PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

What music lovers discovered in the Brunswick Method of Reproduction

WHEN all is said and done, when every comparison is made, final judgment of any phonograph rests in the tone. All else is secondary.

And it is in this important particular that the Brunswick phonograph won its fame.

Its cabinet work was taken for granted as of the finest, for the House of Brunswick has been noted for its craftsmanship in wood-working for 76 years.

A surprise for all

What a revelation, however, came when music lovers became acquainted with The Brunswick Old Harshness is gone.

Much of the improvement is due to the Brunswick Tone Amplifier, built entirely of selected, seasoned wood.

Another great advancement, and exclusively Brunswick today, is the Ultona, an all-record reproducer.

These and other advancements have been combined and related in an instrument made entirely by the House of Brunswick.

Proof of the superiority of Brunswick Phonographs is coming in, hearing them and making comparisons.

SEED OF SUCCESS; HILL DEFINES IT

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is simple and it is infallible. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. As you may think not, but you will lose, as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."

Thus spoke James J. Hill, the great empire builder.
