THE TRIGONIA OIL COMPANY ISSUES A PUBLIC STATEMENT

To the Trigon Oil & Gas stockholders and the public in general: The Trigon Oil & Gas Company wishes to explain that, owing to a number of other oil companies being organized in the Rogue River valley, and Oil Scouts for outside companies having shown much interest and enthusiasm in the progress made, and very encouraging indications being encountered by this company, the directors think it necessary at this time to fully inform every stockholder in this company, and the general public, that this company is in no way connected, or in any manner associated with any other company or association, so please disregard any statements or rumors to the contrary.

Expansion of this company will be made through clean and untrammelled channels, namely, by organizing a subsidiary company when entering new territory, in which event, each stockholder in the parent Trigon Oil company, will be a pro-rata stockholder in each new company.

At this time we are offered considerable acreage in both Texas and Wyoming proven oil fields, which is being considered. These and other fields will be avenues for Trigon Oil company expansion, with a subsidiary company in each; but, under no consideration will funds from the parent company be used to open new fields; each new organization will finance itself, but the dividends will be shared with the parent company. They will all be Trigon Oil and Gas companies, numbered in the order of organization.

The Trigon Oil has just completed drilling the water well to a depth of 108 feet, which is five feet from the oil well, and cut two stratas of water, one at 40 and the second at 105 feet.

The Swedenburg well, where water was formerly secured, has also been drilled to a total depth of 80 feet, cutting a second flow at 63 feet. Considerable increase of water has thus been secured, and is thought to be sufficient for 24-hour drilling requirements.

The adjustments of changing from drilling the water well will be completed today and drilling will be resumed in the oil well by tomorrow.

WIMER RECEPTION IS HELD FOR CO. H. DEMONSTRATOR

WIMER, May 26.—There was a large community gathering at Wimer last Saturday. The object of this get-together, was to meet County Agent Cate and our home demonstrator, Miss Florence Pool. Mr. Cate explained the benefits of the Farm Bureau and Miss Pool gave an instructive demonstration in home-canning of vegetables. Mr. Warner of Medford and Mrs. Sheets of Phoenix also gave some instructive talks on their actual experience in canning. Other guests from a distance were Mrs. McComb, and Mrs. Warner. Before the meeting closed we were entertained by our Wimer quartette, who gave us two numbers that were very much appreciated.

Mrs. A. L. Taylor writes from Spokane, where she is visiting her father that he is much improved in health. Pine Grove school closed its doors last week after a very successful year under the able instructions of Miss Chandler.

Miss Ellen Taylor, our May's Creek teacher, is spending the week end with her mother in the Pass.

There are many homesteaders locating on Evans Creek and its tributaries. The timber seems to attract them and there is much good timber out this way.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Steward and son, Jack, formerly residents of Evans Creek, but now of the Applegate, were visiting friends on Monday.

F. G. Honner is doing a rushing business with his truck. On Monday he took a load of hogs belonging to Albert Van-othem to the Pass.

There was a very enthusiastic meeting of Enterprise Grange at Wimer on May 8, when eight new members were initiated and several other names presented for membership. The Grange is growing in popularity and is certainly a fine community center for Evans Creek.

A TOAST TO THE COW!

Knowing the cow as we do, we are all impressed by her characteristics of love, modesty, fidelity, patience, constancy and industry, and for these qualities she commands our admiration. We commend this wonderful animal to you for her great worth and usefulness. She is nothing other than an extension reservoir of wealth which seems to satisfy the physical and financial wants of all mankind with whom she comes in contact.

When we awake we behold the walls on which the plaster has been held by her hair; we fasten our clothes with buttons, we comb our hair with combs that have been made from her horns. We put our feet into shoes that are made from her skin, and as we enter the dining room we sit down to a tempting breakfast with access to 13 varieties of cereals crushed by belt-driven machinery, laced together with slivers of her hide, and we find in that breakfast room she has provided us with a piece of cheese, a cup of milk, a pitcher of cream for our coffee, a plate of hot sour-milk biscuit, a dish of butter, a smoking beefsteak teeming with deliciousness; and above everything else, are the bright, interesting, idolized children, whose foster mother she is.

We go to our office and spend the day making entries in books bound in her fleece; and fasten together important documents with glue made from her hoofs. Then, often, we partake of the noon-day lunch at the down-town cafes, drinking milk and return to that all-important spot of earth, more particularly known as "Home Sweet Home," to a six o'clock dinner and enjoy from her bountiful provision elegant roast beef, pumpkin pie, made with her milk out of pumpkins grown on land cultivated by plows drawn with great commercial tugs of leather taken from her sides and which pumpkins produce. Real estate is fertilized with her bones, and we eat it with teeth which, through a chemical process have been made from her paunch.

By day "Bossie" gathers food, and by night she converts it into articles of diet and usefulness. She is the only animal that works by day and night with her whole life on the job, never kicking about hours, never acquiring a union card, never having a vacation or even a day off, but she offers a reputation for honesty and faithful service that all dying millionaires might envy.

The cow commenced her mission at Plymouth Rock. Tied behind the dust covered wagon, she has gone with man as Westward the star of this great republic took its hazardous course. It was her sons that hauled the emigrant wagons as they coursed their way from New England states to our own proud lands of the Golden West, and broke the sod in the settlement of this country. She endured all the hardships of the pioneer, and during her march, as well as when settled, she picked up the straws that blew her way and furnished the milk to rear the babies that became the builders of this great nation.
