

BRIDGE COLLAPSES, RIFLE DISCHARGED, ED. MARTIN HURT

EDEN-PRECINCT, May 28.—We are sorry to announce the accident to Edward Marren, last week, while crossing a small bridge, the bridge broke, letting him fall thru, and a .22 rifle which he was carrying, was discharged the ball entering the fleshy part of his leg, just below the knee. Fortunately no bones were broken, and he is doing nicely.

Mrs. A. S. Furry has been spending the past few days with her sister, Mrs. C. C. Cate, of Medford. Every one in Phoenix and vicinity is glad to see Mrs. Furry so far recovered from her recent illness to be able to visit around a little, and we hope for an early return to perfect health.

Friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. French last Saturday evening, and gave them a rousing welcome back to their former home in North Talent. They numbered about twenty-five, of the nearest neighbors. The gathering was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. French. The evening was spent in pleasant converse and closed with a luncheon consisting of cake, coffee, sandwiches and chocolate. All had a most enjoyable time.

Frost along Bear creek did an immense amount of damage to gardens, especially potatoes and corn. Most of which was well along.

Tuesday evening there was a community meeting at Clyde hall, for the purpose of calling Roy Angell, to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Phoenix for the coming year. A most bounteous supper was served, and Rev. Booser of Medford gave a most interesting talk, after which Rev. Angell absented himself for a short time while the call which was unanimous, was given.

Oak circle No. 242 Phoenix, Ore., gave a social evening to the camp and members of the circle. Wednesday evening, and a very nice time was had. Ice cream and cake was served those present, and music and games afforded the amusements of the evening.

We are sorry to announce the serious condition of Grandpa Miller of Phoenix. Little hope is being entertained for the old gentleman, and his son Edward of Portland, has been sent for.

Guests at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. French last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Denham of Talent, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rapp and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crawford and children.

CLASS OF 54 IS GRADUATED AT ASHLAND H. S.

ASHLAND, May 28.—Fifty-four boys and girls, one of the largest classes in local high school history graduated from that institution last night. The scene was the Chautauqua auditorium, the stage settings of which were resplendent with decorations in keeping with the interesting annual event. Moreover, the weather was propitious, auguring well for the class prophesy as far as a typical spring environment was concerned. The program was necessarily brief, being devoid of the manifold exercises which prevailed as a routine in former days. Numerically the "average girl graduate" predominated, the ratio as between boys and girls being well nigh three-to-one in favor of the young ladies. Educational standing has ranked high the past year, and the record of the class of 1920 will not be merely legendary in Ashland high annals, either in the light of educational accomplishment or athletic merit and prowess. The student body has worked for the highest ideals most successfully, and goes forth from the old familiar halls of learning well equipped to enter any sphere of activity.

Prof. Pohlman, of the Oregon Agricultural college, delivered the main address, his expressive topic being "The Grip That Holds," a subject which afforded incentives to united effort and a determination to excel. In fact, an appropriate motto of the class might incorporate the suggestive term, "Excellence," as typifying the goal which members of the class plan to attain in whatever vocation they may select.

The list of graduates follows, some of the boys being ex-service men, the great world war having delayed the completion of the prescribed four-year course:

Helen Adamson, Eleanor Allen, Elmer Biegel, Earl Beck, Donna Bachell, John Brady, Carrie May Briggs, Eugene Bryant, Edna Wells Beeson, Louis Beeson, Cedie Case, Pauline Cliff, Mary Campbell, Roy Clay, Ena Davis, Donald Dickerson, Irma DeCarlow, Anne Ellis, George Finerman, Marjory Fifield, Beatrice Gunter, Clyde Gunter, Vestel Goetz, Lucile Holdridge, Royd Homewood, Luella Hughes, Ivern Keller, Esther Kohnhammer, Claudia Kium, Melvin Kaopli, Mary Moore, Benjamin Miller, Ohera Morris, Ruth Morris, Bonnie Jennings Moss, William McMillan, Florence Mantlers, Ira Neville, Lucille Oatman, Irving Porter, Marie

Porter, Domino Provost, Arthur Peters, Lena Provost, Maxine Pracht, Rilling Schuerman, Thelma Slingerland, John Farmer Swigart, Bertha Thimmes, Violet Wood, Bessie Walker, Merle Walters, Maud York, Clyde Young.

Socially, commencement aftermath always includes the alumni reunion, the older grades having for their guests the class of 1920 this year. The customary gathering will be at Odd Fellows hall, Friday evening, May 28. The class of 1913 will be identified in usurping honors at the banquet table at this jolly gathering, and have selected as their representative, Yorn Mills, who will preside as toastmaster at a jolly assemblage which is fraught with so many happy associations of "Auld Lang Syne."

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Judge G. A. Gardner and wife called for supper Friday evening. They had been out riding over the different roads out this way trying to discover what was needed and how best to do the work.

Theodore Frodenburg, Miss Noma Stewart and Glenn Albert of Butte Falls came out Saturday evening on the stage, took supper at the Sunnyside and went on up home that night, the stage driver taking them, making the round trip that night.

Harry Lewis, one of our hustling young men who is working on the Crater Lake highway, got something in one of his eyes and came out Saturday night to have it extracted, spending the night at the Sunnyside.

Wilber Ashpole came out Sunday morning bringing with him his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Ashpole of Medford to visit their son Roy and family.

E. A. Hildroth, Jr., of Butte Falls, C. H. Natwick and son Carlyle came in from the Crater Lake highway Saturday night and took rooms at the Sunnyside.

Mrs. L. L. Simmons, wife of the last pastor of the Baptist church, Rev. L. L. Simmons, and her sister, Mrs. Hudson of Valley Forge, Wash., came in Saturday evening to visit their father, Mr. Silvelly who is on the sick list.

Our Sunday school is becoming more and more interesting altho the number in attendance is not so large as is desired, but we trust that the number will continue to increase, and interest will increase also.

There were services conducted by the same two men who were here last winter, and held services in the church building last winter, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Slusser, our barber, Sunday morning.

Now come the names of the teachers, their husbands, wives and close friends of the said teachers, and their husbands and wives of the Lincoln school, Medford. It was a birthday party for Miss Kate Stone and Nellie Donaldson. There were in the party Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hanby, Mr. and Mrs. W. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Willetts, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. West, Misses Agnes Robinson, Nellie Donaldson, Kate Stone, Cecil Crade, Marguerite Andrews, Mrs. Mary Williamson, Ruth Darniel, Mr. John Deaver, Neil Franklin and Merle Willetts. They had sent out word the day before that they were coming and the arrangement was made to have them all eat together. They surely did have a royal time and seemed to be satisfied with their entertainment.

Among the diners at the Sunnyside Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rader, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cuiver and two boys, of Phoenix.

In addition to them there was Gaa the Taylor and wife, Lois Whitley, Albert Clement, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hubbs, Medford, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Devaney and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Von der Helten, Mrs. George Von der Helten and son Donald and June Von der Helten, Mrs. J. F. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Vahn, Dr. and Mrs. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Devaney and three children, Mrs. J. Dunbar, John J. Dunbar, Sr., John H. Dunbar, Jr., D. P. Dunbar, Mrs. C. Gallagher, the five last named were from San Francisco; Nick Young, Clifford Hickson and Ed Spencer.

Your correspondent took a trip to the Hub Monday morning to consult Dr. Emmens, the leading oculist in Medford, with regard to his eyes, and altho he was there in the doctor's office quite early in the morning found that he was so crowded with work that he requested to defer treatment until a future date. As I was passing along at the rate of—well I won't try to say as the speedometer was disconnected so that it didn't work, but we went just fast enough so that I could see that everything in the vegetable line looked lovely and I discovered that the prospect of an abundant crop of alfalfa hay was fine but too fast to even see if there was any fruit on the trees or not, but it does one good to break loose from the home surroundings and just see how beautiful Rogue River valley does look while everything is green and lovely.

S. S. Aikens of Prospect, came out on the Eagle Point stage Monday afternoon and spent the night with us on his way up home, taking passage on the Butte Falls stage Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Abbott, Sr., of Butte Falls, who has been visiting Ashland, came out Tuesday morning and went up home on the stage and Charley Bacon and wife were also passengers but Mrs. Bacon stopped off and spent the day with Mrs. Howlett but Charley went on to Butte Falls, and Joseph Geppert was also a passenger Tuesday, on the stage. Speaking of the passenger traffic of the Butte Falls stage this Wednesday morning when it came in from Medford there were 11 passengers and one more got on here, altho several of them were children, and in addition to the passengers there was a very large mail. He had to leave one man who wanted to go to Prospect very much, but there was no room.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ayres came in Tuesday morning to do some work on their place here in town.

Mrs. Bennie Zimmerly who went up some months ago, has returned and is the guest of Mrs. Walter Wood.

W. P. Gray of Portland, represents the Goodrich Rubber Co.

W. L. Childroth, our blacksmith and auto machinist, is taking his dinner now at the Sunnyside as his wife is attending the meeting of the grand lodge of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekas as a delegate from the Eagle Point lodge.

Messrs. C. F. Moran of Medford, T. Y. Cronin of Seattle, and P. Nelat of Spokane, Wash., were diners here Tuesday and Miss Elizabeth Whiting of New York spent Tuesday night here going on to Prospect to take a vacation and rest. She has been connected with one of the large hospitals of New York city for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Watkins of Reese Creek, passed thru here Tuesday on their way to Eugene, Ore., where they expect to remain indefinitely. The readers of the Mail Tribune will miss the Reese creek items as Mrs. Watkins was the compiler of them, but she will be missed more by those who are in the habit of attending the Sunday school in that district as she has been the superintendent of that school for several years, and they both will be missed by the community in general as they were foremost in almost every move for the good of the community.

Mrs. L. L. Simmons, wife of the last pastor of the Baptist church, Rev. L. L. Simmons, and her sister, Mrs. Hudson of Valley Forge, Wash., came in Saturday evening to visit their father, Mr. Silvelly who is on the sick list.

When the food reaches the stomach the digestion of starch stops, for the reaction of the stomach is acid. The saliva that was necessary to mastication is neutralized by the acid stomach juice for this purpose. Now the condition of the stomach at rest is neutral. But by constant influx of the saliva the stomach is not allowed to rest. It is the rule of all living tissue to get to work on its natural business as soon as there is a touch sensation. The eye weeps if it is touched. The mouth waters when anything is put into it, the stomach starts secreting juice when anything goes into it.

See the point? Figure it out for yourself. Constant chewing and swallowing of saliva means constant working of the stomach. If your surroundings are sufficiently vulgar to tolerate your chewing, have some respect for your hard worked stomach.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

Tribune's Daily Health Hint

By Harriet Howling

Gum chewing is a fine art that is not generally appreciated. Much has been written regarding its social standing, and nothing can be written that would overdo the ugliness of this American vice.

But the health effect is usually overlooked.

Consider for a moment the use of the saliva. It is alkaline in reaction and is given us for two principal purposes. It moistens the food sufficiently to make chewing comfortable and enables us to divide our food finely enough to give the stomach a chance. And while the food is being chewed the saliva exerts a little action on the starch, and turns them into sugar, for all starch must be
