The first forest fire of the season in Jackson county, which started at the edge of the big timber on the head of Kanes creek south of Gold Hill last Sunday is now under control thanks to the prompt work on the part of State Fire Warden Eberly of this district who got a crew of men at work as soon as possible. He still has a small crew working on the fire as a precautionary measure, and himself left for the scene today to make another inspection of the situation.

According to the Grants Pass Courier at a meeting held July 28, 1919, the time was extended for the completion of the inchoat rights on Rogue river and its tributaries. There seems to be a misunderstanding among many water users as to the time of this extension, many being of the opinion that the time for the completion of these rights will be up this coming October. According to the records in the office of the water master, the time was extended to October 1, 1921 the time being extended two years instead of one.

The first time in the history of Gold Hill that a "room amine" has ever been known is now an event. The hotel is overflowing; every boarding house in town "full up" and every possible private room is occupied and still they come. Walking down the street here now is like taking a trip to a strange city—strange faces everywhere. Already tents are showing up and what this summer will develop is a wide guess unless more speed is evident in putting up new homes.—Gold Hill News.

The fire department was summoned late yesterday afternoon to extinguish a fire on the roof of a box car loaded with shooks, which had just been shunted onto the side track by the Jacksonville railroad engine, a spark from the smokestack of which ignited the roof. The blaze caused little damage, but much concern for a time as two of the baggage cars of the "Passing Show" company stood nearby and were thought to be in danger. The fire was first discovered by D. T. Lawton as he was sitting in front of the engine house.
