under charter to carry lumber to Sydney, Australia.

FORM A WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE MEDFORD LEGION

Among the important matters for consideration at the business session of the American Legion post tonight, will be final plans for the formation of the women's auxiliary to the legion, and plans for a general membership drive to take place this month. The membership drive is to be a part of the national membership drive which is to take place throughout the entire country.

The formation of the women's auxiliary is taking place in every state in the Union, and a large percentage of the posts already have strong organizations of this character. All women are eligible to membership who are mothers, wives, sisters or daughters of men who were in the military or naval forces of the United States between April 7, 1917, and November 11, 1918, or the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of men who died in the service. The auxiliary will resemble in many respects the Women's Relief Corps which auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, and will be a part of the Oregon department, each state department being a part of the national organization.

The objects of the women's auxiliary will be the same as those of the American Legion, which are primarily patriotic.

CARRANZA STILL STRUGGLING

American officers do not believe Carranza will be forced to surrender or run for a considerable period of time despite progress made by the rebels.

The greatest immediate danger that official and unofficial observers here profess to see in the situation so far as it affected Carranza was that menacing him to the south. The long hook has now reached its barb almost to the gates of the capital. With the exception of a short break across the state of Jalisco, it has curved through the states of Colima, Michoacan, Guerrero and Morelos. A part of the forces in the state of Puebla have joined the rebels, advice agrees, and rebels in the state of Tlaxcala, between Mexico City and Vera Cruz have interrupted traffic both over the Inter-Oceanic and Mexican railroads.

MILLERAND WILL TALK REPARATION WITH L. GEORGE

PARIS, May 4.—Premier Millerand is going to London next week to confer with David Lloyd George, British prime minister, regarding financial questions. It is expected an agreement will be reached with regard to execution of the reparation clauses of the treaty at Versailles.

The premiers will also agree on the basis of the discussions to be held with the German representatives at the Spa meeting May 25.

The French viewpoint is that they will not discuss the principle of any clause of the treaty and will take up with the Germans only the manner of applying the treaty's terms.

What virtually amounts to a modification of the reparations clause will be discussed in the form of proposed minimum and maximum totals of reparations.

The French probably will not accept a lower minimum than 100 billion marks gold, but are likely to consent to fixing the minimum reparation payable by Germany at 150,000,000,000 marks, which was the limit the American experts reported they found Germany able to pay.

The minimum sum may be divided into annuities of 3,000,000,000 marks, as discussed at San Remo.

FINDS BODY OF WIFE.

fully as wild and desolate as the preceding statements of the prisoner had indicated it would be found to be. It lay in the foothills of the great mountain range that sweeps down along the western line of imperial valley, dividing that section from San Diego county.

The position of the body bore out every portion of Watson's alleged statement's concerning his course after he had killed the woman. He had said he put the body into an automobile in Santa Monica, a beach city adjacent to Los Angeles, and carried it down over the coast highway inland through San Diego county and then carried it in his arms to a spot he could not reach by automobile, where he thrust it into a small excavation. He said it was wrapped in canvas and otherwise nude.

The discovered facts all tallied with this statement. The prisoner was the center of attraction at El Centro this morning and later at Coyote Wells and here. He was nervous, and asked one of the deputies whether there was danger of violence, but when he was reassured he became relatively calm and talked on many topics.

He objected seriously, however, to the numerous photographers, armed with everything from pocket cameras to motion picture equipment, who tried to get snapshots and negatives of his every move. He repeatedly threw his arms before his face to hide his features, and pleaded with his guards to stop the photographing. They declined to interfere.

Makes a Speech

At the scene of the discovery Watson made a speech to the crowd before he would go forward.

He said: "My friends, I have come a long way to assist the law. I am not well, as you can see, and I wish to request that I be not worried with questions or requests for pictures until the body is uncovered."

When the party returned to El Centro Watson was placed in the county jail to await the inquest.

EL CENTRO, Cal., May 4.—Walter Andrew Watson, alleged bigamist and murderer, left here at 8:30 this morning for the spot in the mountains between El Centro and San Diego where, according to his reputed confession, he recently buried the body of Nina Lee Deloney, one of his wives, whom he had previously slain.

Watson spent a restless night on the train, repeatedly telling the officers that he was not responsible for his acts, and reiterating the arguments and claims of insanity that he advanced yesterday, in the form of a written statement. He told them that he believed they failed to find Mrs. Deloney's body on their previous trip, because he had "bent it up to get it into a narrow place."

There were hundreds of persons at the railroad station in El Centro this morning to see Watson taken from the train. He walked out, assisted by deputy sheriffs and was taken up town in custody until the members of the party could have breakfast.

Watson reiterated, according to the officers in the party that he would be able to take them directly to the spot where Mrs. Deloney was buried.

When the party stopped at an up-town restaurant for breakfast, a crowd that blocked the street formed outside. Watson took a seat at a table and ate a substantial meal, although he appeared nervous and weak. Afterwards the officers were compelled to form a lane thru which he could walk across the sidewalk to the ambulance. His official guards and the investigators were accompanied by a very large group of newspapermen. When the party started for Coyote Wells, the nearest station to the section to be searched, the ambulance headed a procession of a dozen automobiles. Photographers and motion picture men were also in the party.
