OREGON MANUFACTURERS "OVER-THE-TOPPER"

A serious unemployment situation arose. Ex-service men were without work. So Oregon's manufacturers increased the number of their employees.

A greater output followed with the attendant problem of finding a market. The market was found - the excellence of Oregon's products created demand and carried us "over the top".

O. A. C. MILLINER SCHOOL DATES IN THIS COUNTY

Through the efforts of the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Lydia Doolittle, millinery specialist from the Extension Department of the Agricultural College has been secured to conduct millinery schools in the following places over the county:

May 24, 25, 26, Talent; May 27, 28, 29, Phoenix; May 31, June 1, and 2, Central Point; June 3, 4, 5, Eagle Point; June 7, 8, 9, Ashland, and June 10, 11, 12, Rogue River.

These schools will begin at 9 A. M. with morning and afternoon sessions. It is the plan for women attending to bring their hats to make, renovate or remodel and do the work under the supervision of Miss Doolittle. There is no limit to the attendance at these schools. A news item from Coos county regarding schools, says:

A total of $1687.80 is the amount of hard cash saved by the women of eight communities, who attended the millinery schools held in Coos county during the past few weeks. One hundred and ninety-four hats were made at an average cost of 69c. Each woman placed a value on her finished product. The difference between the estimated value and cost is $8.70 or the average saving per hat.

Are millinery schools worth while?

ITALY OFFICERS REFUSE TO QUIT

LONDON, May 21.—Italy's political situation is causing considerable anxiety among the entente powers which is enhanced by the inability to obtain reliable news as to what is happening in that country.

One of the greatest difficulties in Italy at present, it is said, is the attempt to demobilize officers. An order recently issued for the demobilization of 20,000 officers, is said to have been entirely disregarded, the men refusing to take their discharge.

Very Successful Engagement

With the closing performance tonight at the Rialto Theatre, "Everywoman" ends one of the most successful engagements of any photo play ever exhibited in Medford.

Its modern extravaganza—a riot of beauty—a feast for the eyes and for the senses. "Everywoman" is the story of every woman—a picture that every woman and every man enjoys seeing. Don't be on the outside looking in—be on the inside tonight, and you'll know more and feel better.

Ethel Clayton Tonight

Ethel Clayton's new picture, "Young Mrs. Winthrop," which came to the Liberty theatre last evening for a two days run, will please, because it is about the kind of folks you and I know.

Miss Clayton has the role of a young and pleasure-loving wife, not at all in sympathy with her husband, who has his nose to the business grindstone.

Dorothy Dalton in "Black is White" a photoplay adapted from George Barr McCutcheon's novel of the same name, will be the attraction at the Liberty theatre tomorrow and Monday. Miss Dalton has a triple role, said to be unusually strong in dramatic and emotional ability, and is supported by a competent cast headed by Holmes Herbert.

15 CARS WILL BRING PASSING SHOW TO PAGE

Final arrangements for the bringing to Medford of the biggest and most costly attraction ever sent on tour in the history of theatres in America were concluded Thursday when Felix Risser, general representative of the New York Winter Garden was here in conference with George A. Hunt, manager of the Page theatre.

It was while speaking of the tremendous outlay of money which the Messrs. Shubert made in staging the "Passing Show," that Mr. Risser entered into a discussion of theatrical production. He contends that it is an art and not a business.

Some people assert that theatrical production at the present time is a business and not an art. These people are not business men or they wouldn't say that. They have never stopped to think of the vast sums that are lost every year in theatrical ventures. Business men want greater safety and certainty in their business.

It is hard to find the public pulse. No manager living can say beforehand that this or that production will be a financial success. Also, no manager has ever succeeded in forecasting the expenses, he will be put to in any given venture. Take transportation, for instance. Imagine the cost of transporting a big company like the "Passing Show," with its 200 people, its 15 cars for actors, scenery and costumes, and its army of mechanics and stage hands.

The cost of production has doubled over pre-war times. It would probably have cost about $100,000 to put on the "Passing Show" in the old days. Now it costs a fortune.

R. HITCHCOCK IS MOVING SPIRIT OF HITCHY KOO

Raymond Hitchcock and his new show, Hitchy Koo 1919, will draw the crowds to the Page theatre Tuesday night, May 25th. He will, as usual, be surrounded by a group of entertainers—this time the number runs into three figures and the much talked of chorus of "forty under twenty."

The new Hitchy Koo 1919 has been the most effective of the series of Hitchy Koo's, the famous musical reviews produced by Raymond Hitchcock.

Beautiful as the new show is in its lavish stage decorations, charming dressing, dancing and girls, laughing incidents and cheering music, it is the personality of "Hitchy" himself that gives it popular vogue. From beginning to end he moves in and out of the scenes and never lets the high stepping pitching of the performance drop in the slightest degree.

"My aim last season," said Hitchcock recently, "was to have a chorus of forty under twenty, the age of zest and relish, and now, in my 1919 show, I have fully sixty who may come under this heading, there isn't a raspberry among the bunch."
